

Never in the years that had gone had there been such silence between them.