A Physician's Testimony for Labatt's Ale

"We find that the ale uniformly and well agreed with the patients, that it stimulated the appetite, and thereby increased nutrition. The taste, likewise, is always highly spoken of. In nervous women, we found that a glass at bedtime acted as a very effective and harmless hypnotic."—SUPERINTENDENT OF LARGE U. S. HOSPITAL.

THE GRACE OF PATIENCE.

No Christian grace is more needed and more difficult to attain than the grace of patience—that patience that abides God's time in all things. Paul declares that we "need patience," and even exhorts us to be "patient in tribulation." To be patient in suffering, in sorrow, in persecution, in all the unpleasant things that overtake us, waiting for the clearing away of the "dark and cloudy day," is no easy task. Hence the need of cultivating this grace. We are commanded to let patience "have her perfect work," which is to work for us experience, and experience hope. So the end of patience is the development of one of the Christian graces and the establishment of hope anchored in Christ produces character and the looking for the coming glory when He shall appear. David said: "I waited patiently for the Lord; and He inclined unto me; and heard my cry."—Rev. A. W. Ballinger.

THE USEFUL BARN OWL.

A family of barn owls will number from three to seven birds. It is hard to believe what an amount of vermin a family of owls will consume. An old owl will capture as much or more food than a dozen cats in a night. The owlets are always hungry. They will eat their own weight in food every night, and more, if they can get it. A case is on record where a half-grown owl was given all the mice it could eat. It swallowed eight, one after the other. The rapid digestion of birds of prey is shown by the fact that in three hours the little glutton was ready for a second meal, and swallowed four more mice. If this can be done by a single bird, what effect must a whole family of owls have on the vermin of a community?

It would be difficult to point out a more useful bird than the barn owl in any farming country. Like many other birds, it deserves the fullest protection, but man is often its worst enemy.—"American Birds."
