Well done, thou soldier of Christ!

(Laughter.) He therefore moved that the freedom of Drogheda be presented to Sir Garnet Welseley from his native town, his mother being a Drogheda lady. This will be one of the proudest things that could be conferred upon Sir Garnet, and he hoped that Drogheda will be honored in conferring it, and that his honored name will be revered and go down to posterity. THE SPORTING WORLD. FOOTBALL-TORONTO UNIVERSITY VS. VIC

This match took place yesterday afternoon on the University lawn and resulted in a hollow victory for the gown-men by two goals and a try to nothing. The play of the backs for the Victorias was probably superior to that of the University team but the forwards of the latter were much too strong for their opponents in spite of the vigorous efforts of Messrs. Hume, Blake and Brock.

The football match played yesterday between the Normal school and Collegiate institute clubs resulted in a draw, neither side scoring a goal. The game was rather lifeless and uninteresting and as it was very cold, some of the players had a difficulty in keeping their blood in circulation.

James H. Riley and James A. Ten Eyck spined articles of agreement Wednesday at Harry Hill's to row a 3-mile race, with turn, for $250 a side, on the Laurente course

After Many Years.

While George Holman was manager of the Royal lyceum in Toronto a number of young Englishmen were there, and being not flush of funds and fond of theatricals, he used to give them free admission frequently. On Tuesday he was surprised to receive from one of the party a letter written in England, signed by "An Old to the applied in the following manner: a tendance and a cash allowance during a tendance and a cash allowance to members thrown lost tendance and a cash allowance during the tendance and a cash allowance to members to aged members in any special case of want or distress.

If the club does come to life again it will be run on different princifiles than the old machine was.

Old Firemen's Reunion.

A meeting of the members of the old volunteer fire brigade, with the object of shortly holding a reunion, was called for last though last season it was an immediate such parts of the Grand opera house, he well knows that his audience are both friendly and pleased to great him. During his coming visit, to-night and to-morrow evening the 20th and 21st, he will appear in two comedies, giving on Friday and Saturday matinee his new comedy "The Jerseyman," which he presented to us last season under a different guise, the play then being called "Mayberry's (Girl." Since that time Mr. McAuley has improved the piece materially; in fact it has been almost entirely re-written, and although last season it was an immediate such shortly holding a reunion, was called for last night at Albert hall. A hop was in progress in one room of the hall and the dry goods clerks were meeting in another room, and the ex-firemen could find no place to meet, and a poseponement was made until next Monday night. There are only three members of the present paid brigade who were on the old volunteer corps, viz., Chief Ardagh, Bob Hill and Jee Davis.

The Hymn of Humanity.

The Hymn of Humanity.

From the Labor Netes.

Humanity! Humanity!

Mother, oh, mother!" thy children cry,
Stretching out weary, wasted hands
Over the tawny desert sands—

Weak and helpless, and very lone;
Come unto us, thine own, thine own!
We stumble and stray in the burning heat,
Blinded our eves and soorched our feet—
We have lost our way, and our strength is go
We cannot take one step further on—
Mother, oh, mother, hear our cry!
We hunger and thirst, and we shall die!"

Humanity! Humanity! She heard in the desert her children's cry— Wildly she moaned and wrung her hands, And sat her down on the weary sands. 'A'as! my children, that cry os me! There is no help in humanity!"

Humanity! Humanity!
The wail of her pain went up on high;
She cast the sand on her stricken head,
And wept, and would not be comforted.
I cannot help you, mine own, mine own
Myself am weary, and weak, and lone,
Sick and wounded, and like to die!"
Humanity! Humanity!

Humanity! Humanity!
She cried in her bitter agony—
No helper—none—and I called to ye
My children, and none can answer me!
The chains are sore on my hands and feet,
And I looked for help, and hope was swee
But I waited long and none came to me."
Humanity! Humanity!

Humanity! Humanity!
Sie sat in the desert, and One came by, Into whose footsteps the blood drops ras, And his face was like to a Son of Man.
Come, thou weary, I heard thy cry, I have suffered thine agony!
Stand up, stand up in thy liberty, And look to the Christ that healeth thee!
Whe even Himself is a child of thee.
Humanity! Humanity!
Humanity! Humanity!
Shall not her children hear her cry?
The chains have dropped from her feet and hands.
As she walketh over the desert sands.
And on the track where He went before,
The rose and myrtle spring evermore.

And on the track where He went before, The rose and myrtle spring evermore. Follow, follow the Son of God! There is hope and help in the path He trod: Call unte Him and not to me." Humanity! Humanity!
