Weather is Bad But All Else is Ready to Welcome the Former President Tomorrow—An Escort of Warships Arranged

New York, June 17.—The weather formed the only cloud on the horizon of the elaborate arrangements for the return home of former President Roosevelt tomorrow. Today opened with a continuance of yesterday's rain.

The Kaiserin Augusta Victoria is expected at quarantine early tomorrow morning. Col. Roosevelt will be taken on board a revenue cutter where breakfast will be served. He will remain aboard the cutter until the great water parade up the harbor starts.

Col. Roosevelt will be guarded during the celebration as carefully as if he were still in the White House. The police are taking unusual precautions, both on land and water. In the lineup there will be about 2,000 Spanish war veterans in addition to the total number of soldiers and sailors on guard to reach over 6,000.

The soldiers are to act as Col. Roosevelt's escort and guard. The chief work of the police will be to keep the crowds in order but they will also look to the protection of all out of town visitors. From hundred detectives began to scour the city last night for every crook they could recognize. All those gathered in will be held until the celebration is over.

Reverend Admiral Louie, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, will command the warships detailed to the naval parade. The warships will first greet the Kaiserin when she comes in sight at Sandy Hook and after firing a salute of 21 guns they will escort Col. Roosevelt into quarantine.

Picnic at Ingersoll in Connection With R. L. Borden's
Visit—Judge Doherty's Navy Views

Ingersoll, Ont. June 17.—(Special)—South Ontario Conservatives enjoyed business and pleasure on the occasion of R. L. Borden's visit here yesterday. The party association held its annual meeting and elected officers and appointed a committee to confer regarding an early convention to select a candidate to contest the federal riding.

In the afternoon there was a civic half-holiday and a large gathering attended a picnic at Victoria Park where addresses were delivered. In the evening a garden party was given in honor of the leader at the residence of J. A. Coulter. An interesting feature was the award of two purses to the oldest active supporters of the two parties. D. S. Burdick aged 91, mounted the platform as the oldest Liberal present and John Seibert aged 89, joined him as the senior conservative. They were enthusiastically cheered.

Mr. Borden addressed himself particularly to the work of the public accounts committee in their relation to what he termed "maladministration of public funds" in regard to the Ottawa municipal lighting service and the Richelieu wharf. Ex-Judge Doherty speaking as a representative from Quebec, deplored "misrepresentation and mismanagement" as to sentiment there regarding Canada's naval policy. "We take the position," he declared, "that it is good for Canada to be in the empire and it is good for the empire for Canada to be in it. I am not going to discuss whose view is right and whose view is wrong as to the basis of Canada's co-operative contribution to imperial defence but I do maintain that the whole question should be seriously thought out and submitted to and approved by the people."

fornia, Governor Emphatically Says

San Francisco, June 17.—Unless an unforeseen shift occurs in the fight situation, a definite announcement that Jeffries and Johnson will come together for their championship battle at Reno, Nevada, is expected today from Promoter Rickard. He said today:—

"It is safe to say the fight will take place at Reno, I am going to waste no more time or money in California. But Jeffries and Johnson will meet on the 4th of July even if I have to take them on the desert to hold the fight and even if it breaks me."

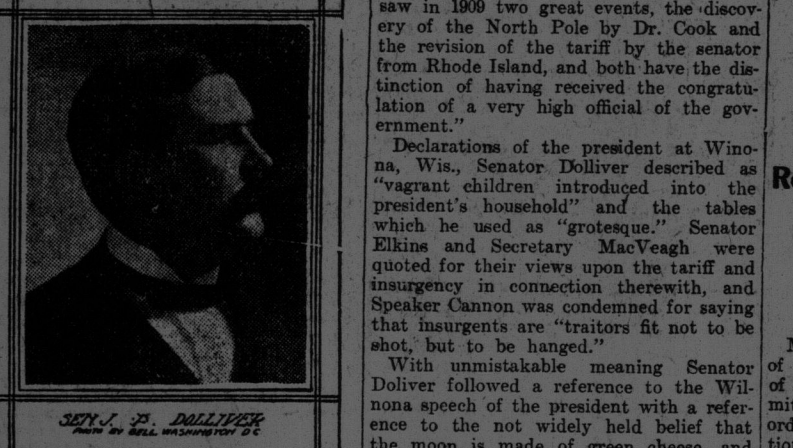

There is no intention on the part of the state authorities to recede from their position as clearly indicated in the latest pronouncements of the Governor and Attorney General. Gov. Gillett says:—

"I understand that many men have suggested that there would be no possibility of opposition to the contest. McCarty was met at the station by an immense crowd, including county and state officials, who assured him that the payment of a license fee of $1,000 was the only requisite. McCarty said that Sid Hester and Tom O'Day in charge of the Langford-Kaufmann fight were willing to go in on a double program for July 4 in Reno if the San Francisco opposition could not be overcome. He will interview county and state officials today to secure written assurances that there will be no legal opposition to the fight."

