HOUSES ARE BETTER.

Coming to the item of rent, and still confining ourselves to the colliery districts, we make the assertionthe accommodations, of course, taken into consideration—that there has been no material advance in some cases and in others none at all. The houses in the "Rows" in Stellarton and Westville which rented twenty to twenty-five years ago for from two to three dollars, have not been raised any. The new houses with better and larger accommodations rent for from five to six dollars per month, and they are worth it, in comparison with others. Living today does cost tury ago. and Develop the Home Resources.

Stock Farm, the home of so progressive a dairyman as that of F. W. Foster, Kingston, N. S. There one is impressed with the idea that Mr. Foster and his family are getting more out of life than the average farmer's family generally gets. Mr. tom and worked his way onwards and upwards and the property he has around him he has earned, every cent's worth, by hard work and good WESTERN EXPERIENCE.

When a lad of seventeen summers Mr. Foster took the Western fever and turning his back to the old homestead, he steered for the green and enchanting allurements of the call to the West, where he finally set-

> Mr. Foster has a good idea of the conditions in the Western provinces and his advice to young men is to remain in the Maritime Provinces. He considers Nova Scotia as one of the best countries in the world. He claims that the success of the few in Western Canada is heralded hither and thither but the disappointments and hardships endured by the greater number is seldom made public.
