

PRETTY WEDDINGS OF SEPTEMBER.

Marriage of Mr. A. H. Tallman and Miss Mary Murray
To-day—Grant-Hall Nuptials at Toronto—
A Brockville Event.

A very pretty house wedding took place this afternoon, the contracting parties being Miss Mary Murray, fourth daughter of Mr. Hugh Murray, and Adoniram Herbert Tallman, second son of J. N. Tallman.

The ceremony took place at 3.30 at the residence of the bride's father, 134 Main street east. Rev. R. J. Treleven was the officiating clergyman. The bride wore a beautiful costume of embroidered voile over white silk, and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was assisted by Miss Ethel Tallman, sister of the groom, who wore a costume of pink silk, and carried pink roses. Miss Jessie McIlroy was the flower girl. Mr. Hugh Murray, brother of the bride, was the best man. The parlor was prettily decorated with palms and ferns, and the arch under which the bride and groom were married was also decorated tastefully.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a magnificent pearl necklace. About seventy guests were present from the city and outside. At the wedding breakfast the usual toasts to the bride and groom were honored, and many were the expressions of good wishes for a bright and happy future.

The happy couple will leave on the evening train for New York, where they will spend a few days.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents from her many friends, showing the esteem in which she is held.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Tallman will reside on Delaware avenue, in their new home.

GRANT-HALL.

At high noon yesterday, in St. Thomas' Church, Toronto, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Helen Paton Hall, youngest daughter of Mrs. Joseph Godard Hall, to Mr. W. Beverly Grant, of Hamilton. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. N. C. Sharpe, in the presence of only the immediate friends and relatives, and during the signing of the register Mr. Hamilton Macaulay sang "O Fair, O Sweet and Holy." The bride, who was given away by her brother, Capt. Victor Hall, wore a travelling gown of cream cloth and tan hat trimmed with roses and foliage, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Massie Hall, sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid, wearing white silk, and flowered with mauve, and white lingerie hat, and carrying mauve asters. Mr. W. Shambrook, of Hamilton, was best man. After the ceremony the newly-married pair drove to the station and took the train for the Pacific coast. Their future home will be in Medicine Hat, N. W. T. Mrs. Hall was wearing silver grey crepe de chine, and white hat with violets and roses.

M'CORMACK-KILGOUR.

Brockville, Sept. 4.—At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kilgour, their eldest daughter, Miss Christina May, was united in marriage to Albert B. McCormack, of Hamilton. The bride was supported by Miss Sadie Meyers, of Montreal, while W. H. Jacobs, of Alexandria Bay, was best man.

aged benefactress, knocking her down, and after assaulting her, took what money she had in the house, about $46. Mrs. Jensen partially recovered consciousness and besought Smith not to take all her money, and he returned to her $15. He then cautioned her not to tell anyone, threatening to kill her, and after again beating her over the head he left the premises. The neighbors were notified and Deputy Sheriff Harrington started in pursuit, overtaking the tramp within a short distance. He was taken to Batavia and has confessed his crime. Mrs. Jensen is now thought to be out of danger, although she is badly bruised.

Second Victim is Dying—Parents in Terror Flee From Home and Return to Find Fumes From Tube Have Asphyxiated Baby.

New York, Sept. 4.—While a man was being torn to pieces in a little candy shop and soda water establishment in the street front of 238 Monroe street last evening, Rosa Mitkin, three years old, slept peacefully in the floor above, but she was killed by the same accident, though untouched by flying metal which mangled the body of Joseph Zuckman, twenty-two years old, in the store below.

Zuckman's ignorance of soda water fountain charging was the immediate cause of the fatality, but the police of the Delancey street station arrested Louis Scheffman, 28 years old, proprietor of the place, as an accessory to the death of the Mitkin child and the injuring of Zuckman, who is dying in Gouverneur Hospital.

In the heat and humidity of the evening the soda water trade of the little shop reached a high level and the supply of carbonated water in the fountain was exhausted about 9 o'clock. Zuckman was tending the soda counter, and went about recharging the fountain, though he appears to have known little about that work or its dangers.

