"Name's Bar-

beau, from Toledo. I think he's the goods." Clarke was right. The Pirates are playing the best baseball in the country today, and little Jap Barbeau is daily setting Pittsburg fans wild with joy. He plays third base, and his throws across the diamond, slow o and gentle, like a 22-calibre bullet, have sent lots of hopeful batters back to the bench talking to themselves. Some people said that Bill Armour had handed Clarke a lemon last fall. They'll own up now that they're pretty bum predictors. Wagner has made the little fellow his special charge, and the two chase around after hours in Wagner's machine, looking like Texas and
