Replies to Rev. Dr. Jones.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In a report of the Prohibition meeting held on Sunday night, I note in the Daily News of Monday that the Rev. Dr. Jones, as a citizen, stated that "those behind the anti-prohibition movement represented those who wished to get all the liquor they liked for their own use and not the decent-minded citizens."

This is so sweeping an assertion that I have waited till the Rev. gentleman had sufficient time to correct this statement if he were quoted in error. As he has made no denial, I take it he made the statement.

The Rev. gentleman said that he attended the meeting "as a citizen" and as such I will deal with his remarks. I want to tell Dr. Jones that as one who is behind the movement to seek a sane, sound common sense law regulating the sale of liquor, that I consider myself just as good a "decent-minded" citizen as any member of the Prohibition Committee, and that I am not trying to get all the liquor I want for my own use. I never drank and perhaps never will, and I strongly object to such public utterances on the part of men who posing as teachers of good morals, avail of every opportunity to misrepresent others who differ from them on the Prohibition question.

Free speech, as I take it, still the right of every person in this Colony, and if those of us who have the courage of our convictions, publicly differ from the Prohibition advocates, we have perfect liberty to do so. It seems to me that whilst the Prohibitionists are determined to exercise their rights in the premises, to the fullest, they are equally determined to refuse the same privilege to others.

There are thousands of "decent-minded" citizens with us in our fight for a just and equitable law, and all are just as determined as the writer to support a cause that will enable the people of this colony to regain, to some extent, their rights and privileges.

I for one, refuse to be beaten off the track by unwarranted aspersions and uncalled for insinuations, such as were thrown at me by some of the speakers at the College Hall on Sunday night last.

Yours truly, JOHN ST. JOHN.
St. John's, March 16, 1920.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Job, who were on a visit to the Old Country, are expected home by the Kyle due tomorrow.

Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, C.M.G., while in England last month, had conferred upon him the degree of Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons (F.R.C.S.), the highest surgical degree in the Empire. Congratulations.

Sir Robert Jones, the eminent bone specialist, who recently performed a successful operation on Capt. Cyril Carter, intends visiting Newfoundland and the Labrador during the coming summer; he will be the guest of Dr. Grenfell.

St. John's Man Says He Eats Anything, Now

Gains Ten Pounds and Feels Fine Once Taking Tanlac.

Yet another of the boys who returned from overseas with impaired health, but who has regained health and strength by taking Tanlac, is John LeDrew, of Plymouth Road, St. John's, Newfoundland. While in at M. Connors' Drug Store the other day he told the story of his recovery to the Tanlac representative.

"Ever since coming back from overseas, I have been troubled with a disordered stomach. For quite a year before taking Tanlac I was in a bad way. My stomach was in such a weakened condition that I could not retain anything scarcely in the way of food. I lost weight steadily and was getting very weak. I couldn't do any sort of heavy work, and even light work used to tire me out. I can tell you, my condition caused me a lot of worry. I tried dieting and took many different medicines but they failed to give me any relief."

"Then one day I read in the papers the statement of some one who had been bothered with stomach trouble just about like I was and who had been greatly helped by Tanlac, so I decided to give it a trial. I can't say that I noticed much improvement while taking the first two bottles, but I kept on taking it. After that I began to notice that my appetite was improving and that I could digest my food without difficulty. I can now eat anything that is put before me, even the heaviest kind of food. I have already gained ten pounds in weight and feel altogether better and stronger in every way. I used to be absolutely played out if I did any work at all, but now I am able to do my work with ease. Tanlac has been a godsend to me, and if this statement is the means of helping any one else who suffers as I did I shall feel well repaid for making it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John's by M. Connors, and by the leading Druggist in every town.—adv.

One for "Blue Puttee."

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—I wish to say a few words in answer to a letter which appeared in Tuesday's issue of the Daily Star, signed: "Blue Puttee." I would not think him a soldier, only he signed himself "B.P." which in itself does not class him with "Wellington or Kitchenener," although Pte. Milley, being of a quiet disposition; put to the test, he may be a better soldier than the man who signs himself Blue Puttee.

Regarding the question that soldiers conduct sheets, whether good or bad, should not appear in public; unless the press wants to introduce "Bolshevism" into Newfoundland. Is the same Blue Puttee trying to work a soft job out of the Government, or only "leaning on it," as he states other men are doing.

It is very hard for "every" soldier to be brilliant, when some few have enough "brilliance" for a battalion, and perhaps "energy" may be only a personal friend of "some few." Perhaps this same gentleman was a great example to the Newfoundland Regiment, if so, why not publish his conduct sheet, to show the veterans a good example in "civilian life."

For myself I don't see why Private Milley should not be granted a course as well as men who never crossed the "Herring Pond." Don't let the word B.P. think that I cannot go to a course. I am at present attending the C. H. school, and I may further add that I voice the opinions of the majority of soldiers and sailors attending school. Instead of one soldier going against another, would it not be better for us to say "United we Stand"? Hoping in the future that we will hear no more slander from our brother soldiers, I will close this short note, wishing Pte. Milley every success in the land of the Maple Leaf. Thanking you for valuable space in your paper, Mr. Editor, I remain,

Yours truly,

Advance Spring Styles in ENGLISH MILLINERY

Every Hat we are showing carries a message of the nearness of Spring. The new styles are not so much the change-of-the-season which always comes with the passing of the Winter as they are a complete change in every feature of model and material. With the war only a far-off echo, and the surety of peace and prosperity growing greater every day, the fashions of the coming season show a re-awakening of the desire for the beautiful, the youthful, and the gaily expressed creations of joyful design to which the makers of this Spring's millinery have responded with lavish use of dainty decorative handwork, and the delightful beauty in colourings and rich materials.
