

Bazaar Opened by His Excellency the Governor.

LARGE CROWDS—BIG RECEIPTS.

At 3.30 p.m. yesterday the big bazaar in aid of the Church Ship Fund was opened by His Excellency the Governor, who on entering the C. L. B. Armoury with his suite was greeted with the National Anthem played by the C. L. B. band. The Lord Bishop then introduced the Governor in a graceful address and referring to the ceremony that he would ask His Excellency to perform in formally opening the fair, paid a glowing tribute to the ladies for their zeal and enthusiasm in working so indefatigably in the cause of the church. His Lordship then referred to the historic ship Larvock, which had played such a prominent part in the church work of Newfoundland in conveying ministers of the people to all parts of the island. The ship was 57 years old when lost on the West Coast and was the gift of Rev. Mr. Curling.

His excellency said he was pleased to have the privilege of opening a sale of work for such a noble object. In visiting different parts of the island the past summer he had conversed with many clergymen who regretted their isolation from the Head of the Diocese. At certain times important questions arose that required the Lord Bishop's guidance and advice. For the want of a church ship this could not be done last season. Judging from the earnest and enthusiastic work now being done by the ladies their want would be soon supplied and a good ship provided to carry on God's work. They would provide a ship that would be a credit to the Diocese. His Excellency then referred to the beauty and skillful arrangement of the stalls and congratulated the ladies on the result of their work. He then declared the bazaar opened.

There was a large gathering present, made up of people of all denominations, clergy and prominent citizens, including Mayor Ellis, Chief Justice Horwood, Judge Johnson, Sir Edward Morris, Lady Morris and Lady Horwood. The buying of goods at the stalls then began and was kept up with vigor and enthusiasm till the closing hour, 10.30. The receipts amounted to $2,110. The fair will be continued to-night. ### Received Ugly Cut.

At dark yesterday as a little girl named Minnie Seymour, was driving across LeMarchant Road in an express which went rapidly, one of the wheels went over a stone causing the equipage to lurch, and she was pitched out striking the ground with great force. She was dazed from the blow, and received a nasty cut on the back of the head from which blood flowed freely. Her brother, who was with her, drove her home where her parents bandaged the wound. She was also badly bruised and scratched about the face.

Burnt With Carbolic.

While a lad named Harris was engaged with another cleaning out the basement of a house on Circular Road yesterday he came across a number of bottles, some of which were partly filled with medicine and various liquids left there for many months. One contained carbolic acid, which spilled over the boy's hands when he drew the cork and burned him so badly that he had to proceed home and get the members attended to.

Lying in the Cove.

Constables Lee and Pitcher found a fisherman of Western Shore asleep in Steer's Cove last night under the influence of alcohol. They provided a cab and drove him to the station, where on being searched a sum of $85 was found on him. It was fortunate for him that the police found him.

Placentia Notes.

Messrs. J. Bindon and W. F. O'Reilly went to Cape Shore, on Monday, 19th, to spend a week shooting over Lear's Cove grounds. They came back on Sunday, 25th, satisfied with the trip, and having some two hundred birds.

There were four steamers in port on Saturday.—The S. S. Coban, discharging a cargo of coal to the R. N. Co., the S. S. Argyle, arriving from the Bay to await to sail on Monday to the Westward, the S. S. Portia, landing mails and passengers from the Westward, the S. S. Minoura, landing freight from Balne Johnston's.

The Captains of the Brilliant and Calypso who were here shooting on the Cape Shore, went to town on Saturday; Mr. Edward Sinnott went out the preceding day.

Our new ferry (the improved system) is at present lying up for want of an engineer. She is now over a week moored between Murphy's and P. T. O'Reilly's wharf, and I should think that an engineer should be got in that time, for I don't think that we will have to send to a foreign country to get one. The old black punt is running the service while the other is laying up.

Rev. Father Douthy came by train on Thursday from Montreal via St. John's where he had been attending the Congress there as Archbishop Howley's chaplain.

Rev. Monsignor Reardon arrived here by train on Saturday. He was also attending the Congress as Archbishop Howley's Secretary. He preached on Sunday about his travels and told us all about the Congress. He was listened to with rapt attention by the large congregation present who were delighted to hear of it. He said at the conclusion: "No human tongue can explain this Congress as it happened, for one would want to be there himself to see it."

Constable P. J. O'Neil was a passenger by Saturday's inward train. He is going to the Cape Shore in the interest of the Constabulary. He left on Monday with the mailman for St. Bride's. During his short stay here he put up at the "Blenheim House." He is only a young man, and his great manly form and soldierly walk shows that he is a great addition to the force. He met many friends while in Ye Ancient Capital.—He will, no doubt, make a great name for himself on the Cape Shore. May every success crown his efforts in the near future is the wish of his many friends.

How Fleming Died.

Men belonging to the Rosina, which arrived here from Sydney a couple of days ago, say that Patrick Fleming of the Atilla, to whose death the Telegram alluded recently, passed away on the voyage north 10 days after leaving Brazil. Though feeling unwell on the voyage down to Pernambuco he continued to work on board and did not give up until a couple of days after the vessel had left on the return. Mr. John Fleming, of Barter's Hill, brother of the deceased, will look after his clothing and the money due him when the vessel arrives.

