

The Vote on Riel's Expulsion.
On the motion for Riel's expulsion, 53 from Quebec voted against it, 5 from Nova Scotia, 2 from New Brunswick, 3 from Ontario, 3 from Prince Edward's Island, 1 from Manitoba, and 1 from British Columbia—68 in all. The names were the same as those on the second vote on Mr. Holton's amendment, except that the seven who having voted for delay, having failed to obtain it, gave their third vote for expulsion. There was within nine of a full House. Only two Quebec members voted against Riel: Mr. Mackenzie, of Montreal, and Mr. Scriver, of Huntington. The great strength of the vote on his behalf came from that Province, but was not strong enough to effect anything in his favor. On the vote for amnesty there were 21 from Quebec, 3 from Nova Scotia, 1 from New Brunswick, 1 from Manitoba, and one from British Columbia.

Puslinch By-Law--Credit Valley Railway.
The vote on the sectional By-law for the Township of Puslinch, for granting a bonus of $10,000 to the Credit Valley Railway, was taken on Friday, when 15 voted for, and 155 against it.

Dodge Number Two.
In the last Parliament Mr. Dodge, of North York, became notorious for his foolish speeches, his wild antics and laughable capers when addressing the House, Dr. Orton, of Centre Wellington, has appropriated the cap and bells laid aside by the redoubtable Dodge when he gave up parliamentary life. There was a method in the Doctor's madness when he moved for the appointment of his famous committee of lawyers and doctors to right all the wrongs of the farmers, but in his speech on the question of Riel's expulsion the method seems to have disappeared, leaving only the insane weakness for talking behind. We learn from several correspondents that the Doctor when making that now immortal speech cut a most ridiculous figure. He even eclipsed the eccentricities of his great predecessor, Dodge No. 1, and has well earned for himself the appellation of Dodge No. 2, which is now given to him by both sides of the House. We are told that when the Doctor was airing his eloquence, and going through his antics, the members were literally convulsed with laughter, and the more they laughed the more he gesticulated and screamed out his lunatic. Mr. Blake and other leading speakers who followed cut him up terribly, and tore his senseless remarks to tatters. It is now set down by all the members that he has no equal in the House in his peculiar role, and Centre Wellington has the proud distinction of sending as its representative a man who is regarded by both sides as a political fool, and a sputter of bathos and balderdash.

Newspaper writers now-a-days have to exercise a care that their little editorial pleasantries are not altogether the emanations of a too vivid imagination. Following in the wake of the virtuous leader of Tory opinion, which diverts itself occasionally by a playful stab under the fifth rib" of an opponent, the editor of the Chatham Planet has got himself into trouble. He made some witty remarks in a recent issue at the expense of Mr. McKellar, whom he alleged to be mixed up in some questionable turf proceedings; but the little "tilt" will probably cost more than it is worth, as a Grand Jury has just brought in a true bill for malicious libel against the too appreciative editor, whose name is Mr. Rufus Stephenson. Hamilton Speciator and several other Tory journals please copy.

EGGS-ACTING.—The Legislature of Massachusetts has lately passed a law making it necessary that a dozen eggs weigh one and one half pounds. We approve of this and shall go for a law of that kind here. The hens have too long had their own way in this business of laying eggs, and have constantly defrauded the public. It is high time this outrageous monopoly was crushed.

A MODEL APPEAL.—We commend the following to those who wish to appeal against the unjust demands of their countrymen:—Notice of Appeal.—Take notice that I intend to appeal against this assessment for the following reasons, I was assessed too much last year so they thought they would do it the same again but I will let them know I put a gun to let them run over me as they did last year I am going to stick up for my right like Napoleon Bonapart Bold and undeviating grand gloomy & peculiar and suitable a perfect septic hermet reptile the solitude of my own originality and I aim a gun to be run over by no credulous lawless or infuriated rigidist that walks the face of God's foot-stool. And if you don't put my taxes at a reasonable rate I will spill the last drop of blood that sweetens warm and unrefined through those channels which God has created for noble purposes.

