BAD DAY FOR FAVORITES

[Special to The Advertiser.]

AYLMER, June 24.—The second day of the Aylmer races was greeted by a record attendance and fine weather. Margot Leonard, a Toronto entry, with Dennis up, won the 2:18 trot in straight heats, beating Monarchial Lady, the favorite, who was pocketed in each heat. In the 2:17 pace, Myda, a Toronto horse, was the favorite, but could not get better than fourth money. Fred Kanno, after winning the first two heats and losing the third to Berlin Belle and the fourth—to Victoria Poem, won the fifth easily. The fourth heat of the race was the most exciting, the race to the eighth pole being between Myda and Berlin Belle. Both broke on the stretch and Victoria Poem won. The summary:
