

Mr. HAGGART. I expect to have the copies by to-morrow. I ordered them to be prepared.

OBSERVANCE OF THE LORD'S DAY.

On the order :

House again in Committee on Bill (No. 2) to secure the better observance of the Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday.—(Mr. Charlton.)

Sir CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER. If it is in order, Mr. Speaker, I would move that this order be discharged. I think that with the consent of the House this might be done. I might say that the hon. gentleman in charge of the Bill, though I did not make this suggestion to him, was perfectly satisfied with the intimation I gave, in compliance with the general understanding of the House, that the provisions of this Bill were to be introduced as an amendment to the Criminal Code, so I thought with the general consent, this order might disappear.

Mr. LAURIER. I imagine the better way would be to transfer it to the Government orders.

Sir CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER. I showed the hon. member who has charge of the Bill the draft of the substitute proposed, and he was perfectly satisfied with it, and returned it to me with an expression of his satisfaction.

Mr. SPEAKER. If the hon. gentleman will say that he has the authority of the hon. member for North Norfolk (Mr. Charlton) to this motion—

Sir CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER. I cannot say I have that. The Bill had better stand.

SENATE AND HOUSE OF COMMONS.

House divided on proposed motion of Mr. Mulock for second reading of Bill (No. 5) in further amendment of the Act respecting the Senate and House of Commons.

SUPERANNUATION ACT.

On the Order for resuming adjourned debate for second reading of Bill (No. 6) further to amend the Superannuation Act.

Mr. McMULLEN. I have not yet had time to look up the authorities on the question raised with regard to this Bill. I would ask that it be allowed to stand.

Mr. SPEAKER. No. My own opinion is very decided : this Bill is one that must be introduced on the authority of the Crown and by resolution.
