

Thus spake Gonzathustra

by B.S. COOKE

Rejected SUTV star, Gord Stamp has decided to open a new campus nightclub after being inspired by a recent Enquirer feature. He has some great talents lined up for the grand opening. "Yeah, like we've got lots of beer and some women and some more beer and more women," he said. Sources close to Stamp say he's asked his long-time companion, Suzanne Bizon to be the feature attraction. Bizon, a staunch feminist, when questioned about this seemingly contradictory action, said "Hey, I've been oppressed for years, so take it off, eh?"

Don Millar, confessed Trotskyite and pseudo-student, has recently purchased a palatial mansion overlooking Peter Loughheed's bedroom window. He showed it off at an elegant affair last week, at which stargazers could have spotted such notables as Elise Gaudet, a self-confessed fashion victim, and Keith Krause, the star of "The Incredible Receding Hairline," which was a box office flop.

Robert Greenhill, star of the new hit SUTV show, says his career has soared ever since he read the book Dress For Suckness. "I owe everything to John Molloy; where would I be without the knowledge that it's OK to pair a pinstriped suit with a pink and purple polka-dot tie and red punk shoes?"

Teresa Gonzales, star of Let's Make A Censorship Board, asked yesterday, "Is there life after Cottle?" When asked about the tuition fee hike, she replied, "It's all relevant when it happens, right?"

Confessed heterosexual, Wayne Gretzky, has been admitted to hospital with what doctors term "self-professed perfectionitis," characterized by an inflammation of the head. An anonymous doctor said "It's certainly terminal." Hordes of the athlete's fans jammed the hospital looking for ways to help their idol. Several people offered to insult him for hours on end, or as long as it took in order to cure him of his affliction. L.A. King fans were prominent in this field. Doctor assured the Enquirer that Wayne's disease wouldn't affect the whiteness of his teeth, and he would be back on the ice in no time.

James Horsman, Minister of Advanced Ignorance and his latest fling, Lisa Walter, have had a lovers' spat. She was seen storming from their abode screaming "After six months of futile attempts, I'll never go to bed with the Minister, if he offers again."

To celebrate the pre, pre, pre pre-opening party for the new liquor licence for Dewey's, Myer Horowitz and Phil "Dewey" Soper went for "a" beer. Of course, they couldn't stop at one, and had to be forcefully removed from the premises, three semesters later.

Teresa Gonzales and Olivia Butti, coauthors of Liberation From the Girdle are holding a seminar next week on "How To Make Over-size Pant Suits A Part of Your Wardrobe."

Former, ex, almost, close-but-no-cigar SU President, Mikey Walker has decided to accept the offer as an associate professor in political science. Some of his future lectures include "How to Lose 23 Friends in 6 Weeks," and "How to Have a Green Thumb on a Red Fist."

The Russians are coming, the Russians are...

"It's the Russians," says separatist Gordon Kesler fool a top expert.

What else could explain the fabulous Oilers giving away a five-goal lead to L.A.?

How else could enough Albertans to win public office?

Why else would the Queen not come to Canada except on the Moscow-inspired pretense of the silly Argentinian crisis?

But top Soviet experts have a different explanation. "It's Reagan."

ENQUIRER stops slaughter

The PHILLIPINE ENQUIRER, a high-circulation gossip-and-sensation magazine in that country, has rallied 236,000 signatures in a petition protesting the barbaric western custom of slaughtering helpless cattle to be turned into food for the shameless populace.

The magazine says, "The brutal practice of clubbing, stabbing and strangling cattle to death is enough to make a civilized Filipino sick to his stomach. Certain animals like fish and dogs were meant to be eaten, but cattle and horses are clearly meant to be draft animals for plowing and drawing wagons. The cruel "gourmets" of the west are perpetrating a totally unacceptable outrage."
