ALBION HOUSE,
ST. ANDREWS.
Messrs. Storr & Co.,
Have the honor of announcing to their patrons and the inhabitants of St. Andrews generally, that they are now prepared to meet them at the Store immediately opposite their old stand, with a more VARIED AND EXTENSIVE STOCK than ever they were in a position to offer before.
Profiting by their experience, they have selected and will have ready for inspection ON THURSDAY NEXT, an UNUSUALLY LARGE STOCK of General Dry Goods, suitable for the season, and complete in every department; it would be unnecessary to particularize, it is sufficient to say the assortment is complete.
The following portion comprises every novelty of the season, consisting of West of England Broadcloths, Black and Fancy Duckings, double and single milled Cassimeres; Vestings, an endless variety; and a full and complete assortment of every article necessary to the stock of a first class Woolen House. All orders left with them will be faithfully executed under the superintendence of a cutter of first rate talent and experience.
The Subscribers beg to return their sincere thanks for the very flattering encouragement they have received since commencing business, and to assure their customers, they will spare no endeavors to deserve a continuance of those favors so liberally bestowed.
May 23, 1855. R. STORR & CO.

AYER'S PILLS.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.
There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as pure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a purgative pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient, however, that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of these produce so much going pain and excitation in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation of pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity, but is rather that any disease should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases, to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Langour and Loss of Appetite, Headache, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Lungs; they, in truth, all these are but the consequences of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Constipation, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Hemorrhoids, and Scoury Coughs with soreness of the bowels. Livers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required. They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Prolapsus of the Rectum, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and invigorates the system, and restores the appetite and vigor. They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physician is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed that this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

They purify the blood, and, by their stimulant action on the circulatory system, renovate the strength of the body, and restore the wasted or diseased energies of the whole organism. Hence an occasional dose is advantageous, even though no serious derangement exists; but unnecessary dosing should never be carried too far, as every purgative medicine reduces the strength when taken to excess. The thousand cases in which a physician is required cannot be enumerated here, but they suggest themselves to the reason of every body; and it is confidently believed that this pill will answer a better purpose than any thing which has hitherto been available to mankind. When their virtues are once known, the public will no longer doubt what remedy to employ when in need of a cathartic medicine.

AYER'S PILLS.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC.
There has long existed a public demand for an effective purgative pill which could be relied on as pure and perfectly safe in its operation. This has been prepared to meet that demand, and an extensive trial of its virtues has conclusively shown with what success it accomplishes the purpose designed. It is easy to make a purgative pill, but not easy to make the best of all pills—one which should have none of the objections, but all the advantages, of every other. This has been attempted here, and with what success we would respectfully submit to the public decision. It has been unfortunate for the patient, however, that almost every purgative medicine is acrimonious and irritating to the bowels. This is not. Many of these produce so much going pain and excitation in the system as to more than counterbalance the good to be derived from them. These pills produce no irritation of pain, unless it arise from a previously existing obstruction or derangement in the bowels. Being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity, but is rather that any disease should be taken judiciously. Minute directions for their use in the several diseases, to which they are applicable are given on the box. Among the complaints which have been speedily cured by them, we may mention Liver Complaint, in its various forms of Jaundice, Indigestion, Langour and Loss of Appetite, Headache, Irritability, Bilious Headache, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side and Lungs; they, in truth, all these are but the consequences of diseased action in the liver. As an aperient, they afford prompt and sure relief in Constipation, Piles, Colic, Dysentery, Hemorrhoids, and Scoury Coughs with soreness of the bowels. Livers and impurity of the blood; in short, any and every case where a purgative is required. They have also produced some singularly successful cures in Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Gravel, Erysipelas, Prolapsus of the Rectum, Pains in the Back, Stomach, and Side. They should be freely taken in the spring of the year, to purify the blood and prepare the system for the change of seasons. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and invigorates the system, and restores the appetite and vigor.
