

A Basis of Success

By Henry Clews, the New York Financier

A WISELY advertised product gives its sponsors credit standing. For confidence makes credit; and knowledge is absolutely necessary to confidence.

Big advertising looks like big sales; it familiarizes; it unconsciously creates trust.

Beyond all question of doubt, the greatest force working in the interest of credit to-day is publicity.