

TWO REPRESENTATIVE NIAGARA HOTELS.

In this book, which is published not at all for advertising purposes but as a souvenir of the Falls purely, no space can be given to the very numerous and excellent hotels which abound at this central point for tourist travel. It has been the publisher's sole purpose to present a series of pictures reproduced from the best photographs obtainable, the collection of which would require fifty times the price of this book, and to arrange them in order below on these covers in compact, comprehensive and entertaining order. We cannot lay claim, however, to presenting all the points of interest about the Falls, if there is omitted those two American hotels which, from their long association with, have come to be such features of Niagara. They are the International Hotel and the Cataract House. The International can safely accommodate 600 guests, and during the months of July and August of each season, for nearly forty years, this popular hotel has been full. The Cataract House is one of the largest and oldest hotels in Niagara Falls. Part of the building was erected and opened as a hostelry in 1822. The hotel is situated nearly on the banks of the Niagara, having only the narrow part of the Park of the New York State Reservation between. The Cataract House can accommodate between 400 and 500 guests, and at times, in the busy season, every room is occupied by the best class of visitors that come to Niagara.
