The case of McAllister vs. Johnson was taken up and Mr. Mullin opened fr the plaintiff. McAllister went on the stand and told his story of his ar-rest on train No. 10 on the night of July 31st last by Conductor Johnson. The latter, with the baggage master and brakeman, handcuffed him and carried him past his destination, which was Rothesay, to Salisbury, where he was there transferred to another train and taken, still handcuffed, back to St. John. He was then handed over to the police, by whom he was taken to the central station and placed in a cell, where he remained until Monday morn-ing, August 2nd. He was released on bail and was subsequently brought to trial on a charge of refusing to pay his railway fare and using abusive language. The case was dismissed by the magistrate and the present suift was the result. McAllister swore that he was solow in getting out his ticket, but it was in his hand when the hand-cuffs were put on him. It was shown to the conductor, but he was told it was then too late and his arrest con-tinued and imprisonment followed as before stated. Court adjourned till 2 p. m. One of the plans for creating this publicity is through the medium of the rising generation, men and women of tomorrow—the school-children. Thus will a double purpose be served: an educative campaign of lasting benefit and a quicken-ing of household interest in the city's business affairs. To awaken thoughts of expansion and progressiveness in a department of civic life so far removed from actual business circles would be a work well begun. Last Nght.