Ministers Start Campaign
Cincinnati, June 17.—Local ministers say that if the promoters of the Johnson-Jeffries fight wish to hold it in Nevada, they will contest it being held there just as hard as they contested the affair in California. Dr. Adna R. Leonard, pastor of the Walnut Hills Methodist church, says that the ministers are busy with letters to the Governor of Nevada against the fight in that state and before another week rolls around they will have started the rush of 1,000,000 letters against the affair.

STANDARD COURSE IS CONDEMNED

Statement That Hon. Mr. Aylesworth Was Hissed at Methodist Conference is Declared Absolutely False

Sackville, N. B., June 17.—The statement in today's Standard to the effect that Hon. A. B. Aylesworth was hissed by members of the conference is absolutely false. Several prominent ministers were interviewed by your correspondent and all state positively that no hissing was done though some few expressed disapproval of Mr. Aylesworth's action.

The members of the conference wish it understood that they are not in a position to judge Mr. Aylesworth's action until they are fully informed of the case. The Standard's headline "Methodists Hiss Mr. Aylesworth," is regarded by the members of the conference as most unfortunate and entirely at variance with the facts. It seems a despicable attempt by the Standard to make party capital of a speech of religious enthusiasm.

Alderman Twiss of Bristol, who arrived on the S. S. Royal George, said every business man ought to go to Canada. Then they would realize the greatness of the country and how eager Canadians are to deal with British houses.

Archbishop Bourne has received the following cable from the Archbishop of Montreal: "Canadian Catholics are overjoyed at Premier Asquith's announcement, and are confident the house will modify the declaration and hope the Emperor's congress may acknowledge the event."

The conference on the veto question between the leaders of the two great parties has been formally agreed to. The first meeting will be next week. The conference will probably be the premier, the Earl of Grey, Chancellor Lloyd-George, and Augustine Birrell, representing the government and Mr. Balfour, Lord Lansdowne and Austen Chamberlain, in behalf of the opposition.

Mr. Hon. John Burns, circulating the boards of guardians says that emigration affords a sure means of extirpating children from pauperism and the influence of evil surroundings.

Sir F. Young, in reference to emigration, said he believed he would live to see the present after-lack of emigration replaced by a plan which would work as satisfactorily in transferring people from one part of the empire to another as the labor exchanges promise to do here.

Things Well in Both Mem-

Montreal, June 17.—At the annual session of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, the High Court officers submitted their reports, which showed the order to be in a most flourishing condition.

The High Chief Ranger, J. A. Stewart, of Perth, Ont., said:—

"On January 1, 1909, the order had a membership of 70,729, and at the close of the year 73,985. The increase of 3,256 members, and 460 died, leaving the net membership at the close of the year 73,985."

The sick and funeral benefit branch is also flourishing. During the year $144,321.20, covering 5,880 claims, was paid in this branch. The amount to the credit of this fund at the close of the year was $107,718.20.

FIGURES THAT TELL STORIES.

SOURCES OF IMMIGRATION.

CANADA welcomed to her shores in the year ending March last, 265,744 immigrants, grouped by nationalities as shown in the pictures. This figure is the highest to date since 1907-08, when there were 267,469 arrivals. A study of the figures of immigration to Canada for the period from 1900 to the present reveals several interesting features. The fiscal year 1901 would show the order of precedence to be Continental American, and British. In the fiscal years 1901 and 1902 more immigrants came from the Continent than from British channels, and, in the fiscal years 1901 to 1903, more Americans arrived than British. In 1904, British immigration captured first place, with the United States second, and retained the leadership until 1908; but, in 1909, the United States again overtook Great Britain and still holds first place. An ever increasing feature of the waves of immigration recede every second year—except the interesting feature—only to achieve greater proportions in the succeeding year. For instance, the variations in British immigration are, for the five years since 1905: 65,269, 66,796, 65,791, 120,182, 62,901, and 63,757. Continental immigration has ebbed and flowed similarly, and the United States showed the same characteristics until 1906, but since then she has not receded, but increased.

TO MAKE JURORS WHEN

THE DUTIES REQUIREDJudge Forbes Asks Attorney-General to Bring in LegislationOther Counties Not Like This One Says Mr. Hazen—Coombs Case Taken Up Today and Some Evidence Given—Making Bail Larger—The Case
Still Going On

When the county court opened this morning in the H. L. Coombs case, Judge Forbes instructed the sheriff to assume charge of the prisoner on the ground that the grand jury having indicted the accused the bail were relieved of their responsibility.

