DOWD.

Such is the plentitude of potatoes in the vicinity of Dandrum, and the Barony of Kiualasity and Lecale, that farmers are disposing of them at 1s. 10d, per cwt. for "champions" and 2s, per cwt. for "may-"champions" and 2s. per owt. for "mag-num bonums." This abnormal supply and cheapness has encouraged dealers to ship the potatoes, by steamer, - to Liverpool, and thence to New York.

Dublin.

At any Amnesty meeting in the Dublin Workingman's Club, on January 10th, Mr. John Redmond, M.P., said he would move an "Amendment to the Address," in favor of amnesty to all the Irish political pris-

The death is announced of Lord Dunsan-die, at the advanced age of 83 years. Lord Dunsandle was an extensive laudowner in Galway, and for the most part resided on his estate. Though various acts of hardship have, from time to time, been alleged against him, and though he has come into conflict with his tenants on questions of abatement, these disputes, owing to the skilful management of Air. Daly, his son and agent, were never of long duration. Lord Dunandle could not be described as a good landlord. In other countries a very different epithet might be applied; but, everything is comparative, and, in comparison with the neighboring estate of the Marquis of Clanricade, Lor Dunsandie's treatment of his tenants might almost be called reasonable. Various circumstances lead to the belief that possibly some difficulties, and even litigation, may arise with regard to the large landed property he leaves behind

We-tmeath.

The Sydney Freeman, of November 19th, records with deep regret the death of the Rey. Mother of the Yaas Convent of Mercy, Sister Mary Clare. The deceased lady, Sister Mary Clare. The deceased lady, whose name previous to her religious profession was Miss E. McDonald, was a native of Westmeath, and was one of a band of heroic Sisters who left Ireland to form a convent in the "Bush," at the request of the venerable Bishop of Gouiburn, Most Rev. Dr. Lanigan, and the Very Rev. Dean O'Keeffe, of Yass. Mother Clare had been a nun only pine years when she was called a nun only nine years when she was called to her reward. A few hours before she breathed her last, Mother Mary Clare received the last rites of the Church from Very Rev. Father Alphonsus, Superior of the Passionist Order in New South Wales, who at the time was conjucting a Mission in St. Augustine's church, Yass; and the last prayers were recited at the grave by Dean O'Keeffo.

Wexford.

On the night of January 8th, about half-past 10 o'clock, Mr. James R. Hanrahan, organist, Farnogue cottage, met with an untimely death by falling over Wexford quay. He was alone at the time ; the quay ne night was of the darkest during the season, and it appears Mr. Hanrahan accidentally fell into the water at the outer edge of the Creacent, opposite the railing. The deceased, who was well known in musical circles was a general favorite in Wexford. On the previous evening he had conducted a concert. He was formerly an organist in Drogheds.

At the Pavillon.

The Empire of Tuesday says: The boisterous weather was not sufficient last night to prevent a large audience from attending Pavision to listen to the concert given by the catholic Mutual Benefit Association in sid of St. Michael's hospital. The programms was a lengthy one, opened with a gramms was a lengthy one, opened with a gramms by Miss Fanny Sullivan, who once more proved her undoubted ability in a double number composed of Schumann's "Aufschwung" and a composition by Greg. Mr. J. F. Kirk gave F ure's "Sancta Maria," a protty melody, which was well suited to his robusto tenor, and was well suited to his robusto tenor, and was well sung. Later on Mr. Kirk sang "The Belis of St. Mary's," by Rodney. Miss Marguerite Dunn won a hearty encore with " Id Ace," which was recited capitally. "Old Ace" was an old trotting horse which won and a bride for his owner at the same araco and a bride for his owner at the same time. "The Song of the Market Place" was Miss Dunn's second numb r. Mrs., Isidore Klein, who is a pupil of Mr. Torrington, made her debut most successful y. Her voice is a dramatic soprano, not particularly powerful, but excellent in mellowness of its quality, perfoot in intensition and very flexible, Arditi's waltz song was Mrs. Kloin's first effort, and the difficult vocalization was mastered with great facility. A hearty re call was acknowledged with a bow. In the second part Mrs. Klein contributed the beautiful "Ave Maria," from Cavaliera Rusticans, and her rendering of Msacagni's devotional air was, perhaps, more successful than the previous effort. Mr. George Fox, in than the previous effort Mr George Fox, in Loonard's "Haydi Souveur" and Wienia-waski's "Valse Caprice," gave the greatest delight. The brilliant young volinist seems to be gaining in the mastery of his justrument. His playing last night was marked by wonderful power, combined with the most perfect execution, and the applause that followed in each case was a litting tribute to his abitity. Mr. Frank A. Anglin made his first appearance in concert, though he has for some time most been heard and he has for some time past been heard and greatly appreciated in church. His voice is a baritone of good quality and range and had fine scope in Pinsuti's "Queen of the Earth" and "The Yeoman's Wedding Song." Mrs. and "The Yeoman's Wedding Song." Mrs. Mackelcan, the well known Hamilton contralto, was in capital voice and triumphed on each appearance. "He was a Prince," and "Happy Days," the latter with violin obligate by Mr. Fox, were her sel ctions, and the inevitable recalt was kindly responded to in each case. Mr. W. E. Ramsay vas triumphant with his refined humor, and had to return several times. An Irish song as a second encore to the first number created thunderous applause. The pro-gramme was long, and owing to a late start, it was 11 o clock when the concert ended.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS. TORONYO, Jan. 31.—Good cattle were in more than usual demand here this morning, but the want could not be filled, as most of the stuff was very ordinary to decidedly poor, though it all ultimately sold. A good deal more prime cattl. would have found a ready sale at stiff figures had it been here.

CATILE—As much as 4½e per 1b was paid for several picked lots of cattle, and the conjugate was that the quantity wanted only trouble was that the quantity wanted was so limited. Some lots sold at ordinary good cattle 31 to 37c was the range; several lots sold at 31c, and rough common stuff found a slow sale at from 23 to 3c per pound.

SHEEP ANE LAMIS-Just three hundred were in, and lambs are steady and wanted at unchanged prices. Sheep are nominal in price, mostly selling mixed with lambs. Calves—Only a few poor ones here, but are not worth quoting; but good calves are in request, and will find a quick sale at from

$4 to 87 each. Hous—The 250 here sold at once. Prices
