THE DEARY DEATH

Albert Owens was a visitor at The Planet editorial rooms yesterday to make certain explanations in reference to the death of the late J. Deary. Owens says that when Deary visited Hector Johnson and had his supper, he did go to the hen roost and take six chickens. He claims that Johnson saw him take the chickens, and that Deary intended to pay for them by working for Johnson. Deary was drunk at the time. After he took the chickens he went down the road and met two other fellows, and the three of them finished a bottle of whiskey. Owens claims that Deary got chickens from Johnson before and that he paid for them by working for Johnson.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES

James Oxendine has been having his own troubles lately, all because his wife will not live with him, and in the face of this he has promised her that he would treat her like a queen. He called at the Police Court, and told his troubles to Chief Holmes. That official listened patiently and sympathetically, but this was all he could do. Oxendine claims that his wife is living with another man just because she likes the other man better than she does him. This, in his opinion, evidently is not a sufficient reason for such conduct.
Mrs. Oxendine heard of her husband's visit to Chief Holmes, and she followed it up with a visit from herself. She explained at some considerable length that she was perfectly justified in her course of action. She was not living with another man. True, she worked for another man, in keeping his house clean and other minor work, but she would not live with him. She would not live with her own husband because he abuses her. When he gets drunk, she says, he beats her. She has relatives in New Orleans, and she says she intends to go to them in the spring. They are well off, and in a position to offer her a home as long as she lives.

The decision given by them was that from a point of argument the affirmative won by 18 points, but from the standpoint of weight the negative won, as the greatest man is the one who does the most good for the world. Mat Side acted as chairman and timekeeper. A couple of pleasing songs were listened to by Miss Carter, of Chatham, and Vaughn Ayres, of Wallaceburg. ### OBSTINATE FACE SORES

REFUSED TO CLOSE FOR FOUR YEARS.
Zam-Buk Healed Them Inside Two Weeks.

Have you some eruption, or sore, or ulcer, or wound, on any part of your body which hitherto refused to close, no matter how treated? If so, that is a case for Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm. The herbal ointment and essences in this balm are so powerful that they can heal the worst cases of chronic sores, ulcers, Zhoon poison and skin diseases. Here are proofs of this:
Mrs. W. H. Taylor, of North Bay, Ont., says, "I had a scaly spot as big as a ten cent piece on my face. I had it for four years, and hardly a night during that time went by but what I applied cold cream, or some ointment, or other, but it would always be there. I recently applied Zam-Buk, and in about a week's time the spot had disappeared completely. I cannot thank you enough for your remedy, and I tell everyone to be sure and keep Zam-Buk in their houses."
Mrs. S. J. Holden, of 343 West Hannah St., Hamilton, says, "My little girl had a running sore on her leg which defied all treatment. I applied Zam-Buk, and in about a week's time the wound was closed. I have found Zam-Buk just as good for other skin troubles and injuries."

Mr. J. H. Hamilton, of Thornbury, says, "The first Zam-Buk I obtained was for a friend who had an obstinate sore on her temple. It had been treated once or twice by a doctor, and would heal up for a short time, but would break out again. Zam-Buk healed it permanently, and it shows no sign whatever of returning."
Similar grateful testimony is to hand from men and women in all parts of Canada. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for all skin diseases and injuries, such as cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, psoriasis, ulcers, scalp sores, cold sores, chapped hands, itch, rashes, nettle, face sores, etc. It is also an unequalled embrocation, and rubbed well on to parts affected with rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, colds on chest, etc. All druggists sell at 50c. a box, or may be obtained post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. 6 boxes for $2.50.

The sad news has reached town of the death of Richard Allen, who had only been ill the short space of one week. Everything was done to help him, but human skill could do nothing and he quietly passed away. The shock comes very sudden ly on his wife and family, as his eldest son is lying very low with pneumonia. He leaves to mourn his loss, wife and six sons, all of whom are at home. The youngest being only three years old, and also three brothers and two sisters. He was born in the County Armagh, Ireland, Feb. 17, 1856. He left the Old Country when a young man and settled in Raleigh. He married the youngest daughter of Nathan and Emily Bell. While living here he made a large circle of friends. He was a staunch member of the A. O. U. W., who met the procession in a body, and followed the remains to his last resting place. Services were conducted at his home by the Rev. T. Allen, and the beautiful service of the Order was given by Warren Martin at the grave. The pall-bearers were six nephews of the deceased, Nathan, John, Bert, Edward, Thomas and Richard Phillips.
