

CHAPTER XVII.

HOURS FOR MEALS, &C.

1. The morning bell shall be rung at half-past four o'clock, A.M., in May, June, July, and August; at five, in March, April, September, and October; and at six, in November, December, January, and February.

It is required that all persons, sleeping in the Institution, who have duty to perform, rise in the morning at the ringing of the bell.

2. Breakfast is to be placed on the table in the summer at half-past six o'clock; in the spring and fall, at seven; and in the winter, at half-past seven.

3. Dinner to be served at twelve o'clock, noon, and tea at six P.M., the year round.

4. The Asylum is to be closed at half-past nine o'clock every night, at which time the attendants and servants must all retire to their apartments.

5. Sunday is to be a day of rest at the Asylum. No visitors are to be allowed in the buildings or grounds on this day.
