The Mayflower

The following poem is from a correspondent in the Annapolis Spectator, who says it was written about, or in the tenth decade, of the last century, but the author is unknown.

Acadia's Mayflower

The red rose of England, the shamrock of Erin,
And Scotia's proud thistle are symbols of power;
But the emblem fidelity loves to appear in
Is beauty's own blossom, Acadia's Mayflower.

How dear to our hearts, when with dew drops impregnated,
It peeps through the snow-wreath that mantles it o'er;
Oh! never has a summer set forth such a herald,
As beauty's own blossom, Acadia's Mayflower.

At home, in the forest, our forefathers found it,
Wherever the Micmac had planted his bow;
Their children have adorned their friendship's espousal,
This blossom, Acadia's Mayflower.

Fair gem of the West! with what rapture we view it,
Bloom round us in peace; and, if battle should lower,
The blood of ten thousand brave hearts would bedew it,
Ere tyrant's should tramp on 't, Acadia's Mayflower.

Green be thy leaf, lovely floweret for ever,
—And distant, far distant, thy scent-fading hour,
And the last step of time be the signal to sever
The shrine from its idol, Acadia's Mayflower.

The red rose of England, the shamrock of Erin,
And Scotia's proud thistle are symbols of power,
But the emblem fidelity loves to appear in
Is beauty's own blossom, Acadia's Mayflower.

The Canadian Order of Foresters

This purely Canadian fraternal benevolent and insurance society was organized in 1879 and now has a membership of upwards of 40,000, distributed in every province of the Dominion, to which its operations are confined. The society gives insurance to its members in policies of $500, $1000, $1500 or $2000, the latter sum being the limit on any life. The premiums, payable monthly in advance, are as follows:

Table with columns: Between the On On On, ages of, $500 $1000 $1500 $2000. Rows: 18 to 25, 25 to 30, 30 to 35, 35 to 40, 40 to 45.

After paying upwards of one million and three-quarters in death claims the Order had a surplus in the insurance department of $2,001,000 at the end of January last, all of which is invested in gilt-edged securities in Canada, or is on deposit in the best monetary institutions of the country. Not a dollar of the surpluses collected for the insurance fund is or has been used for the expenses of management.

The death rate per 1000 of membership in 1898 was 4.2, and for 1899, 4.43, and since the organization of the society, the average death rate has been only 4.92.

The Sick and Funeral Benefit Branch is a very popular department and upwards of 22,000 of the members of the society are participating in this feature of the order. The benefits are $3 per week the first two weeks of illness, and $5 per week for the following ten weeks, altogether $56 during any one year, besides a funeral benefit of $50. In case of continued illness $5 is paid each year in sick benefits. The fees, monthly in advance, are as follows:

Table with columns: Between 18 and 25 years, 25 and 30, 30 and 35, 35 and 40, 40 and 45. Rows: 25 cents, 30, 35, 40, 45.

During the year 1900 over $65,000 were paid out in sick and funeral benefits, and $195,000 in death benefits. All physically and morally qualified males, between the ages of 18 and 45 years, who are not disqualified on account of occupation, are accepted for membership.

For further particulars enquire of the officers or members of the Order of Foresters.

I am told that the nationalization of the telegraph systems of Canada is to come up this session. If the nationalization principle is once begun it will not be long until it has spread over the whole field of public franchise. There is no reason why we should not have a national telegraph system as well as a postal system—and if the carrying of letters and transmission of telegrams, why not the carrying of passengers and of freight? The twentieth century will see many of the franchises now owned and operated by the Governments Federal and Provincial, and by the different municipalities. And when that time comes it is to be hoped that public business will be conducted more on the lines of private business. If any private institution were run as our Government would be in the bankrupt court twice in a year.—Events Ottawa.

THIS HAPPENS FREQUENTLY IN NEWSPAPER WORK

A newspaper man was asked, says an exchange, to publish an article roasting a citizen. Certainly, he said to the caller, what shall I say? He was furnished with an outline of what was wanted, and wrote an article that was a scorcher. That's splendid, exclaimed the friends delightedly, when the article was read to him. That's right; that'll make his old hair crinkle! All right, said the editor, let me see—what are your initials? Good heavens, said the citizen, you are not going to sign my name to that! Why not? asked the editor. I wouldn't have anyone know I had anything to do with that for the world. I cannot afford to get into a scrap with my neighbors. The editor smiled benevolently and said, Why should I mix up in a scrap that does not concern me? Why should you expect me to assume the blame for the publication of an article to which you are afraid to sign your name? The man stopped his paper and went away mad!

It is useless to urge me, Mr. Canokis, said the Boston girl, firmly, yet with infinite sadness. I am not insensible to the many good qualities you possess, but I feel I could never love a man who accents demagogical on the second and penultimate syllables.—Chicago Tribune.

The Helpful Hen
The city boy in the country also has experiences. The Portland Argus tells of a little lad, who by spending a summer on a farm, learned many things.

It was a new experience for the little fellow, and everything was delightfully unfamiliar. He found out for the first time that hens made eggs and this knowledge filled him with the desire to see one of these at work.

Being a patient waiter, the lad finally had his wish gratified, and exultantly seizing the product of the scolding fowl, he marched into the house with his prize.

Let me have it, said the farmer's wife, and I'll cook it for your dinner. Oh, I can't! The hen cooked it all right, replied Master Carl. It's warm.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat; and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample. Its agreeable taste will surprise you.
