EXTRAORDINARY DISPATCH.

The Crown Lands report will come up to-day in the House, in accordance with the decision of the rather active quorum of yesterday, and we are likely to have another of those "scenes" for which this Lands Committee is making itself famous. After the debate on Tuesday, and the Speaker's remarks on informality, and the charges made against the Chairman of arbitrariness of conduct, it was expected that the meeting to recommit the report, would have been characterized by the utmost pantheism. It was supposed that the Chairman would have even gone to extremes in courtesy, in order that there should be no room for caviling. But what is the fact—the Chairman and his two supporters met at the time appointed, rushed into the business, which was finished in a few minutes, and were leaving the room when the other members arrived. Now, there was no necessity for this sharp practice. The report had simply to be re-committed—and a fresh vote taken on its adoption. But a few minutes were required to transact this important affair. To have waited, therefore, ten minutes for the disconnected members, would have been not only acting with courtesy, but would have proved in the end the wisest and fairest course. Nothing damages a good cause more than the indiscretion of its friends, and we are really afraid that Dr. Trimble and his supporters, through this totally unnecessary leg-slamming, are causing the Crown Lands report—which is an important and valuable document—to be looked upon by many with grave suspicion. The public interest does not require any such sharp guardianship, and we are sorry that so small an advantage should be taken of the want of punctuality of members yesterday morning. The report has to run the gauntlet of the House, and policy at all events, would have pointed out the necessity of being prompt, not widening the breach.

THE SCHOOL APPROPRIATION.

We could not have had a better evidence of the force of our system of representation than the vote on Dr. Powell's motion for an appropriation of $2,500 for temporary school purposes. The city members were arrayed on the one side, and the country members on the other—in other words the representatives of five-sixths of the population were in favor of giving the children of the poorer classes in Victoria facilities for obtaining education, while the other sixth—the representatives of legs and stumps—voted against it, and of course defeated the project. The weak proves the correctness of our remarks when the school bill was rejected. We pointed out then how determinedly opposed to the spread of education were the men who introduced that measure, with all their pretensions. The same individuals now, in their enlightenment and liberality, crush the last attempt to assist the poor of Victoria in the education of their children. There seems to be almost a kind of malignant spite in the matter; for the sum asked was a mere bagatelle, and the object to be attained one worthy the exertion of every honest and intelligent man in the colony. To make the matter more disgraceful, we believe His Excellency, who has taken a deep interest in the subject of education since his arrival amongst us, was prepared, with praiseworthy rigor, to put the matter into execution at once; so that not a single child of school-going age would have been left to rot about idle another day. Messrs. Dennes, Trimble, Tolmie, Street, and Duncan, have, however, taken good care that neither Governor, Kennedy nor the inhabitants of Victoria are to have this satisfaction. They have saved the colony $2500—the proportion of which, to each of their constituents, amounts to something in the neighborhood of five thousand cents, and they have good reason for rejoicing at the success of such a stroke of economy. We advise these gentlemen, however, to remember that they have made their mark. It has been the misfortune of many great men to outlive their reputation—let these school-repudiating Solomon take warning by Napoleon, and have their public demise recorded in the midst of their greatest victory.

SUGAR.—Mr. John Robinson who has just come down from Cherry Creek and arrived here by the Otter last evening, informs us that although he had followed the Creek up a distance of eighteen miles he had not had the look to strike any good paying ground. He and his companions had worked with pickaxe and shovel, and had made up their minds to give up the search, when they were informed that a few days ago, a party of prospectors, who had been working in the neighborhood of the Dalles, had discovered a large deposit of sugar, and had secured a large quantity of it. Mr. Robinson, who is a very experienced prospector, and who has been working in the neighborhood of the Dalles for some time, has been very successful in his search, and has secured a large quantity of sugar, and has secured a large quantity of it.

