A DESIRABLE DISEASE.

An impression has prevailed among farmers that tuberculosis is a dise to be avoided and stamped out. It has been usual for government offi-cers to inspect private herds that were said to be infected. - Animals affected have been slaughtered and separated from stock not under suson. Tuberculosis has been and

The farmers will now perceive that tuberculosis is not a thing to dread but to be sought after. No herd can be considered respectable without it. the New Brunswick breeders that they have not secured germs of the dis if it had not been stated that the disease has no germs and cannot be disseminated. Apparently it can only be acquired by delicate nurture, providential interposition or government

The only thing to be accounted for is the claim that the con have kept the tuberculosis stock away from the inspected cattle. Was it for fear that the Jerseys might by some accident catch good health from the rns? And why are these Jerark of distinction and ancient sign of good breeding? Are we to rem four hundred years behind the tin cannot be acquired by infection, why not give the province a chance to vindicate itself among cattle countries by the application of the law of inheritance? While all the rest of the world is rejoicing in this felicitous on among the best cattle, it uld be left to linger in dis-

THE NEWFOUNDLAND CAM-PAIGN

Newfoundland is in the excited of an election contest. The voting is to take place on the 28th inst. and will decide the fate of the Whiteway ent, which has now been in power some eight years. Sir Whiteway has twice appealed to the people with success since 1889. The toted at the instance of Mr. A. B. forine, a clever Nova Scottan, who vas then the virtual opposition leader. nearly all the ministers and a large number of their supporters were unseated. After a temporary change of ariministration, by elections were held amounting almost to a general elecwhen the Whiteway party were restored to their places. The ministers complained that Judge Winters, who had been before his appointment to the bench a prominent politician opposed to Whiteway, had placed a strained interpretation on the use of patronage and that his decisions had wrought a grave injustice. Afterward, from motives of economy, the government cut down the salary of the particular judicial position that James Winter happened to fill. Sir James thereupon resigned, and now at the first opportunity he takes part in the campaign as leader of the opposition. In his manifesto Sir James says that the debt of the province is approximately $20,000,000, which amounts to $100 per head of the population. As the net debt of Canada is only about half that amount, and as the people of Newfoundland are not rich, the situation appears to be sufficiently serious. Neither Sir James Winter nor Sir William Whiteway proposes to go to the country on the policy of union with Canada. There is reason to believe that both leaders are in favor of it, but the people are not supposed to be prepared for the change.

OUR WEST INDIA TRADE.

The West Indies Islands export tropical produce and import goods produced in higher latitudes. Canada is a natural market for West Indian goods, and the West andles is a natural market for this country, much more so than a land whose products are similar to ours. We have not nearly so large a trade with the West Indies as we ought to have, and a great part of the Canadian goods that find their way to these islands reach their destination from United States ports, in United States vessels. This is rartly because Canada has not regular communication with all the islands, and partly because our people have not been so ready to adjust themselves to the conditions and requirements of the trade as our neighbors. The Canadian transportation lines have not reached out after the West Indian business until lately, but now the Canadian Pacific company has made a satisfactory departure. It ent a competent man, Mr. J. H. Van zile to make a thorough investigs of New York, and has followed up quest by printing Mr. Ver mporters, to whom the careful pre-

It is a typical statement and shows that in supplying he line by the United States, even fin articles which we are in the habit of exporting to the United States. For instance, the United States sold Bermuda ten times as much butter as Canada, three times as much cheese, the whole of the coal. es as many eggs, practically all hree times as many horses, thirty times as much lumber, twice as many eats, a hundred times as many cattle, and twenty times as many sheep. The only articles in which we seem to have neld our own were box material, fish,

Our trade with St. Thomas appears to be on a little better basis, but the United States supply St. Kitts with readstuffs and meats. Antigua gets alry produce chiefly from Great Briain. Dominica draws its food supply rainly from the United States. St. meia buys United States flour and meats. Barbados takes over fifty It comes from Canada. It takes hay mainly from the States, three-fourths of its cheese from Great Britain and of its butter from England. Trinidad uys 150,000 barrels of flour from the states and none from Canada, oats from both countries, hay from New York, cheese nearly all from the stries, and butter mainly from France. British Guiara patronizes Minnes ies from Canada and the States, hay and peas from New York, and bacon rom the States. Canada furnishes alf the rotatoes, the States nearly all the cheese, France and England all

SUSSEX EXHIBITION.

Beautiful Weather Favors the Sussex and Studholm Fair.