THE WILD IRISH.—In his memoirs of the great Indian mutiny, Sir Hope Grant tells the following capital story of an Irish regiment, the 53rd. "This regiment," says Sir Hope Grant, "is principally composed of Irishmen, were a fine looking set of fellows and usually good hands at fighting. Their discipline, however, was not by any means perfect, and it was difficult to keep them well in hand. They had been lying under a bank of a road which afforded but an inadequate protection, and had in consequence lost a good many men. All of a sudden, without a word from any of their officers, they rushed forward, and utterly heedless of all efforts to stop them, made their way into the toll-house, in a few minutes clearing out the enemy. The Commander-in-Chief was terribly annoyed, and riding up to the regiment, pitched into it well. But those wild Irishmen were incorrigible; whenever he began to speak, a lot of them exclaimed as loud as they could: "Three cheers for the Commander-in-Chief, boys!" and at last he himself was obliged to go away laughing.

Said Lord John Russell to Hume, at a social dinner, "What do you consider the object of legislation?" "The greatest good to the greatest number." "What do you consider the greatest number?" continued his lordship. "Number one, my lord," was the commoner's prompt reply.

From Ottawa.
Ottawa, April 17.
Mr. J. L. Palmer, the clerk in the post office who is suspected of having taken the Pope-Macdonald letter, has been suspended.

Riel can never take his seat in the House now, even were he elected, and his opponent, if he were to poll only one vote, would be declared duly elected, and entitled to the seat.
Deputations are here from Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and other places, to confer with the members of the Ministry concerning the sugar duties. This morning they had an interview the Minister of Finance.
The much-talked-of contract for the conveyance of mails on Lake Superior has not yet been awarded.
Writs for both South Oxford and Provencer are in preparation, and will be issued immediately. Riel's friends do not advise him to run for Provencer again, but to put up a man who will make way for him when it will be safe for him to run.
O'Donohue has offered to come before the Northwest Committee to prove the complicity of the Hudson Bay Company in Riel's rebellion.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
Ottawa, April 17.
The House at its afternoon session passed the Bill transferring the management of the Intercolonial Railway to the Government through its second reading, and through Committee.
Mr. Mackenzie briefly explained, and Sir John A. Macdonald expressed his concurrence in the provisions of the Bill. The New Brunswick Justice Bill was passed through Committee of the Whole.
The House went into Committee of Supply, and passed several of the estimates, with brief discussion.
At six o'clock the House adjourned.

Wool and Nurseries.
We paid a visit the other day to the above nursery, owned and worked by the Messrs. Gilchrist, and were surprised and pleased to notice that they had effected so many improvements in so short a time. The nurseries comprise about 15 acres of land, lying between a portion of the Scotch Church Glebe and W. G. & B. Railway, and a little way west of St. Joseph's Hospital. The land slopes to the South West. It has been thoroughly drained and cultivated, and is found to be well adapted for nursery purposes.
In addition to a choice apartment of fruit trees, we found on visiting the Greenhouse an immense variety of well grown and healthy plants—over 4000 in all, which are adapted for greenhouse and parlor culture. The Messrs. Gilchrist have made a specialty of this department, and have given great attention to the rearing of flowers. They make a fine display of geraniums, many of them being new double varieties, among which are a fine new pink, many handsome singles and doubles; also quite a stock of the variegated kinds—comprising some rare flowers—such as Sir Charles Napier, Avalanche, &c. Their assortment of bronzes is also well worthy of attention. They have also a very fine kind called Little Pet, with a flower nearly as large as the scarlet variety and very fragrant.
In fuchsias they have all the new varieties, both double and single—also varieties which flower freely during the winter. Their stock of other plants is also large, such as shrubby calceolaria, new varieties of roses, several kinds of ferns, coccinia—a fine fragrant wax flower—Fabiana imbricata—a fine parlor plant, besides a large assortment of plants for hanging baskets, bedding plants, Verbenas in great variety.
During the season they will have for sale vegetable plants, such as tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, &c.

The enterprising firm of J. & J. Livingstone, Listowel, are going into the tax business this year heavier than ever. The Stratford Beacon says that so great is the demand for imported seed that they intend procuring another large consignment at once. Farmers in want of seeds will do well to apply at the mills in Listowel at once.
