Instead of "next" Wednesday.
This was opposed by the opposition-but passed on the following division:
For: Davidson, Williams, Tatlow, Michi Bride, Wilson, Cotton, Ellison, Clifford, Bowser, Fraser, Ross, A. McDonald, Green, Fraser, McS, A. McDonald, Green, Fraser, A. McGonald, Hen-derson, Murro, Paterson, Wells, Hall, Camerom-17.
Mr. Oliver moved in amendment to add to the consolution the foollowing in this bill, but for the consideration of the House, The House, The House, The House, The House, The Source of the second for the House in view of his cogent for the House in view of his cogent fueritwich would attach to the govern-ment in prespective accomplishments to-maint ine position today as a silent men-ment in prespective accomplishments to-splain his position today as a silent men-ment in prespective accomplishments to-splay fiele and has desided the dog ward this end. He appealed especially to the Attorney-General to allay the sus-picion which had seized the opposition.
Mr. Henderson's bill to amend the In-reading: also the bill to amend the Special Turches and the value angers of older in the transfer and the state of the crowds filled the streets. The police forbade the funeral and summoned Cos-sacks, who, using their knouts and swords freely, dispersed the gathering. EMPEROR WILLIAM AT NAPLES. German Sovereign Receives Great Wel-come to Italy. Naples, April 5.—Emperor William arrived here today on board the Ham-burg-American steamer Hamburg amidst the booming of cannon and ringing hur-rahs from thousands gathered about the harbor. The Duke of Aosta went on board the Hamburg to welcome the Em-peror in the name of King Victor Eman-uel, informing the Emperor that the King will come to Naples tomorrow to see him. that the government intended to dodge the railway issue. That gentleman was pledged to his constituents to assist the realization of the railway dreams. Was he satisfied with the broken promises of his leader? Would he go back to Van-couver and tell the people how it all happened? The Minister of Finance was an estimable man. Was he the Mr. Tatlow who supported a resolution in 1902 in favor of the "immediate" con-struction of the Coast-Kootenay railway. The people of Vancouver would not for-give him if he failed to make use of the position he now held to advance their in terests in this connection. Then there was Mr. Bowser. He also owed a cer-tain duty to the people of Vancouver other than the discussion of Dominion polities in the House. If all these gen-temen were silent there was an oppor-tunity left for members for Similkameen and Okanagan, whose interest in railway matters had been transparently mani-fest. He concluded with a pressing in-vitation to the Premier to lay at least one of the railway propositions made to the government before the House. Mr. Brown observed that despite all that had been said on the subject by the rovernment, the question of railway con-struction was us of urther advanced that destruct the Rev. De. After presenting the memorandum, the secretary and ambassador had a brief conversation on the subject of Morocco, Baron Sternberg calling at-tention to the commercial importance of that country to the trading nations and emphasizing the international im-portance of Germany's opinion of the preservation there of the "open door." Roosevelt. In conferring today with Secretary Taft, the German ambassador was act-ing under a suggestion made by him when he called at the White House last week to say good-bye to the President. The President then took occasion to say to the German envoy, as he had said to the other ambassadors, that they were to communicate with Secre-tary Taft upon matters warranting his consideration.

There is no request in the German note for a statement of the Washing-ton government, and the reason for its presentation today was the circulation in Europe of sensational reports about the German Emperor's visit to Tangier and the German attitude toward Mo-rocco. Although France is not men-tioned in the memorandum, it can be stated that Germany regrets that she was not officially advised of the new position in Morocco contemplated by Great Britain and France, which was later disclosed in the treaty signed last spring, by which the London govern-ment deferred to the superior interest of France in Morocco. Germany holds that her interests in Morocco are in every respect equal to reason Germany's initiative was kept secret was because of the German Em-peror's belief that the suggestion about Chinese neutrality would be the more certain of success if emanating from Washington, particularly in view of Secretary Hay's previous activity in the same, after the Boxer troubles in 1900. Accordingly his suggestion was conveyed to the President through Baron Von Speck Steinberg, German ambassador. Secretary Hay returned at once from the south, and, after a conference with the President and the German ambassador, undertook the far-reaching diplomatic move to which is

Secretary Taft, while expressing in-terest in the Emperor's views, refrain-ed from committing the American gov-ernment on the subject. Nor did the ambassador in any way endeavor to sound him as to the President's atti-tude. There is no request in the German note for a statement of the Washing-ton government, and the reason for its

United States has an understanding with Germany relative to Morocco, but the authorities are satisfied that the report is misleading and false. Similar discredit is given to a Naples despatch saying that King Victor Emmanuel will utilize Emperor William's presence at Naples today to efface the misunder-standings growing out of the Moroc-can incident. Despite all reports, it is positively known that Italy is main-taining complete reserve relative to Morocco.
