RHEUMATISM CURED. I certify that I was afflicted with a violent Rheumatic pain in the small of my back, which entirely disabled me, so that I could not get up without the greatest pain and effort; nor could I walk without a cane, and but very little with it.

THE International Journal, Devoted to the Commercial, Literary, and Social Interests of the United States and the British North American Colonies.

THE mutually important and rapidly increasing commerce and social intercourse between the United States and the neighboring British Colonies, called for the "International Journal" into existence nearly a year ago; and the proprietors gratefully acknowledge a liberal assistance in their efforts to give it permanency and influence.

Having closely in view the onward progress of the Colonies, we have watched with feelings of pride the advances they have made in solid improvement during the year just closed; but there is a wide field and a fair way open for further strides in the march of progress; and, fully impressed with the importance of the press in its influence, we wish to reach the side of every family, and engage their attention, freely in a friendly conversation on those important interests which so much affect their welfare, some of which have been, and still are, commanding the attention of the leading minds in England and America.

Our past course in this respect has been such as to give us a friendly conversation on those important interests which so much affect their welfare, some of which have been, and still are, commanding the attention of the leading minds in England and America.
