FOUND BALLOON OF ARCTIC EXPLORER

Supposed First Definite Trace of Andree and Two Companions in Seventeen Years

Stockholm, Sweden, May 30.—What is believed to be the remains of the balloon in which Professor Salomon A. Andree ascended from Dane's Island, near Spitzbergen, July 11, 1897, in an attempt to reach the North Pole, was found in a forest in eastern Siberia, according to a telegram received at the Swedish Foreign Office to-day from Yakut.

A thorough investigation of the reported discovery has been ordered by the government.

The Arctic explorer was accompanied by two scientists and after leaving Dane's Island no report was ever received from the party.

Although traces of Andree's balloon have been reported at various places from time to time and while even the body of the famous Swedish Arctic explorer was said to have been discovered on the coast of Labrador, nothing has ever definitely been established as to what actually happened to the expedition or what became of the balloon.

Andree and his two companions, Messrs. Strindberg and Franke, started from Dane's Island in the hope of being carried by the trade winds to the North Pole. The explorer believed the steady current of air would take him into Polar regions in a week, carry him over the Pole and land him safely in North America.

CANADIAN MAGAZINE

Fiction of an unusually high order appears in the June issue of The Canadian Magazine. Two series of short stories begin in this number—the first by Sax Rohmer, an English writer, and the other by Madge Macbeth, of Ottawa. There are as well several other short stories of a high order by Louise Morris and Esther Winnifred Denge, both Canadian writers. Articles of significance are: "William Lyon Mackenzie and Toronto," by E. J. Hathaway; "Waiting for a Playwright," by Fred Jacob; "Fifty-Four Forty or Fight," by Harold Sands; "A Song of This Land," by Mrs. Arthur Murphy; "Redistribution in the Commons," by Arnett J. Magum; "Stephen Hales: Pioneer in Ventilation," by Professor D. Fraser Harris; and "Nebulous Politics," by Vincent Basavi.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT AND SOCIAL

Junior League of Methodist Church Entertain in Sunday School Room

The members of the Junior League of the Methodist church, very pleasantly entertained in the Sunday school room, Friday evening.

A large number gathered, and all spent a very pleasant evening. At the close of the programme, tea and cake were served to all, while ice cream and candy were sold.

The following programme was rendered:—

- PROGRAMME
- 1.—Remarks by the Chairman.
 - 2.—Hymn 453.
 - 3.—Recitation by Miss Francis Fairbanks.
 - 4.—Recitation by Miss Marjorie McBeath.
 - 5.—Dialogue by Miss Gertrude Murray and Elizabeth Anslow.
 - 6.—Solo—"Sweet and Low"—Marjorie Murray.
 - 7.—Recitation by Ruth Anslow.
 - 8.—Recitation by Grant McBeath.
 - 9.—Recitation by Muriel Jenner.
 - 10.—Recitation by Elizabeth Anslow.
 - 11.—Singing by League "Rain drops."
 - 12.—Recitation by Marjorie Murray.
 - 13.—Recitation by Christine McBeath.
 - 14.—Recitation by Gertrude Murray.
 - 15.—Short address by Mr. Squires.

The various numbers were very well carried out, and showed careful training upon the part of the little ones.

The recitation by Marjorie Murray was of exceptional merit, and received a hearty encore.

The proceeds amounted to about $25.00, which was divided with the Ladies' Aid.

GRAPHIC ISSUED SPECIAL EDITIONS

News of Empress Disaster Reached Here Early Friday Morning

News of the terrible loss of life, when the Empress of Ireland went down near Rimouski, was received by the Graphic at an early hour Friday morning, and immediately arrangements were made to issue a special edition.

The Graphic staff made every effort to get reliable reports from the scene of the disaster, but it was possible in the forenoon to get only the briefest details. These were issued in a special edition at 12 o'clock.

During the afternoon, repeated efforts were made to get details from Quebec and Montreal, but nothing could be procured, as all the wires were overtaxed.

Then through the kindness of Mr. R. O'Brien of the St. John Globe, the excellent report as it appeared in our second extra at 6 o'clock, was received between five and six o'clock, being rushed to us from the telegraph office and immediately put into type, and was on the streets at 6, where it was eagerly bought by citizens who thus got the first authentic news.

So that subscribers outside Campbellton, and places not served by newspapers could get the news, we issued nearly 2500 copies and mailed them, so that our subscribers had the first details early Saturday morning.

Already the management have received many letters of appreciation for this act.

THE HOME RULE BILL FOR IRELAND

The Great Historic Event Puts Asquith Among the Great Statesmen of the Age

The calm with which the House of Commons accepted the inevitable emphasized more than riot could have done, the importance of Monday's passage of the Home Rule bill.

A great historic event for more than Ireland, it may foreshadow further devotion; Home Rule for Wales, Scotland, England; the lifting from Parliament of a burden of local legislation all too heavy. Britain already has delayed overlong to gain federal advantages with which Germany, the United States and, to some extent, France, are familiar.

To have triumphed where Gladstone and Parnell failed puts Asquith and Redmond securely among Britain's great statesmen. Mr. Asquith works with so little appearance of effort, he speaks so seldom, so smoothly and so briefly, that his power has scarcely yet received due recognition. John Redmond, political descendant of Parnell, has combined strength with sympathy and force with moderation. The British habit of conciliation and compromise finds its leading example in the "fiery Celt."

States men could have done nothing without the people, and there the figures tell the story. More than four years ago the Liberals appealed to the country against the Lords on the budget and won by 126 seats. They still have about 100. They have lost a dozen or more and gained one—of all places—in London! They had 77 majority Monday, with 45 absentees, including the O'Brien irreconcilables.

