D e a r M r. P r e s i d e n t :

In December 1935 we have written you regarding the announcement of our scholarships providing free tuition for two consecutive semesters at the University of Heidelberg.

The continuance of such a policy will naturally depend upon the quality of the students applying. We should therefore consider it of particular value both to you and to us, if, in following the example already set by a number of universities, you would be so kind as to appoint a responsible member of your institution who would be in a position to answer for the character and good standing of future applicants for the free-tuition scholarships at the University of Heidelberg.

Any further suggestions on your part will be gladly received.

Most respectfully yours,

Head of the Foreign Department.