Here and There.

GONE TO THE RAILWAY.—About forty men who arrived here yesterday from the Southern Shore left by the evening's train to go to work on the Bonavista Branch.

TROUBLE ON THE USK.—The seamen on the S. S. Usk created a disturbance on board last evening. The mate had to call the police to the leaders who were half seas over.

PLAY TO-NIGHT.—The Drama "Octoroon" will be played at the T. A. Hall to-night in aid of St. Patrick's Building Fund. The Governor and the Archbishop will attend.

BUSINESS DELAYED.—Owing to the weather being unfit for handling fish trade along the water front is held up. There are about 40 fish schooners now in port waiting to discharge.

HARVEST HOME.—The Harvest Home Service will be held in the basement of George St. Church this evening. Speakers will be Messrs. H. E. Cowan, J. S. Currie and Rev. J. W. Bartlett.

FIRST AID CLASS.—Dr. Macpherson started another "First Aid" Class at the Court House Building last night. He will also form up a class for juveniles under sixteen, as soon as there are about 20 applicants.

The Cochrane Athletic Association will hold a Fruit Soiree in the basement of Cochrane Street Church, on Thursday, 29th inst., at 8 p.m. Good programme arranged. Tickets 25 cts., to be had from the members or at the door.—sep28.11

St. Pierre Fishery Not a Failure.

And No Exodus is Threatened.

The report that one hundred families were leaving St. Pierre owing to the failure of the shore fishery in the French colony is incorrect. There were only ten or fifteen passengers on the last trip of the French mail steamer to this port, and they were by no means fishermen or fishermen's families. So far as people leaving St. Pierre in the fall is by no means an unusual thing. After the fishing season a large number come to Cape Breton to seek employment in the mines and elsewhere, so that the report was circulated in certain quarters giving the impression that the population of St. Pierre was being depleted, is a long way from being correct. The shore fishery was not quite as good as it was first anticipated, but the prices obtained by the local shore boats was away ahead of what it was in former years and almost compensated the tollers for the shortage in the catch. The price paid the local boats was $5.20 a quintal dry fish. Last year the price was $4.75. All the schooners this year from St. Pierre did well on the banks. In fact it was the best year they experienced, and the price paid for the green article is $3.80, which is equal to $5.50 per quintal dried, a price that is making the future a bright one for the schooner fishermen, and when it means prosperity for the latter it means well for the St. Pierre merchant and citizens in general.—Sydney paper.

DILLON COLLECTION.—Messrs. Bennett and Kennedy were around again to-day collecting for Mrs. Dillon and her family. They took in all the stores on the south side of Water Street.

Found His Money.

Thomas Drover, who fishes at Logy Bay, and who reported to the police, and who had notices in the press of the loss of $80, nearly all his summer's wages, recovered it yesterday to his great relief. The money was contained in a can, and last night as the woman was dressing her children's bed she found it tied in the corner of the coverlet. How it came to be there is not known, but it is believed by Drover that it was hidden there by some member of the family.

Draperies and Pearls.

Many years ago women wore extensive draperies of pearls in the form of festoons. These were bought by the yard and were considered quite the proper adjunct for an evening gown to be worn for any occasion. They were also worn on elaborate afternoon gowns, used, of course, for indoor occasions.

This fashion promises to come back in full swing. Women are wearing ropes of very good-looking composition pearls across the front of the bodice, around the arms as sleeves and even around the waist as girdles.

There is no pretence that they are real. Bear in mind that they are not worn as jewellery, but as gown trimming.

Rosettes or cabochons or flower shapes are made of these pearls in different sizes, and these are used to offset pearl festoons or hold them in place.

Twenty years ago it was quite the fashion to trim wedding gowns with quantities of seed pearls, more or less large, and it is among the probabilities that this fashion will return.

One is not quite sure who started this fashion, but the balance of doubt goes towards the new Russian dancer of the season in Paris. She it was who began wearing pearls of every size as trimming to her hats and gowns, and the fashion designers, quick to take up any new idea, began putting festoons of pearls on the gowns.

Boat Springs a Leak.

While returning from the fishing grounds yesterday two men, Keasey and English, found that the seams of their boat had opened and that she was leaking badly. They were rowing up between the Northern Head and Cuckhold's Cove, and in attempting to stop the leak with their caps the hole opened more and water poured in at an alarming rate. They increased their efforts and seeing a boat in the distance called for help. Mr. Jno. Walsh, the occupant, rowed to the rescue and was just in time to save the men, whose boat was practically sinking under them. But for Walsh's prompt aid both might have been drowned.

Water For South Side.

Inspector Bambrick is now supervising the construction of a new reservoir on the South Side, east of the Dundee room. The reservoir is to be of concrete and will be capable of containing 800 gallons of water. The water will be taken from a well up on the side of the hill and led down through 60 feet of pipe of two inches diameter, while a tank near the reservoir will distribute it to the residents. For years past the South Side people often suffered severely for the want of a proper water supply and often water had to be brought over to them in funcheons. This will be obviated in future.
