SLAUGHTER SOLE-Is remarkably quiet, and we are not aware of any sales whatever.

HABNESS-Is still very quiet, the demand being only of a retail character.

WAXED UPPER-Continues in fair request, and no difficulty is experienced in effecting sales of prime stock at outside figures, with a corresponding deduction for interior.

GRAINED UPPER-Has moved off more freely, and the stock has been considerably reduced.

RUPP AND PERBLED.—Both descriptions have been in good demand but in most cases the inquiry has been for strictly first-class stock.

PATENT AND ENAMELLED -Sales are unimportant, very little of either being cut at present.

CALVEKING-Have no special inquiry; the supply is fair, and prices weak.

SLITS.-Heavy have sold freely, and are still wanted at full prices.

Suggesting-Are without noticeable change.

Hipes -The stock is low, and there is no great disposition on the part of tanners to purchase largely,owing to the high prices demanded, - holders wanting He for green salted.

LOUR -Receipts have been moderate, and consist mainly of Western Wheat Flour from the Welland Canal General inaction has characterized the market throughout. A few sales of Western Canal Super may be noted at $7.50 to $7.55, while for local use the demand has been very trifling, and mostly restricted to the choicer samples, which, being in small supply, command exceptional rates. Fancies and Extras continuo to move only by retail, rates being generally unchanged; No. 2 and lower grades are neglected. The supply of the commoner sorts is much in excess of the demand, and sales are, for the time being, quite impracticable. Ryc Flour, on account of the overstock of common grades, and the advanced stage of the season, has ceased to engage attention. During the recent activity most of the dealers had laid in freely, and the sudden falling off in demand leaves considerable on hand, with the prospect of loss before the whole is forced into consumption. Bag Flour-The demand is light, and mostly supplied by the local millers. Prices have remained steady, the preference, however, being given to the choicer samples. Some few lots of common on market, though offered low. and no buvers.

OATMEAL .- There is little movement to note. The supply is small, and holders firm, but beyond an occasional hundred, there is none changing hands.

GRAIN - Wheat-U. C. Spring, from scarcity, commands $1 55 to $1 60, according to sample; Milwaukee has sold in the vicinity of $150. Pease-There is virtually nothing doing; export operations for the present having closed, sales are, therefore, nominal Oats-Rather more has latterly been offered, and rates are scarcely so high.

PROVISIONS -Pork .- The market continues firm. but beyond small rotail lots there is nothing changing hands; $20.50 is the ruling price for Mess by retail. In other grades there is no movement. The stock of these is small and held to await the fall trade. Cutmeats continue as previously noted; the market is over supplied and prices low and irregular. Lard is aominal in the absence of any demand beyond an occasional packago. Butter .- We are still without the least show of enquiry. The arrivals are moderate for the season, and owing to the unfavourable state of the weather the condition has been very defective. Some experimental shipments have been made by holders with a view of testing the British market, but the result is believed to be most unsatisfactory, the condition on arrival being bad, and nothing but choice being wanted. Prospects us thus far developed are most discouraging, and grave fears are indulged, that with such inferior butter as has thus far come to market, difficulty will be found in finding buyers at all, in a teason when more than ordinary discrimination seems to be exercised.

Asues -Pols have been active, and prices have improved, at the close, however, some buyers had withdrawn and there was an easier feeling. Pearls have varied little in value, bu. . to now still more neglected.

REMARKS.

CATTLE—The sales have been at firmer prices than ruled last week, as the market is governed in n measure by the number of Western Cattle, and the prices paid for them at Albany; as the cost 20 per lb higher there this week than last, prices here ruled fully 25c per cwt higher. The larger portion of the stock at market was composed of Cows. Helfers and Steers, mostly two and three-year olds of fair quality.

SHEET AND LAMIS.—The market was not quite so active as last week, but prices show no material change, the most of those at market selling at $3 to $3.50 per head, with some lots as low as $1.70 per head The supply was about the same as last week, and most of the Lambs were in fair condition to slaughter.
