prominent representatives of the Canadian milling industry have laid the foundations for a permanent organization, which is to be nation-wide in its scope and usefulness, and will be known as the Canadian National Millers' Association.

Important Step.

The action of the millers represented on the former committee marks an important step in the advancement of the milling industry in Canada. It means that while every milling concern will be absolutely free and independent in the direction of its own affairs, the whole milling industry, comprising hundreds of individual milling enterprises, become crystallized into a homogeneous whole for the greater prosperity of the milling business.

"Break down the barriers which now obstruct the free exchange of commodities between Russia and Great Britain and an immediate demand for Britishmanufactured goods would be created, with the inflow of the necessary raw materials in exchange," say the manifesto. "Peace with Russia would increase employment and bring down prices.

"We cannot allow political imperialism or the interests of international ism or the interests of international financiers to stand in our way. Work-ers should not starve to promote in-inflated prices or perpetuate artificial milling business.

Montreal Headquarters.

Although strong efforts are being made to have the headquarters of the new organization established in Toronto, it is, according to high officers of the new organization, a foregone conclusion that these headquarters will be established in Montreal. Montreal contains not only the head offices and principal mills of several of the largest milling companies in Canada., and is as well the head of ocean navigation and the principal terminus for all water-borne commerce from the head of the lakes.

Amongst the directors of the new milling association is C. R. Hunt of Hunt, Bros., London, Ont.

The warm fall made it unsafe to store apples and roots as early as usual, with the result that the sudden severe frost and snow have caught a lot of apples and turnips not gathered. There will likely be considerable loss of both. The fall plowing, which was about half finished, is ended for the present on account of frost.
