reigns, viz., George IV., William IV., Victoria, Edward VII., and now George V. She not only recollects past events, but takes an interest in current affairs, and is very active, spending the greater part of every day in knitting indefatigably for missionary causes.

The King has approved of the appointment of the Rev. Prebendary De Salis, the rector of Weston-super-Mare, to be Bishop Suffragan of Taunton in the diocese of Bath and Wells. Prebendary De Salis has also been appointed Archdeacon of Taunton in succession to the late Ven. W. H. Askwith. Thus, after a lapse of 352 years, the title of "Bishop of Taunton" has been revived. Taunton was one of the towns chosen by Archbishop Cranmer for a Suffragan Bishopric, and in 1538 William Finch was consecrated at Blackfriars. He lived until the year 1559, but it is probable that during the reign of Mary he was not allowed to help Gilbert Bourne, the Marian supplanter of the famous Barlow. Prebendary De Salis graduated from Exeter College, Oxford, in 1882.

cusable, and sometimes pretty and attractive. It is the shyness of the young. This often comes from the feeling that they are not understood, and they have not the means of making themselves understood. They do not possess, or at least they do not know how to handle, the weapons of society. Sometimes it has a less worthy source. It springs from a great egotism. Young people should be quick enough to see that their elders are not scrutinizing them and judging them as they imagine. Elderly people who retain their shyness are, as a rule, distinctly disagreeable. When great personages who have been unpopular through life, on account of their rude, brusque manners, pass away, the newspapers explain that they meant very well, but that they were shy. These explanations are seldom felt to be satisfactory. Egotism is inconsistent with good manners. I need hardly say that a person who is always thinking about etiquette is sure to make blunders, and to convey an impression of vulgarity. The true gentleman is infinitely above such paltriness. He is not thinking about himself; he is thinking about others. He is not miserably comparing his station and his fortune with those of the people he meets. He meets them as a gentleman meets ladies and gentlemen, and his business is to give and receive what pleasure he can. It is an essential of good manners that they should always be maintained. I do not say that we can always be quite the same. Moods and feelings come and go, even in the strongest. One day you are well and bright, another day you are ill and in pain. It is perhaps impossible to be just the same in one condition as in another, and I fancy for most of us the safe rule in days of mental or physical suffering is to say as little as possible, and to keep as much as may be out of other people's way. Still, we can do our best. We should try to be constant in our ways. If we have taken what we think reasonable offence at the doings of a friend, we ought not to show it by an icy manner. It is our business to explain to our friend where he has apparently come short, and to hear, what he says about it. In all probability with his explanation the misunderstanding will pass like a summer cloud.

Young people are often gloriously insolent in the way they talk about age. They will refer to a man of sixty as an old man when there are men and women in the room well over sixty, but unwilling to admit they are old. There is a pleasant sense of safety in the company of some people. You know they will not say anything to fret and chafe you. In the company of other people you are sure to receive a wound. No wonder if you shun that company.—British Weekly.

Eczema Worse in the Spring

The Blood is Watery—Difficult to Get the Healing Process Started.

But Whatever the Cause You Can Relieve the Itching and Heal the Sores With

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Salt rheum and eczema are usually worse at this time of year because of the sudden change of temperature and the watery condition of the blood.

It is not necessary to refer to the suffering caused from the intense itching nor the tendency of these ailments to spread over the entire body. The essential point is how to bring about cure, and if you have been reading the cures reported from time to time in this paper you will already know that there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for eczema, salt rheum, psoriasis and every form of itching skin disease.

This ointment stops the itching almost as soon as applied, lessens the discharge from the vesicles or blisters, cleans out the morbid growth and stimulates the process of healing.

Because other treatments have failed, you may feel discouraged. But in Dr. Chase's Ointment there is a cure for you. We know this because of the reports we have received from so many thousands of cases.

For instance there is the cure of Mrs. Nettie Massey, of Consecon, Ont., who had psoriasis of chronic eczema so bad that almost the whole body was covered with sores, and three doctors failed to cure her. One doctor said she could never be cured. Write to Mrs. Massey about her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60c. a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
