TURNED THE TRICK

Lear and Dolan Each Contributed a Circuit Clout, Which Accounts for Win.

By Ida L. Webster.

Making home runs evidently must become a habit, like everything else, because, if such was not the case, why would King Lear slam them out so often? Please do not get the idea that we are grouching because the King does hamier out every few days, but we are merely wondering how the was austifus circuit of base, thus making it off the would be as good time as any to say that we think that this same there we not were yellow be as good time as any to say that we think that this same Lar person is about the classiest first beaman in the league. Thanks to Cosy.

And speaking of Cosy, he, too, walloped out a homer which is no mean fete, particularly when the ball hits the last blade of grass in centre field. His work in left was quite what one would expect from him. Meaning that it was remarkably good. Then, besides all of that, he did something else for which he is in line for many thanks, not only from this end of the press, but also from Fisher, or rather we would imagine that Red would be thankful to him. Now for the news. He has given Mister Frederick Fisher a new name and the monicker which he has picked out for the big fellow is "Babe," So from now on, when we speak of Babe you wish to keep up with the parade, you wish to keep up with the parade, wow will adopt the title also.

Lewis did the pitching for Toronto, thereby discrediting the story that he had left Monday night for some new position or other; however, there is a chance that the man from Texas will decide to move out within the next few days, but we hope not, because he certainly is a peach of a good pitcher, and if he were given any kind of support at all, he would more than make them sit up. As is customary, he was not supported, but, notwithstanding that fact, he is credited with a win, which by the way, is absolutely up to King Lear, his home run having done the trick.

by the way, is absolutely up done the lear, his home run having done the trick.

Babe Fisher did the catching, and his work behind the plate was very good, indeed. He nabbed two or three at second with ten minutes to spare, which, as you know, is his speed exactly. On the play where Carroll stole second the throw from Babe was perfect, but the player had such a wonderful start that he did not have a chance in this world of getting him, and so, young man, we trust that you have won your bet. At the bat Fisher did nothing at all, unless becoming peevish is considered something, but then they all get that way, so why talk about him?

Mokan did well yesterday, both in the field and at the plate. His work has been steadily becoming better, until now he is quite well within his class. One other thing about him is the fact that to date, according to the official censor, he has only spoken one sentence while he has been in the game, and that slipped out of him on Monday when he said "That a' boy." This veil of slience thing is really not such a bad idea, and then just think of the breath he saves for running bases.

for running bases.

Anderson Good.

Anderson filled in at second with much success; in fact, he fills in anywhere with a great deal of willingness. He works hard all the time, and he also uses his brains—for instance, when he stole home with two out and Lewis at the bat. This may not seem such a wonderful thing to you, but in the first place he got a two-base hit simply because he did not slow up for a second at first (Duke was doing the coacning on the line at the time, which probably accounts for it), and then he went to third when the pitcher made a balk, later dashing safely in to the plate.

Purtell made a rather poor throw which looked most easy, but then you never can tell, and anyway the little fellow does not offend very frequently, so that he is most excusable. He pulled tine usual pretty sacrifice, and refrained from getting into an argument with the umpire; in fact, none of the players went to the mat with him yesterday, for some reason or other. It was strange, too, because they had a good chance twice that we know of.

Shea pitched for the visitors, but forbecause they had a good chance twice that we know of.

Shea pitched for the visitors, but fortunately for the Leafs he was not nearly as effective as when he stacked up against the tribe on the Hamilton grounds. However, at that he was no slouch, and there were times when he had something on the ball which kept the best of them guessing. This fellow Weafer, who is playing first base for Donovan, is a classy player. He is on his toes all the time and moving around with every play. Eckstein appeared to be a trifle below par, but Carroll was right "there," and at that he is a troublesome little fellow, because he seems to be able to do exactly what the pitcher figures to do exactly what the pitcher figures that he will not do. This, of course, is quite the correct thing from his club's point of view, but it is certainly fearfully disconcerting to a gang who are point of view, but it is certainly fearfully disconcerting to a gang who are trying to win the pennant. Barnhardt was another who was in form, and he had enough pep for a dozen, but then that is the way we like to see them, so do not stop on our account, boys.

There will be two games today, so you had better get yourself a box lunch and go over early. By the way, if you really do want to get one of those "canned" dinner affairs, we know where they sell beauties for a dime, and, besiden liking the lunch, you would be helping to keep a poor man with ten kiddies.
Anyone interested might let us know, and we will pass you the address, but in the meantime do not forget the game, and meantime do not forget the game, and probably Reilley will play for you, too, which should be some inducement to go over.

HOUSING

The Commission appointed by the City to examine housing accommodation in Toronto, and to make recommendations thereon, requires accurate data as to the relation actually existing between the supply and demand.

To this end, CO-OPERATION OF THE CITIZENS is needed, and printed forms have been prepared with lists of questions to be answered, both by those wishing to rent or buy homes and those having houses for rent or sale. All those affected are requested to apply at once for these forms, in order that they may be completed and returned to the Commission not later than September 1st, 1918.

All communications should be in the interests of Citizens at present residing in Toronto, and refer to City of Toronto properties only. NOTE—The citizen who complies with this request will, of course, understand that the Commission does not propose to secure him a house (or tenant, as the case may be), but is simply collecting information for its guidance in dealing with the general question of housing. The names of those replying will be treated as confidential.

The owners then agreed to divide, after having placed on record the first triple dead heat performance in light harness racing.

O. H. Sholes writes from Holyoke, Col., that unknown parties took four horses, including the pacing mare Anna Ax Me (2,08½), off his range last May, and he has been unable to locate them. Anna Ax Me is a bay mare, with a star, and left hind leg gray, half-way to the hock. She also has a brand on her left shoulder and a small wire mark on her left hind pastern. Mr. Sholes is of the ppinion that the parties who took this mare are ringing her.

Chatham, Aug. 20 .- Ed. Mulhearn, Concession 5, Harwich, was killed, and Harold Wellwood, of Merlin, injured, when they were pinned under a heavy farm implement drawn by a team of horses which skidded into a ditch near the M.C.R. track at North Buxton this afternoon. The farmers were driving the heavy implement to their fields, and it is believed that they lost control of the machine on the down grade after passing over the track. When the accident became known, Dr. Reid of Merlin was summoned, who found on arrival that Mulhearn was but is suffering from shock. Coroner R. V.