It was stated by the police that the large cylinders of carbonic acid gas are under pressure of 600 pounds to the square inch, and that in the soda fountain, never exceed 200 pounds. This was not known to Zuckman, who, instead of modifying the pressure in the gas he transferred it to the fountain, permitted its full pressure to enter the latter.

Its construction was totally unable to bear such a strain and it blew up with a violence which wrecked the store and fountain, cut Zuckman as if with knives and sent the big supply cylinder upward with such violence that it passed through the ceiling and dented the ceiling of the second floor, falling back close to a crib in which little Rosa Mitkin lay.

In the outburst of panic from the house, a six storey tenement, following the explosion, the child was forgotten for a time. When her parents, who had not imagined that she was in any danger, went to her side they found her gasping and dying, and before medical assistance could relieve her she died. When the cylinder fell beside her bed the escaping gas filled the room and asphyxiated the child.

Plucky Girl Stands Off Would-be Hold-Up Man With a Pair of Scissors.

Heaven Falls, Pa., Sept. 4.—Last evening as Miss Carmichael, a trained nurse, was walking on an unfrequented street a man sprang out of an alleyway and attempted to catch her. She eluded him, and pulling a pair of glittering scissors from her pocket stood on the defensive.

The fellow, evidently thinking the woman had a revolver, threw up his hands and yelled "Don't shoot!" She then marched him up the street ahead of her, intending to hand him over to the police, but when an arm was light was reached and the fellow saw that the weapon held by Miss Carmichael was only a pair of scissors, he fled.

TRAMP ASSAULTS WOMAN.

He Then Proceeds to Rob Her of Nearly All Her Savings.

Le Roy, Sept. 4.—The facts have just leaked out regarding a horrible crime which was perpetrated at Bethany, a few miles south of here, on Saturday morning, when a tramp assaulted and robbed Mrs. Anna Jensen, a woman 76 years old. The fellow is now in the Batavia jail. He gives his name as Smith, and says he lives in Buffalo. On Friday evening Smith called at the home of Mrs. Jensen, who resides alone, and asked for something to eat. Mrs. Jensen fed him and he lingered near the house. He saw her counting some money and observed where she put it. That night he slept in the barn and Saturday morning went to the house and again asked for food. He was offered his breakfast, but instead of eating it he struck his

KING OF ANNAM

Abdicates in Favor of His Son—Is a Bad Man.

Paris, Sept. 5.—A despatch received here from the Governor-General of Indo-China declares that Thanh Thai, the deposed King of Annam, has abdicated in favor of his eight-year-old son, who now rules Annam with the aid of the regency consisting of the council of ministers.

Thanh Thai was deposed by the French residents of Annam and interned in his palace at Hue on July 30th last. This step on the part of the French authorities was taken only after a long series of atrocities committed by the king made it impossible for him longer to remain on the throne.

FIFTEEN-YEAR SENTENCE.

New York Judge Deals Severely With Assaultant of Young Girl.

New York, Sept. 4.—That it is the intention of the judges in whose hands their fate may be placed to deal severely with men convicted of attacks upon women and children was evidenced to-day when Frank Schonland was sent to prison for not less than 15 years more than 18 years. Schonland had been convicted of having assaulted 15-year-old Jennie Tolsberg. Sentence was imposed by Judge Crane in the court of general sessions.

Red Mill Theatre.

A big double programme was presented at the Red Mill this afternoon, consisting of "Hello, Grinder," "Red Spectre," "Bread of the Country," and "A Drunkard Will Drink." All the subjects are new and up to date, and have never been shown in Hamilton before. As an extra attraction, Mr. Randall Harries, first tenor of the Twin City Quartette, has been engaged to sing the illustrated songs. He is in possession of an unusually powerful voice, which he uses to advantage, and judging from the reception given him this afternoon he is sure to prove a favorite with the numerous patrons of the popular Red Mill. The ladies and children are again reminded of the afternoon shows, which are given daily from 2 to 6 o'clock, as well as the evening performances, from 7.30 to 10.30 p.m.

