Some of the excursionists rode to the grounds in the band wagon, an ordinary farm wagon and havrack which came down to carry the bass drums and paraphernalia of the First Hussars' Band which, under Mr. Roselle Pocock's direction, provided an abundance of good music for the afternson and evening. The birds sang sweetly, the horses whinneyed greetings from the woodland and pasture the little colts came up to be petted, and all nature gave the happy pic nickers a whole-hearted welcome

The Western Ontario Boys' Camr and the Ingersoll Boy Scouts turned out en masse, and with a lusty camp yell informed the newcomers that they had at length reached the picnic grounds. Boy Scouts' Exhibit. During the afternoon the Ingersol Boy Scouts gave exhibitions of signalling and drill work that many of the picnickers watched with interest and appreciation. Boating, foot races, football and other sports provided an enjoyable afternoon's recreation and entertainment. In the pavilion there dancing and the First Hussars' Band gave a really excellent program at he band concert in the evening. Mr. William Heaman, the president of the British Social Union, was a busy man, and to him and his associates, Lieut.-Col. Hobbs, the honrary president, the other officers, the members of the executive, the special ommittees and the judges, starters. and other officers of the afternoon, great credit is due for the unqualified uccess of the outing.

Baby Show a Feature.

As might be expected the baby how was one of the best features of he program. And how the brightocking, rosy-cheeked, blue-eyed, and chubby-limbed little Britishers cooed nd smiled at the admiring judges, Or. H. A. Stevenson and Mrs. H. Rob. ertson. The tiny tots' race in which every contestant won a prize-what do you suppose—a big box of candy was probably the most popular event n the list of competitions. Only few yards were marked off for the race but the little fairies in blue same as last year by London and Lake rompers and smiles, lace, lingerie and Eric Railway. Also on Wednesday and nodding curls, entered into the contest with the greatest enthusiasm and beat the dandelions with their tiny eet to a lively pace.

There were no accident or mishaps o mar the day, beyond the shock and right which one lady received when football was kicked into a crowd around the judges' stand. She had a tle rains. baby in her arms at the time, and the ball struck her in the face and also hit the baby. Neither were seriously hurt, however.

The Tug-of-War. The tug-of-war was lustily contested as befitted Britons proud of their niembership in a race that gave the world Nelson and Wellington. Mr Mark Quinney captained the winning

Doctors' Opinions About POSTUM

Are best expressed in their own words

Writing under date of May 13, 1913, one physician says:

"From past experience I have become a strong friend of Postum. I am now advising its use over that of tea and coffee altogether, and find that most of those who give Postum a trial become users of it. "It is however sometimes very hard or impossible to get folks to purchase something when they 'don't know anything about it,' and 'don't want to throw away money on a chance of liking it." Now, it occurs to me these people are not to be criticized for such feelings, but at the same time

I am sure many of them would become friends of Postum if they could but have a sample of it placed in their hands.

"If you think this is a good suggestion, and will send me samples from time to time, I will see that they are placed among my patients where they will do the most good, for I believe it is to their interest to drink Postum rather than tea or coffee. Postum is used in our home, but we buy it of our grocer, and we expect to keep right on doing so.

Thousands of tea and coffee drinkers are victims of headache, nervousness, biliousness, heart trouble and indigestion, without knowing the cause.

More and more, physicians are naming tea and coffee as a common cause of these ills. Not every physician, however, finds time to send a sample following his prescrip-