The Attendance Large and the Display a Fine One-List of Awards so Far Made.

ssex. Oct. 7.—Beautiful Sussey ever looks more beautiful than under an October sky. Some of the trees by which its streets are shaded are as green as in midsummer: some of them are tinted with gold, crimson and purple, but few of them have begun to denuded of their foliage. lawns and open spaces upon which the eye delights to linger, retain the freshness of summer time and the exterior of the residences and places of busiess are unpolluted by fog or smoke. sex is quiet and restful; there is of cobble stones; there are no tug boat nor mill whistles; so far as I am ware there are no clocks in church steeples to remind us of the flight of time. The bicycle girls skim long the way as silently and as grace as the swallows. Not a "blcycle nor a "blcycle hump" is to be may be, because the fair riders seen, may be, because the fair riders have no streets like King street to climb or descend. And they are all red cheeked and merry eyed, as in a land flowing with milk and honey ertainly ought to be.

The annual fair of the Sussex and Studholm Agriculturari society was opened in the Aberdeen rink on Wedesday—an ideal day for the occasion and the display is quite as large as the building would accommodate; of the merits of the show I shall write at some length tomorrow. There is a good show of poultry in an annex at the rear of the rink ,and of carriages, etc., in a tent adjoining, but the chief object is to show the best of the products of the farmers of Sussex and Studholm and the handy work of their wives and daughters, and by a glance through the rink, the visitor discovers that it is a grand success. The society hopes in the near future to hold their exhibitions in a building of their own—one better adapted to their purposes. Last evening the rink was crowded, there being a considerable sprinkling of officers and men present from camp and the music furnished by the Sussex band was of a high character. Today was of a high character. Today prizes in nearly every class will be awarded. The following are the awards made up to the hour of writ-

This contract shall not, nor shall any pertion thereof, be transferred without the written permission of the postmaster-general, and subletting of this contract or of any of the work to be performed under this contract, ether than that which may be customary in the trades concerned, is hereby prohibited. Any infringement of the provisions of this clause, or any of them, if proved to the satisfaction of the governor-in-council, shall render the contractor liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offerce, which may be deducted from any moneys payable to him under the contract and if the amount earned by the contract and if the amount earned by the contract and if the amount of the fine, then the government may apply the sum in their hands towards the payment of the amount of such fines, and may recover the deficiency from the contractor in any action, suit or proceeding by way of information in any court of competent jurisdiction as a debt due by the contractor to the crewn as a liquidated amount, and any order-in-council fixing the amount of such deficiency shall be conclusive proof of the amount of such deficiency in any such action, suit or proceeding.

(2) If the contractor to lates the conditions herein mentioned against sub-letting, he shall not be entitled to receive any payment under this contract for work done by the sub-contractor, and the poetmaster-general may refuse to accept any work performed by a sub-contractor in violation of the prohibition herein contained against sub-letting. animals. (3) The wages to be paid in the execution of this contract shall be those generally accepted as those current in each trade for competent workmen in the district where the work is carried on. If this condition is violated the postmaster-general may cancel the contract and refuse to accept any work done thereunder, and the contractor will thereafter not be allowed to undertake any work for the post office department.

(4) The factory and the work there being performed under this contract shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by persons thereto authorized in writing by the postmaster-general. Dr. J. H. Frink has been appointed Thomas M. Burns is appointed a J. P. for St. John, and W. A. Price for

(5) Before being entitled to payment of any moneys which the contractor may from time to time claim to be due him under his contract, he shall file with the postmaster-general, in support of such claim, a solemn statutory deciaration of himself and of such others as the postmaster-general may indicate, festifying to the sates of wages paid in exacution of this contract, and to the manner in all other respects in which the provisions of this contract, have been observed and the work performed, and generally setting forth such information as the postmaster general may require and as will emable him to determine whether, and, if so, in what respects, any of the provisions of the contract may have been violated. In the case of the contractor's absence from the country, his extreme illness or death.

Mr. Mulock states that the English house of commons in 1891 declared itself in favor of the principles embodgovernment. He continues; I submit-ted the question to our government, and I have their full and hearty ap-proval of the course which I am tak-

'I think the principle will be el generally in all government contracts. We are all in favor of it, and I presume it can be applied to all government contracts. The minister of militia is about to call for tenders for a large contract for supplying militia clothling, and I know that he intends adopting it, and I have no marginal, hammered drafts. Upon this is placed the second base, slightly smaller in size. This is similarly findoubt that it will be ma doubt that it will be made to apply hereafter to all government contract.

* It seems to me that as every fair-minded contractor must desire to pay a fair living wage to every workman for his labor, he will approve of the principle being engrafted into government contracts that there can be no escape from its general application. The whole question was considered by the government a few days ago. The conditions will not be made to apply to existing contracts, as de to apply in raised, polished, block letters on its front side. The die rests upon this front. It also is rustic finish. It has highly polished panels upon the four sides, and upon the front plate is to apply to existing contracts, as without the consent of the contracting parties that could not be done. Governments, like individuals, are ound by the terms of their contracts.
