Local and Special News.

On Sunday, April 19th, the Feast of the Patronage of St. Joseph, the following letter from the Cardinal-Archbishop of Westminster was read in all the churches of his Archdiocese.

Reverend and Dear Fathers and Dear Children in Jesus Christ—Our Divine Lord revealed the power of His death and passion, which the world in the words which He spoke the last time He was in the Temple, before His Passion: "Unless the grain of wheat fall into the ground and die, it remaineth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." (St. John, xii, 24). It is clear that He spoke of Himself, and of His death and passion, which has redeemed mankind. He spoke of Himself as the Priest who was to save the world: "The Good Shepherd giveth His life for His sheep." And in this He declared that all who share His priestly office ought also to be ready to lay down their lives for the salvation of the world. "If a pastor will not lay down his life for his flock, how will he ever lay his life?" Such a man, he says, is not a pastor, but a hireling, and he will not be with me when I come to judge the world; neither will such men ever win souls from sin to God.

Of all the Apostles, St. John alone fell asleep by natural death; all the others died by martyrdom. He was the beloved disciple, by a lifelong martyr's will, shared his Master's chalice. His heart was always ready for martyrdom. He was the first to lay down his life for his flock. He was the first to lay down his life for his flock.
