WRESTLING. Prokes To Meet Pons.

From Jim Prokes, who is in Lowell, Mass., yesterday, came word that he would meet Emil Pons in a finish match here. This will be good news for the wrestling enthusiasts as there has been a lull in the game for some time.

HOCKEY. Championship Games Paid.

Nancouver, March 31.—Although the official figures are not yet available for the world's championship hockey series receipts it is semi-officially announced here that more than 16,000 spectators took in the three games. The players received sixty per cent. of the receipts after $2,500 had been deducted for the Ottawa's traveling expenses and the winners.

TURF. Will Race In Canada.

J. W. Schorr, who headed the list of winning owners in America last year, declares that he will race half of his string of twenty thoroughbreds this season over the Canadian tracks. The United States turfmen have been given assurance that their horses will run no risk of being commandeered for the army, a fear of which resulted in many horsemen neglecting their engagements in the dominion last year, and many prominent owners will be represented north of the boundary line this season. H. G. Bedwell will also race in Canada, as will H. P. Whitney, Amos Turney and others.

Officers Are Liars, Says Hon. Mr. Hughes

Ottawa, March 31.—There was a lively session of the boots inquiry committee today. Major General Sam Hughes, minister of militia, was on the stand, and asserted his views with great vehemence. When confronted with the sworn statement of the officers that soldiers had been forced to tie shingles and bags to their feet because their boots gave out, the minister denounced the officers as liars and said they should be dismissed from the army. He refused to accept criticism of General Alderson or the findings of the seven-member military boards which have condemned the footwear. He admitted that some of the boots were bad and made terrible but vague threats about what he would do to the manufacturers if he could. The minister sought to shift the blame, however, by saying that most of the contracts were made by Hon. J. D. Hazen when acting as minister of militia with the assistance of the premier. A striking example of the profits of the middleman was given to the committee this afternoon. On 17,000 pairs of army boots and 22,000 pairs of canvas shoes, which the Gauthier company, of Quebec, sold to the government through Charles E. Slater, the latter got a commission of $15,275, while the company which made the boots made a profit of only $5,650 on the boots. The Gauthier company made a profit of twenty-five cents per pair and Slater took a commission of fifty-seven and a half cents per pair. On the canvas shoes the company made a profit of 50 cents per pair, while Slater took a commission of 23 cents per pair. This evidence was given by George Long, secretary-treasurer of the company. The price of the army boots, he said, was fixed by the company at $2.27, which left them a profit of 23 cents per pair. Slater was to get all over that price as his commission. He sold the boots to the government at $3.83. The canvas shoes were sold to the government at $2 per pair.
