Suppose you are a young lady and happen to be out of employment for the present.

Suppose that a business concern should send for you and offer you $8 a week for the next four weeks. You would thus earn $32. The amount of business training that you would get out of the employment would depend wholly upon the work given you to do. The salary would be pretty fair—in fact more than the average beginner receives. You would be expected to devote from eight to ten hours a day to confining work.

Suppose on the other hand you were anxious to make more than $8 a week and felt confident of your ability to make yourself worth more.

In that case suppose that you entered The Daily Ontario Panama-Pacific Contest and won a trip to California you would have earned the equivalent of $87.50 a week for four weeks taking into account the value of the trip, or you would have earned $400.00 if you won the first cash prize of $50 in addition to the trip.

When you take into consideration and add to this the educational advantages you would have earned far more than any cash recompense could possibly mean to you.

In addition to this your work would not be over a few hours a day, and would largely be in the open, with no confinement.

Add to this the splendid training in executive business that you would receive and the benefits of the contest loom far ahead of any hum-drum business position.

If you sit down quietly and work out the proposition in a business-like way you will realize to some extent what an inviting offer a daily newspaper makes when it throws open the field to a group of ladies and gentlemen to take advantage of a contest plan such as The Ontario has outlined.

We invite serious consideration of our remarkable offer and suggest that if you are still hesitating, still undecided about the matter, that you call at The Ontario office or write for full particulars, or that if already enrolled as a candidate, you enter upon the work with the utmost earnestness. We believe that we have shown it to be worth while.

This article will strike the eyes of many citizens who cannot take advantage of the offer. But all know of some ambitious young lady or gentleman who might share in its rewards, and we suggest to them that they will confer a lasting favor on some deserving person by nominating or properly supporting her or him as a candidate.

The Daily Ontario Contest will provide the competitors with an opportunity to prove their business and executive capacity, and the winners will have proven themselves persons of ability, resourcefulness and courage. They will be proud of their achievement, but far more so will their friends be proud of their talents and capacity for business.

The work is just the kind that would appeal to any person who is determined not to be a dawdler or a stick-in-the-mud. Some of the best names in the city and outlying districts are already enrolled, and new ones are still coming in.

There is nothing ungentle, nothing immodest about it. It does not savor of charity, but is a straight business proposition, in which the rewards to the real workers are uncommonly high, but where no worker goes unpaid. It is a clean, fair, straight honest competition in which no one can lose.

Think the matter over thoroughly. Open a ledger account and reckon it up yourself.

LEDGER.

DR.	CR.
My time for part of a day for four weeks.	The trip, if I win it, the educational advantages of which cannot be estimated in dollars or cents.
	The business training in any event, whether I win the trip or the cash commission, also incalculable in mere money value.
	The friendships that I will make of themselves far above price. The enlarged outlook in life, from making friends, winning success and acquiring the habit of making good.

The trial balance will show that the assets in such an undertaking are bound to far outnumber the liabilities, no matter what the results of the contest.

Then clinch the matter by making use of a little of your spare time for the next four weeks. The more candidates in the race the easier to win, as the vote will be that much more divided.

Quinte Summer School Conference

Albert College, around which building many precious memories cling for many pastors and former students in Bay of Quinte and other conferences, has again opened its doors in all cordiality to the delegates of the Summer School. Because of its spacious accommodation, its many conveniences, and splendid situation, it is a most suitable place for the gathering together of this assembly of young people. The officers—Rev. Wm. Higgs, Millbrook, president; and Rev. W. W. Jones, Janetville, secretary—have studied assiduously to present an attractive program, and one which would result in most practical benefit to those in attendance.

The result has been highly satisfactory, as was evidenced by the gratifying attendance at the opening session on Monday evening. The President was in the chair and conducting a very hearty song service preceding the session proper. Rev. E. W. Morgan leading in prayer. In a few brief remarks Rev. Higgs outlined the work as planned and expressed willingness to be of service in any way that would advance the interests of the school.

The general Principal of the college, Rev. Dr. E. N. Baker, was most enthusiastic in his words of welcome to the hall of old Albert, stating that the purpose in conducting the school, and the high ideals and aims it stands for and the inspiring helpful atmosphere these created, were sufficient in themselves to secure a hearty greeting; but Dr. Baker included a personal welcome as well and extended the best the college affords for the use of the visitors.

A foretaste of the good things in store for the intellectual nature was not withheld at this opening service. Rev. W. E. Morgan, who labored in China for many years previous to a prolonged furlough on account of illness, gave an excellent address, remarking that he felt very much at home in this neighborhood which recalled so many pleasant memories of former days and his associations here.

