

to an effective military structure capable of providing a potent instrument of policy, even if for use only as a last resort.

As I hope I've made clear, I agree with Churchill when he said that "jaw jaw is better than war war" and I agree also with John F. Kennedy when he said "Let us never negotiate out of fear, but let us never fear to negotiate". Both were saying the same thing, of course, and I think both were right.