The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Madam?

"Well, not so you'd notice it. Not with that Madam. Why, she was the kindest lady I ever worked for. She wanted the work done and done right, but if she had any fault to find she had a way of doing it that made you kind of ashamed instead of angry, and she was that quick to tell you about it when she was pleased. I took real comfort in trying to do things extra nice. She never left the children get in my way in the kitchen, and if they nattered about me she always listened to me too. She was so good to me when I was sick, bringing up my meals and medicine and hot water bottles and magazines off their own library table for me to read, that it almost makes me cry to think of it. And she had the sweetest way with her with everybody. I never heard her say an ugly word while I was there to anybody, not even 'speering that ugly old brute of a man of hers. That's the only fault I had to find with her. A flat iron over the head, that she put up with too much from him. A flat iron over the head, and then might have learned him no sense."

To that last formula for increasing marital felicity, Mame, who, together

No, Mame, if the man of the house hadn't been so mean that it fairly hurt him to see me eat, and if he hadn't always been a month or so late with my wages, I'd never left that place yet? "Then you didn't scrap with the madam?"

"Well, tell me, dear lady, who so graphically describes to your friends the faults of that maid of yours, just what do you suppose her unvarnished description of you to her friends is."

"She knows you well—no one better—not even your husband and children, for their clearness of vision is obscured by their relationship to you. Try, then, to imagine her description of you to some friend upon the trolley car. Could she testify, 'I never heard her say an ugly word all the time I was there,' or 'She was that quick to tell you about it when she was pleased that I took real comfort trying to do things extra nice for her?'"

"Don't you think on the whole it's quite a suggestive line of thought?"

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find himself weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

Dr. PIERRE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medicinal roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood.

World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. K.V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N.Y.

Household Notes.

The old-fashioned way for removing grease from varnished furniture was to take a shovel pretty hot and rub it over and about three inches above the spot. The heat will cause the grease to disappear.

In the handle of a table knife, because loose, make a cement of one part sealing wax and two parts resin, melt together and, while warm, dip the handle of the knife into the mixture. Replace immediately.

Dredging for a Hundred Millions.

At the bottom of Vigo Bay, on the coast of Spain, lies a field of galleons, and $100,000,000 in gold, ingots and silver bars. In 1702, after escaping the perils of buccaneer and privateer frigate, this treasure fleet went down in a home port, amid smoke and flame and the thunder of guns manned by English and Dutch tars under that doughty admiral of Queen Anne, Sir George Rooke. It was the deadliest blow ever dealt the mighty commerce of Spain during those centuries when her ruthless grasp was squeezing the New World of its riches.

There, indeed, is the prize par excellence for the treasure seeker of to-day who dreams of doubloons and pieces of eight. No could pirate hoard have a more blood-stained adventurous history than these millions, rapped by the tide of Vigo Bay, which were won by the sword and lost in battle. During the last two hundred years many efforts have been made to recover the freightage of this fleet, but the bulk of the treasure is still untouched, and $100,000,000 or more awaits the man with the cash and the ingenuity to evolve the right salvage equipment. At work now, in Vigo Bay is the latest of these explorers, an Italian, Galeazzo Eino, by name, inventor of a submarine boat, a system of raising wrecks and a wonderful machine called a hydro-scope for seeing and working at the bottom of the sea.

The Invaluable Lemon.

There are few fruits which contain so many domestic virtues as the lemon. The extracted juice has soothing qualities for persons suffering from throat and chest troubles. One of the homeliest, but not on that account to be despised, remedies for a cold is to drink a glass of lemonade as hot and strong as it can be swallowed when in bed at night.

Birthdays of Gen. Booth

Salvation Army Leader at Eighty-Two Addresses Huge Meeting

London, April 11.—General Booth, head of the Salvation Army, celebrated his eighty-second birthday last night by addressing a huge meeting of his followers for an hour. Patti and the Burglar.

Among a collection of autograph letters in London, is one from Mme. Patti which relates to a visit paid by burglars to Craig-y-Nos. It contains the following: "I suppose the wretches heard that I had jewels and diamonds and imagined that I left them about loose in the house, always hanging up a few diamond necklaces in the hall with my hat and coat. However, it was an inspiration on my part, going upstairs just at that moment, and while in the corridor I began singing, which made them believe I was going into the room they were in, and consequently frightened them away. I knew my voice had done a great deal for me, but never expected it would save our house from being robbed."
