Saturday's issue of The London Free Press is one of the largest handsomest souvenir | numbers that have ever reached The Planet's sanc-

The Free Press is an unquestioned leader in the west and is rapidly forging to the front as one of Canada's best daily newspapers. The special Old Boys' issue also commemorates the bi-centenial of The Free Press and we heartily congratulate our esteemed and enterprising contemporary on its achievement.

THE EDITOR'S TROUBLES.

The troubles of the country editor are illustrated in this plaintive apology of the Waukomis (Okla.) Hornet : "Don't be disappointed if the paper is not better than usual, or not so good this week, as the old king 'Horncet' has been away most of the time, trying his hand at the state business and the younger 'Hornet' has had his hands full in the mechanical department. When dad went away he left copy enough for two issues, with instructions to cut all that was objectionable to the readers that called, and he had barely got out of town till the office was overrun with readers that wanted to see the proofs, and the slashing began. We saved a litthe out of the wreck, and place it before you without further apology.

A CONTRAST.

The treatment meted out to ex-Auditor-General McDougall by the Finance Minister may be a victory for Hon. Mr. Fielding, but one mus hope that it can afford him little satisfaction in the contemplation. Mr. McDougall's record is before the country. He was the appointee of a Liberal Premier, who was glad to have a man on guard in days when, as he confessed, he was obliged to use a shot gun; his services were appreciated by successive Conservative administrations; but it remained for the new Liberal ministry, having tired of his watch upon improrer expenditures, to make his official life such that he could not longer endure the strain and having "compelled him to volunteer" his resignation accept it and superannuate him upon the smallest legal allowance The request for the addition of extra years, fortified by considerations of the value of his services and the large savings he effected for the country were ignored, not answered, by a Cabinet which had just shown its contempt for public opinion by raiding the treasury to the extent of half a million, roundly speaking, to satisfy the leech cry for extra indemnity. If it has been the thought of the Finance Minister that he would convince the country of the Government's economic strain by this small business, or wipe out the shame of the salary grab and annuities for ex-Cabinet Ministers, he will live, we trust, to learn that the meanness of this act will only serve to accentuate the blunder-one is tempted to write corrupt act of voting the extra $1,000 to every member of the Commons and the Senate. There is an honest yeomanry in the counties that would as heartily approve of generous treatment of such a faithful servant as Mr. McDougall, after twenty-seven years devoted labor as it will mark its condemnation of the recent increase in the sessional indemnity, alias salary grab.

GOVERNMENT AND THE GLOBE, Toronto Mail.

It is obvious that the Governmen regards the Globe as a factor it need not consider. The organ can be induced to support anything. This is a bad state of affairs. But the more deplorable feature of the situation is the circumstance that in the mad rush for plunder the Government will, rush for plunder the Government willfirst disregard and then "nandle" its section of the press. This indicates that we have no protection against stealing. If the Liberal press would stand out against public theft and ope pose the thieves wrong-doing would be rendered difficult. But with these

Why furnaces crack in Summer.

In the old fashioned hotwater heaters with wide, flat surfaces, the spec finds splendid resting place. A samper and brush jams soot into the interstice between the water sections. There is cakes and hardens, absorbs meisture then it expands, and vou have a cracked waterpost. If you have a 'Bison' hotwater heater you won't have any furnace troubles. There are no flat soot collecting surfaces in the 'Bison'—no crevices where soot can lodge; there will be no cracked waterposts, no delays, no mess, no plumbers' bills.

EASTER CUSTOMS.

Ourious Observances at the Past and Present In England.

Some of the old Easter custom; in England are curiously barbaric, and even at the present time the observance of this particular festival is surcounded with more or less superstition, just enough to lend to it the charm of nystery.

Tweetieth century maidens oright yellow garters, secure in their pelief that they will be engaged before the year ends. Others give their tresses "a hundred strokes three times" with the brush while thinking intently of their heart's desire. And who does not take good care to wear their new things on Easter day?

Among the earliest of Easter cus-toms are the following:

At Queen's college, Oxford, a herring placed by the cook to simulate a man on horseback is set on a corn salad and brought to the table. This is supposed to represent a red herring riding away on horseback and is the last vestige of the once popular pageants of rejoicing for the end of the Lenten fast. It was erstwhile a habit in English towns for the boys after the Easter service to run into the street and snatch the buckles from the shoes of the girls whom they were able to catch. Easter Monday, however, it was turn about, and the women chased the men. If the men refused to pay a sixp happened to wear boots the tried to snatch their hats, and to recover a hat cost a sixpence. In some old towns great cakes were