Mr. Mullin contended that the bail ought to be renewed.

The attorney general opposed this view and after further argument the court agreed to allow the accused out on bail providing increased bail is furnished.

Eleven of the twenty-one members of the petit jury answered to the roll call and the true bill was returned. Mr. Mullin, with regard to the first count upon which the jury returned a true bill, I ask that your honor order the crown to furnish particulars. Mr. Mullin cited a section of the code and quoted an authority in support of his argument.

The attorney general said that the particulars were sufficiently set out in the positions.

His honor agreed with this.

Commenting on the absence of the jurors his honor observed that the attorney general would have to introduce legislation providing drastic punishment for delinquents.

Mr. Hazen said that St. John was the only county which contained disobedient jurors. He intimated that legislation would be introduced to meet cases such as this.

The attorney general moved for trial. On the indictment being read Coombs, in a strong clear voice, pleaded not guilty.

After some difficulty the following were empaneled as jurors: Francis H. Walker, Ernest C. Wilson, Thomas McMillan, Norman L. McMillan, James Wilbott, Michael J. McGrath, Arthur J. Noble, Walter H. Bell, Norman Hornbrook, Jas. W. Morrison, Fred R. Patterson and Charles T. Nevins.

The attorney general briefly outlined the case for the prosecution. He referred to the absence of Richard D. Isaacs and said that the crown has been unable to find out his present whereabouts.

Alexander Warrel, a promoter, one of a committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the D'Israeli Company, was the first witness. He said he was a stockholder and was at a meeting of the directors. Mr. Mullin here contended that there was no evidence of the company being incorporated.

Mr. Hazen offered in evidence the letters of incorporation.

Mr. Mullin raised a number of technical objections, but his honor allowed the letters to be put in evidence.

ELEPHANT WAS HAVING GOOD TIME OF IT

Edenburgh, Pa. June After the circus train wreck yesterday an elephant was found by the circus men a short way from the wreck, drawing water into his trunk and spraying it over himself. Two lions half a mile away were browsing in catnip that grew alongside the railroad track.

Ropes were slipped over their heads and they were tamed led down the road to farm wagons into which they were loaded and carried back to cages.

One of the hyenas that escaped was shot as it was slinking through the bushes. A jaguar was captured by a circus man's use. As it crouched to spring at the captor, a coat was thrown at it. While the animal pounced on the coat and tore at it a noose was thrown over its head and it was choked into submission. The lion was returned to the caravan by a boy who came leading it along the road by a rope. The boy had found it trying to get into his father's barn.

United States Holds That American Fishermen Are Free From British Regulations in Newfoundland on Same Ground as Applied to France

Times Special Cable.
The Hague, June 17.—Continuing his speech on the Newfoundland fisheries case today, Sir Robert Finlay, speaking for Britain, contested the United States claim that American fishermen were not amenable to the British colonial fishery regulations on the same ground that French fishermen were not amenable to them prior to the treaty of 1894, on the so-called French shore of Newfoundland.

France, he said, had always laid claim to exclusive rights and for that reason, in order to avoid trouble with France, Britain had abstained from raising the question of jurisdiction over the French fisheries. American fishermen, on the other hand, had never claimed such exclusive rights, and the treaty of 1818 merely gave them liberty to fish in common with the English fishermen.

Sir Robert subsequently turned to the question whether or not Newfoundland could employ Newfoundlanders or other persons not of American nationality as fishermen. He maintained they could not, because in the treaty of 1818 mention was made of only American inhabitants.

He proceeded to argue that Newfoundland was entitled to forbid Newfoundlanders to serve on American fishing boats—because fishing rights were granted to American fishermen alone, and because that expression could not be interpreted to mean that American capitalists resident in the United States, who sent fishing boats manned by foreigners to the coast of Newfoundland, could be considered fishermen. Only those who actually did the fishing were fishermen in the terms of the treaty of 1818, as the license to fish was limited to those who had been granted such license.

Sir Robert maintained further that the British colony could insist upon a declaration being made to the customs authorities upon payment of harbor light dues by the Americans.

LUMBER LADEN SCHOONER
ABLAZE OFF FIRE ISLAND

New York, June 17.—As the steamer Mauretania, which arrived today from Liverpool and Queenstown was approaching the harbor at 9.30 o'clock last night her officers sighted a burning craft about 20 miles east of the Fire Island lightship. The vessel was apparently a lumber laden schooner and was ablaze fore and aft.

The Mauretania slowed down on approaching the burning craft but it soon became evident that there was no one on board. After making sure that no boats were from the burning craft were hovering in the vicinity the Mauretania proceeded and soon left the blazing vessel astern.