The speaker said there were no geographical boundaries in work of the Kingdom of Christ—it was one great field of opportunity. The question has often been asked of the speaker, "How is the work carried on in China?" We are anxious to know the progress our forces are making, whether it is in France at the present time or in the Mission Field. There are ten to fourteen millions of people in China entrusted to the Canadians—there is one goal to reach—to bear witness to the truth that is gathered up in name of Christ, and to interpret Christ in some way to those who know Him not. To accomplish this purpose, several departments of work have been organized: (1) The medical work is an important department. It has been said that China has been made open to the Gospel "at the point of the lance"—it affords opportunities to come into touch with the people and break down prejudice, each one receiving benefit of the doctor's skill, having a certain degree of confidence implanted within him. The doctors and nurses meet a real need, as the native quack-doctors know little or nothing about the science of medicine. (2) The dentist is also a necessity and his work is found among both natives and missionaries.

(3) The printing press plays no small part among the labors in the mission field. Bibles, hymn books, tracts, magazines, etc., are printed, put into the hands of booksellers who are the distributing agents. (4) Educational—It is the policy of the Mission Board to establish a primary school where there is a mission or out-station—this is an opportunity of reaching the non-Christian parents then the children. The middle schools, which corresponds to our high schools are usually held at the Central Station, where they reside at the school. At the Union University a higher education may be obtained. These colleges are sending out men equipped not only mentally but spiritually, who will act as leaders in their own church and as leaders to the whole nation. (5) Evangelistic Sunday Schools, Epworth Leagues, Prayer Meetings, Catechism classes, all afford openings for the evangelist to teach the "Jesus doctrine." Rev. Mr. Morgan closed his address with a brief, earnest prayer.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, Belleville followed with an address, report of which will appear later.

RALLY TO THE COLORS! WHO WILL FOLLOW?

The Editor, Ontario.

Among the many individual and welcome greetings which we have received from overseas announcing the safe arrival of friends and relatives in the 39th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force, now in England, few of us stop to think of how many from this city and the County of Hastings sailed on the Mississauga, to throw in their lot with the boys who have gone before, for King and Country, at the centre of decisive action. It should be a stimulus and incentive for more to follow, for more are urgently needed. Nothing but live, fighting manhood, properly trained, equipped and efficient, can now save the Empire for Canada, and Canada for the Empire.

Apart from the non-commissioned officers and men, the list of whose names I have not complete, but who are entitled to all the "service honours" equally with the officers, the following officers from this old county on the Bay of Quinte sailed on the C.P.R. steamship and were conveyed by Britain's navy safe to the historic landing-place at Plymouth.

Lieut. D. D. Wilson
Lieut. Harry Alford
Lieut. H. Thompson
Lieut. A. H. Powell
Lieut. R. Elliott
Lieut. W. H. F. Ketcheson
Lieut. J. E. McCorkell
Lieut. B. K. Allen
Capt. D. Green
Capt. W. H. Hudson
Major A. E. Bywater
Major R. Vandewater
—a good showing of good men and true.

In a letter received by me from Colonel Preston, Commanding Officer of the 39th Battalion, C.E.F., he says, "the men have behaved splendidly throughout and we got away without trouble or confusion of any kind. There is a total of about 1650 officers."

and men of whom I am in military command. That was a splendid send-off which Belleville gave us. We shall remember it as long as we live. I send kindest regards to all our Belleville friends and sincere thanks for all their good wishes and many, many kindnesses.

The 39th is our Belleville Battalion mobilized and centered here. Let us follow their career and keep in constant touch with them. Confidence and good-cheer are reciprocal and helpful. No men realize this more than do the gallant few, who, still living, represent us at the front after five months' constant fighting, in the 2nd Battalion, 1st Brigade, in France and Belgium. We are identified with them, and with the 21st and the Batteries, in both service and kinship.

To those who have the physical manhood of youth and vigour and who can be spared from great local responsibilities, let us say in all earnestness, why are you too not serving? You are the King's men, why not in the King's uniform? Why not even organize an effective for Home defence? Why not even qualify in drill and at the target? We know what you think of the lads at the Front. But what do the lads think of you? And daughters of Belleville and the Bay of Quinte! Your mothers were cradled in sacrifice and service. What are YOU doing to stir to action those who have apparently not yet realized the need or heard the call.

Not once or twice in our great Empire's story The path of duty was the way to glory.

Young men, strong and independent, for you there is but one duty in this crisis in Canada's history—do not shrink it. Live up to the standard of a man—rally to the Standard. Quit you like men, be strong.

Yours,
W. N. Ponton, Lt.-Col.