BY SHAKESPEARE.—We are on Tuesday morning, May 17th, and the Snake Indians attacked a white man near the Mountain half way between the Dalles and the Snake River, and killed him. The Snake Indians are a very fierce and warlike people, and they have been very successful in their attacks on the white men. They have killed many white men, and they have taken many white women and children into captivity. They are now very strong, and they are very much to be feared.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The steamer Otter arrived from New Westminster yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock, bringing eight passengers and a few thousand dollars in treasure. She brings no later dates from Cariboo.

MURDER OF MANNING AND PARTY CONFIRMED.

The Columbian learns from Mr. Ladner, who has just arrived from the Mouth of Quennelle, that Mr. McLean and Mr. Ogilvie had arrived at Alexandria with arms and ammunition for the expedition against the Indian murderers, and were waiting the arrival of Commissioner Cox, who was hourly expected—not recruiting men at Soda Creek as erroneously stated in the Chronicle. Mr. Cox had probably been detained on account of the Enterprise having been laid up for repairs. She was receiving a new shaft and wheel, and was expected to resume her regular trips on Thursday, so far improved as to make quicker time, and carry nearly double the freight. Mr. McLean had not been idle while waiting at the Fort. His enquiries had resulted in confirmation of the reported murder of Manning and his party. Mr. McLean, who is acquainted with the Chilcats, and in fact most of the Indians in the interior, says that the man Tellet is the head of a small band who have in a measure become detached from the main tribe, and who occasionally visit them. His policy is to secure the head men of the tribe, and hold them as hostages for the surrender of the murderers.

On account of the excessive drought, crops were not looking well, and with the exception of places where irrigation is practicable are likely to prove a failure. The grass from the hundred mile post presented a parched appearance, while the woods are on fire in almost every direction. Cook's ferry is again in good working order, and capable of crossing trains and loaded wagons without difficulty. Mr. Spence is progressing rapidly with the widening of the road, and is said to be making an excellent job of it. The Surveyor General, Mr. and Mrs. Captain Holmes had reached the 93 mile post and were hurrying on, seemingly eager to get to work.

CLEARING VESSELS AT VICTORIA.—An officer from the Customs Department will proceed to Victoria to-day for the purpose of clearing the H. B. O. steamer Labouchere for the coast-west coast of this colony, and there are some erroneous rumors in circulation respecting the matter, we may state that in clearing that steamer His Excellency the Governor gives it distinctly to be understood that thereafter nothing of the kind will be done; that the law, as it stands, must be enforced. His Excellency has felt, and we must confess, not without a show of reason, that it would have been fair to those engaged in the coast trade had two or three months' notice of the change in the Customs regulations been given before the law came into operation. That notice was not given, and hence the sentence shows in these cases. Now, however, that the law is thoroughly understood there will be no hardship, and consequently, no relaxation of the law. Columbian.

A RIGHT ROYAL FIRE.—On our way up to the Camp on Monday last we observed an Indian band, a star-shaped, which, upon being measured, proved to be exactly eleven feet in length. The Mail Contract for this colony has been awarded to Mr. Ditts, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Barnard for the sum of $2000. The high position all three have attained in this colony as honest, enterprising and active business men is a sufficient guarantee for the faithful performance of the service. Customs Receipts for week ending Saturday, May 14, 1864: Duties, $286 1 8; harbor dues, $18 16 6; headmoney, $13 8; tonnage dues, $129 6 8; inland navigation license, $10. Total, $292 12 8. Number of passengers entering at this port during same period, 67.—Id.

The Tribune will sail to-morrow for Bentinck Arm via Esquimaux, with 40 volunteers from here and a party of marines, for the purpose of co-operating with the expedition from the interior under Commissioner Cox. The 40 volunteers will be carefully selected from the whole number who have made application, not by any means because the balance are deemed unfit for the service, but because a party of 40 is considered adequate for the occasion. The hon. C. Brew has been appointed to take charge of this expedition. The steamer Reliance goes up to Yale this morning in order to bring down the requisite pack animals for the expedition, which are being supplied by Mr. Ladner. The steamer may be expected back about noon to-morrow.—Id.

