

So tired waiting,—
Waiting to go Home,
Where those who loved us, all, are gone before us,
And miss our voices from the Heavenly chorus.
Before the looming shadows thicker gather,
Before we lose our way, O God, our Father,
We are so tired,
Let us go Home !

Bay Shore, Carleton, Aug., 1884.