Why should not the country stand behind them? Eight years of turmoil over Home Rule have seen the Lords' power to block progress broken; wealth taxed to relieve poverty; commerce increased by almost two billions a year; more than $50,000,000 a year paid on the national debt; prosperity almost unexampled; a new hope and wider prospects for the laboring man. Against such material arguments for a more enlightened political and social policy the Tory threat of armed rebellion in Ulster for a cause which English Tories, at least, value far less than their own shrinking privilege, is vain indeed.

What have the Carsons and the Cecil to look forward to now? King George will sign the bill, whether the Lords pass or reject it. The Dublin Parliament must be elected within a year; but Mr. Asquith is willing to let Ulster counties that so desire, stay six years outside its jurisdiction. A threatened rebellion which must wait seven years for force of actual excuse is hardly a present menace to Great Britain.

Vigorol A SPRING TONIC

The latest medicine on the market is the Great French Tonic VIGOROL. Every Home should have it. VIGOROL tones the whole system. Run-down men and women can be made strong and healthy. It tones you at once. That tired, dragging, sleepy feeling is removed, and you become bright and cheerful. The blood is purified, pimples and blotches are removed and a clear skin is the result, and life becomes worth while. Do you need toning up? Well, then get a bottle of VIGOROL at White's Drug Store.

Advertising, just like the reading matter in a paper, must be new and alive. If the country merchant will spend from fifty cents to three dollars a week, according to the size of his business, in his local paper, doing it persistently the year around making every advertisement a new one, and will back it up by prompt service and honest value, he need have no fear of the competition from the mail order houses.

The sterner sex are venturing out with their straw headgear.

There is no real need of anyone being troubled with constipation. Chamberlain's Tablets will cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any unpleasant effect. Give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

Farm Notes and News

TO ENCOURAGE DAIRING IN PROVINCE OF NOVA SCOTIA

Two Government measures were introduced at the session of the House of Assembly recently. Chief of these is the Bill for the encouragement of dairying in the Province, to be known as "The Dairymen's Act." The object of the bill is to foster the establishment of dairies in the Province, at the same time providing for a rigid inspection of all such products, with a view to the maintenance of perfectly sanitary conditions in these institutions. The bill provides that any three or more persons who desire to associate themselves for the purpose of manufacturing butter and cheese or both may do so under the Nova Scotia Companies Act. No company so incorporated shall erect any buildings for the above purpose until the site, plans and specifications have been approved of by the Superintendent of Dairying. Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1912, which amendment is to the effect that a sum not exceeding $15,000 may be expended by the Government to purchase a site for and build a demonstration creamery or cheese factory, at such places as may be recommended by the Superintendent and the Provincial Secretary. The amendment further provides that the money to be expended for the number of years may be appropriated. The bill provides for an accurate record by the operators of each private factory of the daily production. Following an adverse report by a dairy inspector of any of these establishments, the Superintendent has authority to close down the offending factory.

Individual Milk Pail

In a herd of 12 dairy cows the average yield last year was 3,780 pounds of milk and 144 pounds of fat. The 10 best cows in the district averaged 5,295 pounds of milk and 221 pounds of fat, while the 10 poorest gave only 2,818 pounds of milk and 107 pounds of fat.

When it is seen that the difference in the yield of these two groups of 10 cows is 2,475 pounds of milk and 114 pounds of fat, it is not surprising that the best and poorest individual cow there was actually a difference of 5,475 pounds of milk and 114 pounds of fat. It is quite evident that figuring out just a cold, dead, machine-like "average" is quite unsuitable and unfair when it comes to dealing with a living, nervous, sensitive cow.

That difference of $61.95 between the earning power of two individual cows indicates the cow's natural rebellion against mere mechanical treatment. Being an animated and complex bundle of nerves and tissues, she needs study of her particular likes and dislikes, then her best results will be cheerfully given. She is not simply one of a team, but an individual whose peculiarities are well worth studying to ensure devotion.

The average may be used in giving due justice to each cow only when all in the herd are equally good. Just as long as these remarkable differences exist between individual cows, there will also remain the need for a record of cost of feed and production of milk of each one separately. Then the herd can be built up on the definite system of each one contributing a good measure of profit; otherwise the deficiencies of several poor cows add to the heavy burden shouldered by the two or three star workers of the team that do make large profits. Dairy records give fair play to each cow and help in judging individual merit.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

NOW you have often said—"Oh dear, I dread when eating time comes near. It's not so much the cooking, grub, but cleaning after"—there's the "rub." Each kitchen holds a mass of work, no tidy little wife should shrink.

The kitchen floor, the kitchen sink, the kitchen pots as black as ink, the kitchen kettle and the pans, the silver, glass and cups and cans, wherever you may look, the toil means more than any kettles boil. To just "prepare" a meal is "fun," but work, with THAT is scarce "begin."

If those who stay up days and nights to win the cause of "Women's Rights" would only vote the GOLD DUST PLAN they soon would have the best of men. More time for "cleaning" and less for "rubbing" more time to play a woman's wiles, for once the GOLD DUST TWINS appear, Hard Labor's cry you never hear; frail women is a queenly soul who plays the "Take-it-Easy" role. Each GOLD DUST Twin has sold her fate, her beauty, out the domestic and never more those house-hold woes that every weary woman knows. File up the dishes as you will; the GOLD DUST TWINS will clean 'em still. Old floors and woodwork sinks and pans, take care to wash 'em clean. From sun to sun, and close to shore, your dishes will look up as clean as new.