WAS ACCIDENTAL.

No Blame On any One for Geo. Gardiner's Death.

Coroner Balf conducted the inquiry at the City Hall last night into the cause of the death of George Gardiner, who was struck by an express train on Sunday morning at Winona station. The jury after listening to the evidence, brought in a verdict of accidental death, with no blame attached to anyone.

The evidence showed that Gardiner was on a freight, west bound, with a passenger train following, and that at Winona Junction, another passenger train, east bound, was to pass them and they were to let the passenger train that had been following them pass.

Gardiner went back to flag the following train and leaving his red light on the track went forward to the station again and fell asleep on the platform at the side of the track. While he was asleep the east bound express went by and struck him on the head, killing him. The witnesses were, W. Barlow, conductor of the freight, R. J. Newell, engineer of the east bound passenger, and A. G. Nixon, assistant superintendent.

CHURCH MUSIC.

Splendid Address by Rev. J. G. Plummer at St. Mark's.

The reunion service in St. Mark's Church was very largely attended last evening, the speaker being Rev. J. G. Plummer, of St. Augustine's Church, Toronto. His subject was "Church Music," and his address was a very earnest one on the need of elevating music in the present day churches. He said that people must get over the idea that music in the churches is merely a side issue. He was of the opinion that music was one of the best stimulants to a bright church service that could be found. There must be music in the house of God, but that music must be of an elevating nature that will lead people to think of their worship of God. One can turn to the Old Testament and there find that music in those days was an accepted form of worship with the Almighty. Up to the present time music in the churches has been taken, to a very great extent, as a matter of course, but the time has come when church music should be looked on as a necessity, not only for the actual singing, but for the effect that it has on the people who attend church.

Mr. Plummer strongly disapproved of the idea of using secular music in connection with church services, that is, taking a piece of music that is known as secular and putting sacred words to it, and using it as an appropriate piece for church. Music is not only for an offering of sincere worship to God, but for the edification of the people as well, and should not in any way have a suggestion of worldliness in it.

Mr. Plummer's idea of church music was that it should impress upon all present the presence of God.

Mr. Plummer also strongly advocated hearty congregational singing. There is inspiration in it for the worshiper.

This evening Rev. S. Bennett, of Greenville, will conduct the service, after which there will be held a reunion of the parishioners.

Any Weak Person

can gain strength on Grape-Nuts

A member of the Chicago Press Club says he obtained so much benefit from Grape-Nuts food that he wishes to offer a voluntary testimonial: "I had an illness which reduced me greatly, when convalescent I wanted a great deal to eat, but nothing seemed to satisfy me. 'Very soon after a meal I felt that sense of emptiness, 'an aching void,' as it were, though really not hungry. The fact is, the food I was taking was not properly assimilated, and I was improperly nourished, which accounted for my lack of vitality and weak condition, constant exhaustion and inability to gain flesh. 'I started in on Grape-Nuts food, husband laughing good humoredly at the time. I ate it with cream, and the result was most surprising. After the first dish of it I felt a great sense of satisfaction. I have gained several pounds, and the old gnawing is gone entirely. I retire and sleep well all night, whereas I used to be awake in the night and was unable to sleep again until I had taken some sort of food. 'There's a Reason.'"

"Husband is much surprised at the result and tried Grape-Nuts himself. He is delighted with the food. Best wishes for the great food and its makers."

DROPS INTO OCEAN.

Terrible Experience of Boston Aeronaut in Fog at Lynn, Mass.

Lynn, Mass., Sept. 4.—John J. Maloney, a Boston aeronaut, who threw himself from his balloon, two miles off Fishermen's Beach, Swampscott, during a dense fog to-night and for more than an hour was swept back and forth in the water until his cries were heard by life savers and fishermen on shore, who went to his rescue.

Maloney made an ascension from Nahant in a hot air balloon before a large crowd about 8.30 o'clock to-night. According to his custom, when making a light ascension, he went up sitting on a trapeze bar, and all his preparations were complete for riding out the life of the balloon, which under ordinary conditions is an hour or more.

