

Article 20.

(1) Finland undertakes to co-operate fully with the United Nations in order to ensure that Germany may not be able to take any action outside German territory tending towards or facilitating her rearmament.

(2) Finland undertakes not to acquire or manufacture civil aircraft which are of German or Japanese design or which embody major assemblies of German or Japanese manufacture or design.

(iv) Acceptance of Allied Inspectorate

By the terms of the Armistice, Finland accepted an Allied Control Commission whose task was to see that the terms of the Armistice were punctually and accurately fulfilled. The powers of the Commission were as follows:

The Control Commission shall have the right to receive from the Finnish authorities all information it requires for the fulfillment of the above-mentioned task.

In the event of discovery of any violation of the above-mentioned articles of the Armistice agreement the Control Commission shall make appropriate representations to the Finnish authorities in order that proper steps may be taken.

The Control Commission may, through its officers, make the necessary investigations and the collection of information it requires.

The Control Commission shall be established in Helsinki.

Members of the Control Commission, and equally its officers, shall have the right to visit without let or hindrance any institution, enterprise or port, and to receive there all information necessary for their functions.

The Control Commission shall enjoy all diplomatic privileges, including the inviolability of person, property and archives, and it shall have the right of communication by means of cipher and diplomatic courier.

The Control Commission shall have at its disposal a number of aircraft, for use of which the Finnish authorities shall grant all necessary facilities.

When the peace treaty has been signed, the Control Commission will probably be superseded by a small Inter-Allied Military Inspectorate which presumably will possess the same powers as the Control Commission.

(v) War Graves

The Allied Governments may require Finland to reaffirm existing agreements regarding war graves of Allied nationals in Finland and accept clauses providing for Allied war cemeteries in Finland on the lines of those imposed on Turkey in the Treaty of Lausanne. This question will be largely a question of interest to the Soviet Union in view of the nature of the war.
