

CHILDREN ATTEND FUNERAL OF FRIEND

One Session For Fairville Higher Grades as Hazel Rose is Buried.

The funeral of Miss Hazel Rose, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rose of Harding street, Fairville, was held yesterday afternoon from her parents' residence, and service was conducted by Rev. W. M. Townshend. The girl was much beloved by her associates in public school and in the Sunday school of St. Columba Presbyterian Church, this being evidenced by the floral tributes and by the large number who marched in the procession to Greenwood cemetery, where interment was made. A one-session was allowed the higher grades of the Fairville Superior School, so the children could attend. The choir of the church sang "There's a Friend of Little Children," with its consoling message to the bereaved family and friends.

Floral tributes were received from many, among whom were: St. Columba Sunday school, Girls' Branch and Juniors of the Church of the Good Shepherd, sprays; classes in Miss Carleton's room of Fairville Superior School, where Miss Rose was a scholar and classes in room of I. Newton Fanning, principal, wreaths; N. B. Telephone operators, wreath; Frank Olive, executive; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mc-Masters, stars; Dr. L. M. Cullen, Miss Ray Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pile, Miss Selma Ryan, Leo Collins and Miss Florence Thompson, sprays; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rose and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Rose and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chittick, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rose, sprays; family of Miss Rose, a pillow.

Palm Beach Gives Line On Spring Fashions For Women

By HEDDA HOYT,
Fashion Editor of the United Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Palm Beach plants the styles that blossom up North in the summer months. It is difficult to think in terms of summery frocks with snow piled high on our northern streets, but when one considers that manufacturers are already planning next fall's frocks and Palm Beach is wearing lingerie gowns and straw hats, one begins to get interested in the coming season. Styles that are sponsored by the smart women at Florida resorts during the winter months are those which we will be wearing within a few months up North. The types of frocks and gowns worn by the residents of Palm Beach can be described in a few words. The days when women dressed six times a day and in six different types of clothes each time are past, owing to the strenuous living and the lack of time for changes.

First, there is the sports frock which is worn for tennis golf, etc., and which is permissible to be worn throughout the entire day, if one has no tea engagements. This season's sports frocks are numerous. There are flannel jumper suits, one-piece frocks with matching coats and silk knit dresses. Perhaps the most popular of the three are French flannels in solid colors, such as saffron, white, madonna blue, tan, etc., which are made into sport-ensembles. That is the dress is a one-piece affair, usually sleeveless or with long, tight sleeves and the coat is of three-quarter length and of the same material. Again the flannel frock may be made of plain materials with linings, scarfs and appliques of brilliant shades.

White is as popular for sportswear as it is for dress wear and one sees many white crepe frocks with red, or green scarfs, braiding or banding. Those who prefer mannish lines will favor the sports topcoats which are invariably in amber tones and trimmed about the collar or hem-border in natural colored furs. Yellowish furs are those most frequently seen on the highly-colored coats. The all-white coat is very popular also and is trimmed in

There was a lengthy discussion on the resolution introduced by C. F. Inches and seconded by J. J. F. Winslow to the effect that imprisonment for debt and the issuing of a lien process for debt without authority of a judge be done away with.

On motion of Dr. Baxter this was referred to the council to report back.

FIND DOG IN WELL.
PRINCETON, Ind., Feb. 10.—Spark Plug, Joe Kur's terrier, was missing for three weeks. Joe was working around his barn when he heard a whine coming from an abandoned well under the barn. He was lowered into the well and brought up the dog almost dead from starvation. The dog was fed every two hours for the next 24 hours and will live.

DIAMOND DEBTOR.
NEWCASTLE, Eng., Feb. 10.—A debtor appeared in court here and pleaded that he didn't have a cent in the world to pay his debts. The judge kept watching his tie, and the "poor debtor" suddenly realized that he was wearing a valuable diamond stickpin. He was compelled to hand it over for the benefit of his debtors.

white fox in like manner. It seems newer to use fur either about the collar and hem. Plaid coats of blanket materials are also considered very smart for beach wear.

Afternoon at Palm Beach.

After luncheon Milady changes into her afternoon tea frock, which is usually of pastel shade and made of crepe de chene,orgettes or chiffon with transparent flounces and scarfs. Sleeves are mere shoulder extensions, and skirts are extremely short. Late forms the flaring flounces and finishes the scarf ends in most cases. Hosiery matches the frock, and shoes are extremely ornamental, being in black, brown, tan or grey shades. Bright colored shoes are not seen much this season.

Here again at teatime one sees much white. There is one particularly lovely gown of white crepe embroidered on the upper skirt section in bright yellow moths with a wide fringe of yellow falling from below the hips to the hem. Another white frock is made in simple lines with a wide band of red roses embroidered about the hips, the green stems and leaves of the flowers extending gracefully into the folds of the circular flare which begins at the knees.

The ensemble suit for afternoon wear is popular. One of the most attractive ones being made of black silk crepe printed in red tulips with a long, slender coat of plain black silk lined with the printed material of the frock.

Evening Wear.

Resort evening frocks are a bit flatter than those we are wearing up north at present. First, there are few beaded gowns, since chiffons trimmed in ostrich or marabout flouncing prevail. Colors are milder than they are up North. There are very few bright reds or greens which are always the winter favorites. White as usual prevails, with canary yellow, pink, pale blue and other pastel tones following in line. One sees a few new necklines, such as those which use the material of the frock only, with a wide band of black or white on the opposite side. Hems are invariably flaring and some of the newest skirts flare in circular movement from the hip.

Bathing suits are more brilliant than ever. Many are made of flowered French chintz which is guaranteed not to fade. White jersey suits embroidered in wool in colors are also popular.
