

CONTENTS.

I. FRENCH and INDIAN CRUELTY.

T HE author's birth, and manner of his being kidnapped at Aberdeen	3
He arrives off the coast of America, and is shipwrecked at Cape May	4
Sold at Philadelphia to a planter.	5
Description of the city of Philadelphia	6
His marriage, and settlement in a plantation	7
His house burnt by the Indians; and	9
Himself carried off by them	11
The cruel treatment he suffered while among the savages	12
The shocking massacre of Jacob Snyder and his family	14
Other instances of the barbarity of the Indians	16
Description of their dress, and dispositions	21
The author meditates his escape; and	27
Accomplishes it, at the risk of his life	28
His manner of travelling and concealing himself	29
His arrival at the house of John Bell, who takes him for an Indian, and threatens to shoot him	30
Kind reception among his wife's friends	31
Examination before Governor Morris	ib
Enters a volunteer in Shirley's regiment	32
His arrival at Boston, and a description of it	33
Joseph Long, Esq; with his house and servants, burnt by the Indians	35
His son and daughter carried off by them	36