WHOM WILL YE? BARRABAS OR JESUS?

Do We Crucify Jesus To-Day by Indifference to His Principles?

THE PARALLEL.

Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart . . . and thy neighbour as thy self.

Whoso hath this world's goods and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?

For I was hungry and ye gave me no meat, I was thirsty and ye gave me no drink, I was a stranger and ye took me not in, naked and ye clothed me not . . .

Behold the hire of the labourers which have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth.

He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, shall surely come to want.

Take heed and beware of covetousness, for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things he possesseth.

Go, sell whatsoever thou hast and give to the poor . . . how hardly shall they that have riches enter into the Kingdom of God.

The Earth is the Lord's and the Fullness thereof.

Do good and lend, hoping for nothing again.

Do good and lend, hoping for nothing.

For if there come into your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment; and ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing and say unto him, sit thou here in a good place and say to the poor, stand thou there or sit here under my footstool. . . . Hath God not chosen the poor?

I know no previous instance in his ory of a nation's establishing a systematic disobedience to the first principles of its professed religion. The writings which we (verbally) esteem as divine, not only denounce the love of money as the source of all evil and as an idolatry abhorred of the Deity but declare manumission service to be the duty of the rich and the opposite of God's service; and whenever they speak of riches absolute and poverty absolute, declare woe to the rich, and blessing to the poor.—Ruskin.

See from His Head, His Sorrow and Love stow
Are we, by our words, helping to staunch the flow, or making the wounds bleed afresh?

THE BEEF TRUST.

By WALT MASON.

The foreign wrestlers seek this shore and say they've come to wade in gore. They want to show us what a botch is our great champion, F. Gotch. And Farmer Gotch rears up and cries: "Ere tackling me, dad bring your eyes, you'll have to throw this husky Turk—so shed your rage and get to work!" And then the foreign athletes stall, and say that isn't fair at all. "My dying granny," one explains, obtained my sacred promise that I'd meet no Turk upon the mat!" "Meet Mahmout!" thunders one, "indeed! I don't indorse his church or creed; his grammar's rotten and they tell that he can hardly read or spell." "I am," says one, "the whole blamed works at wrestling, but I won't meet Turks." They stripped poor Abdul of his crown and chased the old man out of town and made a burden of the lives of fifty-seven of his wives. I'd be indorsing such a game if I posed round for photographs, and hands out threats both loud and deep, and makes the sporting public weep. I'm tired of lions and their roars, the lions from the foreign shores, who show when they have gawled a few, they're only fit for rabbit stew.

General Election.

According to the pronouncement made in the House of Assembly by the Prime Minister, the Government have decided to advise His Excellency the Governor that the General Election be held in the Autumn of 1913.

The Fishermen's Protective Union through several of the members of the House of Assembly, have presented a large number of petitions asking that the election be held in the Autumn of this year. They argue that the life of the present Parliament will expire automatically in June 1913, and that as from that date to the date of the election the country will have no Parliament, and as a spring election is inconvenient, it is advisable that the election be held this year.

The Premier's contention is that as the life of the present Parliament does not expire until June of next year, it is quite in keeping with Constitutional practice and in every way more convenient for the election to be postponed to the date named by him.

One of the strongest arguments advanced against postponing the election before the Spring of 1913, at the latest, is that which points to the possibility of it becoming necessary to call the Legislature together between June and November of next year, to deal with anything in the nature of a crisis—which all must hope will not arise—and to the mere amateur in matters political the argument is a sound and reasonable one.

If the Government have the courage of their convictions—that the enormous benefits they have conferred on the country must commend them to popular favour—they need not hesitate at appealing to the electors at any time, even before the expiration of the full period allotted to them by Statute. If, on the other hand, they fear the result of an appeal to the country; there is every reason why they should hold on to office as long as possible.

The last three years have been a profitable period to many members of the People's Party; whether the people would say the same for themselves and the country could only be ascertained by asking them.

The turmoil and interference with business occasioned by elections does not commend these "picnics" to the ordinary sensible man, and once in four years is all too often for many. On the other hand there is such a thing as Vox Populi—in politics at any rate—whether it should be heeded or not is a matter of opinion; and the Government have given theirs:—Trinity Enterprise, March 30.

Dislocated His Shoulder.

While John Walsh was driving the Rennie Baking Co.'s express over Church Hill at 5.30 p.m. yesterday the vehicle struck a rut and the man was thrown with great force to the ground. He received a bad shaking up and suffered a dislocated shoulder. He was conveyed to the station by Head Sheppard and attended by Dr. Campbell who ordered him to Hospital. As the institution is filled with patients there was no room for the man who was then taken to his boarding house on Fleming Street.

Will Make Hair Grow

Every up-to-date woman should have radiant hair. There are thousands of women with harsh, faded, characterless hair, who do not try to improve it. ### NEW DRUMMER FOR NICKEL.

By the S. S. Bruce to-day there arrived from Montreal Mr. Fred Duprez, a young Canadian, who will be connected with the Nickel Theatre in the capacity of trap drummer and master of effects. Mr. Duprez has had considerable experience in his line of work, and is said to be very clever. He was at one time connected with Lyman H. Howe's famous travelogues, and travelled with that well known picture entertainment several seasons. He will, no doubt, sustain the high standard of excellence established by the Nickel musical combination.

A Woman Run Over.

Last night Ellen O'Donnell, an old woman, who is deaf and near-sighted, narrowly escaped being killed on New Gower Street. She started to cross the thoroughfare as Dr. Duncan's sleigh was being driven along at a rapid pace, and despite the shouts of warning uttered by Const. Nugent and the driver, before the latter could pull up the horse was upon her and she fell in under the animal. Those present thought she had been trampled to death, and her escape was a narrow one. She was severely bruised and was in a state of collapse from shock. She was taken to Dr. Campbell's surgery and treated by him and then conveyed home.

At Cochrane Street Church.

A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you and the entire family feeling good for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never grip or sicken.

Last night relatives of Albert George, aged 11, of Brazil's Field, reported at the police station that he had left his home Tuesday morning and did not return afterwards. He was seen on the South Side and it is thought might have gone to Bay Roberts in the Bonaventure as a stow-away as he has relatives over there. His friends are very anxious about him.
