The New Land District

The new land district, which will be known as the Peace River district, will include, roughly speaking, the square of Alberta north and west of Athabasca Landing. The exact southern boundary is the 69th township which is three townships north of the Landing. The district extends to the east as far as range 4, west of the 4th and at the 85th township, the east boundary extends to the 5th meridian itself. The district also takes in the 3,500,000 acres in British Columbia, the centre of which is Fort St. John. This section is included as it is most easily reached through Alberta.

A distinctive feature in connection with the colonization of the Last Northwest will be the opening up on May 24th, for filing claims, of the Peace River Landing and Spirit River settlements. The settlements have recently been surveyed into river lots of all sizes and shapes.

The Peace River settlement is about two miles long by half a mile wide, and the Spirit River settlement is about double the size. Each has between one and two hundred squatters, mostly halfbreeds.

After the opening for filing of these settlements, all the present holders are notified by the Dominion lands office and they are given six months to file before any outside person has an opportunity to make an entry.

The delayed elections for Alberta Legislature in Peace River and Athabasca are both to be contested, despite certain predictions, though all those in the field are supporters of the government. In the former constituency Mr. J. K. Cornwall will oppose the former member, Mr. T. A. Brick, and in the latter Mr. J. L. Cote is the opponent of Mr. W. F. Bredin, who is seeking re-election.

The Daylight Saving Act

A bill is now before the House of Commons which is called "The Daylight Saving Act." Its object is to put the clocks ahead one hour from the last day of April until the last day of October in each year. Then on November 1st the clocks would be put back one hour and remain so until the last day of April. If this Act passes it will not come into force for one year after passing.

This Act would put the town and the country on a more even footing with regard to the hours for rising and retiring. The farmers are not likely to rise any earlier than they do now, but the townspeople will rise an hour earlier, and, of course, stores, offices and factories will close an hour earlier.

The early summer morning is the best part of the day, as those of us who have been in the habit of rising early can testify. It does seem folly to lie in bed for two or three hours after sunrise, and then burn oil or gas for another hour or so every evening.

It will be more healthful as well as economical to rise the hour earlier, and we are in full accord with the movement.

The Wicked Bachelor

The suggestion that bachelors should be taxed is cropping up again and is being advocated with some fierceness. Some people say that bachelors should be taxed at 25 for the crime of refusing to support somebody else's daughter, but the majority seem to hold that 35 is the time at which to begin and that the tax should be progressive, so that at 50 a man shall either marry or starve. This taxing out of existence is the panacea of the new tyranny, for it also, it will be remembered, advocated to cure those who have the impertinent intelligence to earn or possess more than their fellows. But if race suicide is to be prevented, the next step must be to penalize all who have no children, and thus no one will be able to call his soul his own. But taxation is not the only peril which besets the unhappy bachelor. He is to be deprived of the title of "Mr." which is to be the appellation of the married man, as "Mrs." is that of the married women. The new women of Chicago are set on this reform and they have persuaded Senator Samuel Etleston who appears to be a real Martin Chuzzlewit, to bring in a bill making it a penal offence for a married man to apose as unmarried. Unfortunately, no one can hit on the masculine for "Miss." Why not call a man "Bachelor" Jones, or simply "Bach" Jones, in the briefer American dialect?

We make a specialty of selling business lots. For this purpose we have secured some of the best property in Cardston and will divide to suit purchaser. We have a few lots left in the Beazer corner, the Frank Snow corner, the W. O. Lee corner, Mrs. Messenger's corner, Bert Cask's house and lot and all of the lots in Mr. Barker's Addition. Good time to secure you a town lot now before another Rail Road comes in. See W. O. Lee and Co.