THE BUTE EXPEDITION.

Mr. Moss, who arrived from New Westminster last night, informs us that intelligence has been received from Mr. McLean, from Soda Creek, confirming the report of the murder of Mr. Manning and his party at Bonassee Lake by the Chilcat Indians. Mr. McLean sent through a number of Indian scouts to the spot, who brought back proofs of the melancholy tragedy. McLean was still at Soda Creek awaiting the arrival of Commissioner Cox. He had only taken up fifty rifles and the same number of revolvers, but an additional supply of arms would be obtained. Upwards of eighty men volunteered at New Westminster for the Bentinck Arm expedition, but only forty would be accepted, that number being deemed sufficient. The Government have hired a number of pack-mules from Mr. Ladner, and despatched the Reliance to Yale to bring them down to New Westminster, where they will be shipped on board H.M.S. Tribune, which will convey the party to Bentinck Arm. The Tribune will come down to Esquimaux to-morrow and will take the outside passage to the Arm. The Columbian asks us to notice that the Tribune, drawing 19 ft. 11 in. got safely up to the capital, but omits to mention that she touched bottom on the way up. She may have more difficulty coming down with the current.

Large numbers of English tourists have flocked to the seat of war in the Donbas, and their numerous expenditure of themselves to shoot and shell has excited the greatest surprise among the combatants. A youth of 17 perched himself on top of a windmill at Dybbok "to see the fun," and could not be prevailed upon to descend, till he saw all he wished in the way of bloodshed.—Id.

MR. ROEBUCK ON POLITICS.—Mr. Roebuck on Thursday evening delivered a lecture to the young men of Hull upon the science of politics, of which we shall probably hear more. The Conservative tone of the discourse has been taken the indication out of the member for Sheffield to an extent which his constituents will possibly not approve. He had been, he said, alarmed by the events occurring in America, so alarmed that he earnestly hoped the working classes of England might have a political education before they were entrusted with power. It was necessary to teach them that Government could not fix a minimum of wages, or divide property, and this knowledge he implied they had not yet obtained. He believed that the time would very speedily come when the suffrage would be in the hands of the masses, that the "dances" was only postponed, and that it could only be averted by teaching the masses in good time, teaching them not this or that, but everything they had time and ability to learn. It is sound enough all that, but if it is the opinion of Mr. Roebuck's constituency, Sheffield is changed of late years.

A THOUGHTLESS ELECTION COMMITTEE.—The Liberal Election Committee has come to an accidental death. It appears that under the seventh-third section of the Corrupt Practices Prevention Act, an election committee cannot, while the House is sitting, adjourn for more than twenty-four hours. The committee appear to have been unaware of this rule, and adjourned to the day after the House had not, whereupon the sitting member, Mr. Verner, refused to attend before an illegally constituted body. A great debate was raised on Tuesday night as to the law of the question, the point being whether the Committee was alive, or dead, or in a state of suspended animation. The Committee, however, decided on Wednesday that their existence had terminated, and so the proceedings dropped through, the petitioners lose their money (£2,500). Mr. Verner retains his seat, and all the gentlemen employed on the Committee look exceedingly silly.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills—Diseases of the Skin.—No case of the disease of the skin, be its nature what it may, has failed to be benefited when these potent remedies have been properly applied in scurvy and scorbutic affections they are especially serviceable. Scurvy and eruptions which had resisted all other modes of treatment and gradually become worse from year to year have been completely cured by Holloway's cooling Ointment and purifying Pills, which root out the disease from the blood, and restore the system to its normal state. In the nursery Holloway's Ointment should be ever at hand. It will cure in sprains, contusions, burns, scalds and infantile eruptions, and may always be safely applied by any ordinary attendant.
