

Don't Spend All You Earn

It's a good thing for a man to sit down and figure out just how his money goes; and then how money grows when he begins to save systematically. Cents, quarters and half dollars take wings when they are used for unnecessary things—but they grow rapidly when properly cared for. $1. opens a Savings Account in this Bank. fence at the corner of one of our prominent business farmer's home, and the more so to find that it had lain there several months unattended but beginning to look much the worse for the exposure. The money was in the shape of a corn planter and will have to be replaced by a new one before many years unless cared for better than that.

The complaint is frequently heard in small towns that while some society or church's gatherings are reported in the local press, others are not. In the one case the particulars are furnished by some enterprising person interested—in the other case they are not. It would take an army of reporters to cover all the gatherings in a local newspaper's constituency, and the editor can be in only one place at a time—usually his sweat shop. Send in the news.

The meeting of the Presbyterian Y. P. G. held on Monday evening was exceptionally interesting. The program was given by the high school literary society, with the president, Wm. Carroll in the chair. A debate, "Resolved that a better influence is exerted by good books than by good friends," was well handled for the affirmative by Misses Kathleen McNeill and Helen McCutcheon, and for the negative by Misses Louise Garbutt and Elizabeth McArthur. Mrs. D. G. Paton, Mrs. John Strachan and Miss Evelyn McLachlan were judges and gave their decision in favor of the negative. Clutched were given by the school, readings by Miss Frances Moss and Harry McLachlan, a solo by Miss Gladys Bechill, a piano duet by Misses Frances Sutherland and Margaret McDonald, and a piano solo by Miss Louise Garbutt. "The Oracle" was read by R. D. McDonald. Rev. D. G. Paton gave the critic's report. Lunch was served by the members of the Guild.

TOWN HALL A FIRE-TRAP

So Says Correspondent Who Criticizes the Movies

To the Editor of The Transcript:

Dear Sir,—Attracted by an advertisement appearing in your columns I went to the picture show on Wednesday, 23rd February, in the local opera house. This was my first visit to your town hall. It's a nice little house but unfortunately it's a fire-trap. There are four points where a crowd could crush each other to death and block the stairways should there be a panic caused by an alarm of fire, and a wooden tin-lined hood over a moving picture machine is not enough protection.

But that is not my purpose in penning my letter. I want to say what I think, and try to awake some interest in clean amusement for your young and fun-loving villagers.

I went to see an "educational picture" under the alleged auspices of the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases, which seeks to clean Canada's young life from this horrible pest, and this is what I saw first:

A filthy suggestive story picture, which was supposed to be funny, was first reeled off. The chief characteristics were the doings of the smart set. A gang of rakes miss "Billy," a good old-time sport, who is supposed to have married a pious wife who likes only sacred concerts and checkers. The gang plan to go to a big tenderloin house to have a good time where the bright lights shine, but they must have Billy along, too. So they call up Billy over the phone, and Billy goes. Later, his wife's old chums call and persuade her and carry her off to another demi-monde.

Then we were shown the interior of two fashionable brothels in full swing—whiskey and cigars, and semi-naked women dancing some harlot's contortion, throwing their legs and flimsy veiling about in the air as a woman would, to the great delight of the gang. Billy gets excited and goes among these nude creatures and dances with them in drunken frenzy.

Later on he takes one dancer, puts her in a taxi and sends her to his home. The goody-goody wife is having a similar time, all unknown to Billy. The red light houses are raided by the police and the whole bunch is landed in jail. Both husband and wife return home in the morning, each in ignorance that the other had been out. Both bribe the maid to say nothing. He tries to hide the woman he has in the house; she tries to conceal the man who brings back her furs that she left in the taxi.

The teaching of the picture was: Why play checkers at home; go to the gilded brothel for fun; be a sport; to hell with sacred concerts and knitting; see a bit of life.

The foregoing was the prelude. Then followed "The End of the Road," a story dealing with the lives of two girls, one who gets the knowledge of the origin of life through pure channels, the other through filthy channels. The former gets a true lover and husband; the latter gets disgrace and syphilis.

Two pictures with an entirely different purpose; one advocating a loose life, the other showing how a loose life rots the body.

I am glad there were only about three children there, and these were with their parents. I think it is a shame to allow such a picture as that first one to be seen in this little village. It seems an insult to the people of Glencoe to bring such here. Surely the young people don't find any pleasure looking at the interior of the underworld brothels of large cities, and semi-naked women exposing themselves to excite the passions of those who patronize such dens? I think the time is ripe for the parents to rise up and demand that their town hall should not be hired for such purposes. Now, I know that young people must have fun and let them have it, lots of it, too, but clean fun, not these filthy pictures. I think the village should own their own picture machine, run their own show and keep it clean, and put the money into the public treasury. Suppose your opera house seats three hundred persons. Each seat at fifty cents would realize $150 per night. Suppose that the opera house was only one-third full. That would yield $50 per night, and two shows per week would net a weekly income of $100. That amount per week for half a year would equal $2,600, and you pay the showman at least ten cents for the pollution of the young minds of your girls and boys. Glencoe, wake up!

Yours for clean sport,
WILLIAM M. LEONARD.

Dollar Day

Makes a New Record in Volume of Day's Business

We do not want to appear as boasting, but we might say that "Saturday Dollar Day" made a record in sales during our twenty-five years in business, and this at a time of the year when we would least expect it. It was a grand climax to our sacrifice selling for the last three months.

We took our losses voluntarily, and now, with practically all merchandise bought at higher prices CLEARED FROM OUR SHELVES, we can Begin our Spring Selling from all New Goods Bought at New Lowest Cash Prices.

The new prices average from 15 per cent. to 50 per cent. below last year's prices. We think "now" a favorable time to buy Spring Goods, as all goods seem to be down as low as possible until labor conditions change, and this does not seem likely during the near future—in fact some few lines of merchandise show signs of slight advances.

March the Month for Sewing and Preparing for Spring.

THE NEW IDEA STANDARD DESIGNER PATTERNS solves the dressmaking problem. 20c, 25c and 30c. SPECIAL DISPLAY of most up-to-date Voiles at 75c and $1.65. These are about half the prices of last year.

WONDERFUL VALUES IN GINGHAMS. Fine, silky weave, fast colors, 35c to 45c. Last year 50c to 75c. New shipments of Galateas, Prints, Drills, Shirtings—all fast colors and all way down in price.

New Cottons, Sheetings, Tickings, Denims, Cottonades—reduced in price about 40 per cent.

SHOES AND RUBBERS. All at new lower prices—10 per cent. to 30 per cent.

The coming Referendum

Vote and Vote "Yes!" on April 18

THE Ontario Temperance Act as a war-time measure was an unqualified success.

On October 25, 1919, the people of Ontario voted by an overwhelming majority in favor of the permanent continuance of the Ontario Temperance Act, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating beverages.

The "Bootlegger" Must Go

On December 31, 1920, came the repeal of the Federal Order-in-Council—which was also a war-time measure—prohibiting importation, manufacture and export of intoxicating beverages.

Thus it became possible for individuals in prohibition provinces to import liquors for consumption in the home; thus the "bootlegger" is able to offer the same for sale contrary to law, and thus the expressed will of the people in this province is being defeated.

Importation Must Cease

Everything that applied in the last vote against the sale of intoxicating beverages within this province applies equally to the Use of them, and their importation for beverage purposes should also be prohibited.

Hence arose necessity for further legislation and another Referendum.

Shall the Importation and the bringing of intoxicating Liquors into the Province be Prohibited? YES!
