INCENDIARY FIRES IN BRANTFORD ONT.

BRANTFORD, June 15.—(Special.) About half-past three yesterday morning, fire broke out in the dwelling of Jos. But, Northumberland street. The smoke was so heavy that Mr. and Mrs. But could not come down stairs and had to jump out of an upper window. They were scantily clad. A cow in an adjoining stable was suffocated.
About the same time, another fire was started at St. Mary's R. C. church, Colborne street west, the back door, destroying the small annex and the stairway to the basement. On Northumberland street, there was found on the sidewalk some pieces of waste saturated with oil, and it is evident an incendiary used the only waste to start the fire.

District Court yesterday by the Armour Packing Company, Nelson Morris & Co., Swift & Company and the Cudahy Packing Company, convicted on Tuesday of accepting concessions from the Burlington Railroad. "BIG MIKE" IS DEAD

Councillor Michael J. Sullivan an Ex-baseball Player Died Today—Has Played Ball in St. John.

BOSTON, June 15.—Michael J. Sullivan, a member of Governor Guadalupe's council, and formerly a pitcher of the New York National League baseball club died at the City Hospital of cerebral hemorrhage this morning.

Councillor Sullivan was stricken with what was thought to be syncope last Monday. He gradually failed and the end came shortly after midnight.

After abandoning baseball a dozen years ago, Sullivan entered the Boston University Law School, and upon his graduation was admitted to the bar and practised his profession in this city. Mr. Sullivan was a member of the council of the governor's council. He was about 40 years old. A widow and child survive.

"Big Mike" Sullivan will be well remembered by baseball fans in St. John. In the palmy days of the sport he visited this city on several occasions with picked Boston teams.

At that time he was a member of Congress, and although he had retired from the ranks of professional baseball occasionally he would get back into the game and take a trip with semi-professional players.

A GOOD SHOW

York Theatre Has a Good Melodrama in "The Convicts Daughter."

A wholesome melodrama, with natural situations a clever vein of humor and strong red blooded characters came up "The Convict's daughter" which was produced at the York Theatre last evening. The play which has been seen here before under various titles has lost none of its popularity. It should be popular for it tells a coherent, reasonable story and one that holds considerable interest. The company presenting it is a first-class one of the best in fact that has been seen here in melodrama for some time.

As Weary Willie, the philosophical, eccentric Bishop of Bygon, occupied the centre of the stage for a large part of the evening. His work throughout was very good. In the lighter parts he furnished much amusement, and in the more serious situations showed considerable ability. In the title role, Miss Edna Bert charmed the audience. She made a very sweet and graceful heroine. J. T. Doyle as the heavy villain was as fierce and wicked as could be desired. The part of Jack Warburton the fiancé of the convict's daughter, was well handled by Harry Rowe, Grace Vinton as the homestead, and Thos. Richardson as the Kentucky banker, are also deserving of mention.

The play will be repeated tonight and at both matinee and evening performances tomorrow.

CANADIAN CHOSEN BISHOP OF OREGON

But Rev. Mr. Scadding Has Not Yet Decided Whether He Will Accept.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The Rev. Charles Scadding, of Lagrange, Ill., who was elected Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Oregon, last night, was seen at his residence in Lagrange early today. He said: "I cannot say positively whether I will accept the position. I have been here for ten years and have become greatly attached to Chicago and to my church in Lagrange. However, the election is a great honor from my point of view." The Rev. Mr. Scadding was born in Exton, Pa. in 1862 and was graduated from Trinity College in that city. His first charge was St. George's, New York.

AN ART LOTTERY PROPOSED (Montreal Star).

Senator Ellis has a bill before the senate which proposes to legalize in Canada the distribution of pictures by means of a lottery. No one will dispute that Senator Ellis has anything but a perfectly proper purpose in his mind; and he is doubt persuaded that by this means struggling artists could be encouraged by people who have too little money to become out-and-out patrons of art.

But it is a question whether this would not open a door to dangerous practices. Even if the privilege be limited to the art unions incorporated in the United Kingdom, operations by Canadians will not be prevented. They might seek incorporation in Britain; or they might compel the extension of the privilege to native artists which we would thus bestow upon the art patrons of the Mother Country. We have seen lotteries for the encouragement of art, but they have been indistinguishable from lotteries for the encouragement of gambling in this very city. Mr. Ellis proposes to prevent the redemption of a picture won by a ticket holder for cash; and, if he could do this effectively, he would have guarded against one very grave danger. But how can he be certain that this will be done? What is to prevent a prize winner from selling his picture to a third party; and then what is to prevent the third party from having a "working agreement" with the lottery managers?

It is the lottery which is the dangerous thing. Once that is established as a going business, it is not difficult for astute managers to discover some means by which its prizes can be made tempting to those who care nothing for art, but who are mightily fascinated by a cash prize. It would seem that the senator had better think of some other means by which art can be encouraged. The door against lotteries cannot be closed too tightly; and it would be with real misgivings that the friends of the classes, which are usually fleeced so cruelly by these institutions, would see that door left ajar even so far as to admit the slipping through of an ambitious artist's master picture.

UTAH OPENS TONIGHT

Those who love a sweet, pure, yet so full of wholesome fun, drama, should secure tickets for "Utah," L. B. Puffer's beautiful pastoral drama, which is booked for the Opera House this and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee. The company presenting this great drama comes direct from the metropolitan play houses, and is headed by that clever character actor William Lawrence, late character artist and under study of the famous Denman Thompson, of "Old Homestead" fame.