Maloney had hardly left the ground when he was shrouded in fog, but his balloon went on up through this and struck a cold current of air. The thousands of spectators watched the coast line in anticipation of the balloonist landing in the water near shore. For more than an hour nothing was heard from the aeronaut until some miles away on the Swampscott shores cries of "Help" were heard coming from the ocean. The life saving station at Nahant was notified and several Swampscott fishermen set off in their boats.

After a long search, two of them found Maloney, almost unconscious, clinging to the partially inflated folds of his balloon.

The aeronaut was taken into the fishermen's dory and when the party reached the Swampscott shore restoratives were applied, and soon he was able to tell his story.

The balloon, he said, collapsed sooner than he expected in the cold upper currents instead of landing on shore he dropped rapidly into the sea between Nahant and Lynn, nearly two miles off the beach. Soon after striking the water a gust of wind drove him toward shore and he shouted frantically for help, whenever he had the strength. His cries were heard, but soon after a gust of wind took him even farther out to sea and he had not strength left to call out again. Much time was lost in finding him.

ILLUMINATED FALLS.

Lights, Aggregating Over a Billion Candle Power, Visible for 100 Miles.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 5.—For the first time last night the power of Niagara Falls was turned back to illuminate the cataracts. Lights, aggregating time, 1,115,000,000 candle power, thrown from 36 great lens reflectors, changing the tumbling mass of water into sparkling cataracts or iridescent beauty.

Twenty-one 15-inch and fifteen 30-inch searchlights, set in batteries, which were scattered along the gorge and the cliffs above on the Canadian side, converged their rays first on the Horseshoe Falls, and then on the American Falls.

At first the light was white, but gradually turned to a rose tint, then green, yellow and blue, until the foaming waters glittered with all of the soft tints of the rainbow. So well were the lights managed that even under them the natural beauty of the falls did not suffer, but were enhanced.

Occasionally all the lights were turned upward, their rays forming a great colored fan, visible on a clear night for 100 miles.

The lighting was designed and the plant, the largest in the world, by W. D. A. Ryan, of the General Electric Company. The scheme of lighting the Falls was conceived by Mayor A. G. Douglas, of Niagara Falls, the expense being borne by the business men of the city. The lighting scheme will be continued at least for 30 days and perhaps permanently.

A large crowd witnessed the illumination to-night.

SAVES CHUM'S LIFE.

Pittsburg Boy Strikes Live Wire From Playmate's Hands.

Pittsburg, Sept. 4.—Tony Freygoski, aged 15, of 1,306 third street, saw a live wire, known to his chums as Tony Frey, proved himself a hero last night when he saved his playmate, Thomas McDermott, aged 9, of 1,308 Broad street, from being electrocuted, by knocking a live wire from the latter's hands.

While playing with an iron hoop in Broad street the McDermott lad hooked it over a heavily charged wire from a telegraph pole. Sparks flew, while the fifty outlookers screamed and shouted advice. Seizing a club Tony risked his life and struck the wire from the other's hands.

Young McDermott was severely burned about the legs and hands. He was hurried to St. Joseph's Hospital, where it was said his recovery is doubtful. He was still unconscious late last night.

GIBBONS FOR WASHINGTON.

London K. C. Said to be Going South as Advisor to British Ambassador.

Ottawa, Sept. 4.—(Toronto World Special.)—There is an interesting rumor in political circles here.

It is to the effect that George C. Gibbons, K. C. of London, is to be sent to Washington as a Canadian commissioner to act in an advisory capacity, on Canadian affairs, to Hon. James Bryce, the British Ambassador.

Mr. Gibbons is at present secretary to the International Waterways Commissioners.

"Yes," said Mr. Haslam, "I'm sorry to say one of our boarders died last week." "Natural death?" inquired the prospective tenant. "Well—er—" "Oh I see. Well I suppose a death by starvation was natural under the circumstances."
