

New Light On Retreat

English Correspondent Gives Some Startling Facts About Kuropatkin.

General Took Plenty of Time to Make Sure of His Own Escape.

Drunken Cossacks Committed Many Outrages on the Civilians.

LONDON, March 17.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Simirnodin, descriptive of the fighting around Mukden and the fall of Mukden, gives some interesting news. It appears that General Kuropatkin left for the pass on horseback on March 8, his staff following by train the next day. On March 10, Cossacks, maddened with drink, committed the wildest excesses and robberies, and killed numerous civilians in Mukden. The Russian retreat from Mukden station was well executed until it was discovered that the cordon of Russian troops was but a half mile from town, was nearly complete, when the retreat became a flight.

The Russian left army, comprising some 150,000, according to the same despatch, was cut off by the Japanese, and is said to have been driven from Fushun and Tungfu by way of Lichiatun, Wayanochang and Sunchiati, splendidly executed a junction with the main body at the pass in three days.

The correspondent at Tokio of the Daily Telegraph learns that the Japanese left army advanced toward Mukden at flying speed, and in the last four days covered respectively 30, 35, 20 and 15 miles. One force was sent specifically to search for Gen. Kuropatkin and his staff, but they had already gone.

Will Retreat to Harbin.

A despatch to the Daily News from Tokio today says: "The pass, which was held by about 10,000 Russian troops, is now in possession of the Japanese."

After a slight resistance the Russians evacuated at midnight the strong positions they had prepared months ago, setting fire to the railway station and other buildings. The Japanese, who occupied Yinpao and East Fushun are in hot pursuit along the Kirin road. It is predicted that the Russians will retreat to Harbin.

Tokio is preparing a municipal celebration of the Japanese victory for Saturday.

OF INTEREST TO SPORTSMEN.

Proprietor Interest in Challenge Cup Subject of Litigation.

An action was begun in the Supreme court yesterday which promises to prove of especial interest to the sportsmen of the city, and particularly those interested in kennel club doings. The style of the action is one between A. J. Gresham, the proprietor of the Victoria Kennel Club, plaintiffs, and A. Fairfull, defendant. It appears that Mrs. James Dunsmuir, at the Kennel Club show in 1904, offered for competition amongst exhibitors of Irish setters a challenge cup, the value to be for the 1904 show and in subsequent years. The club itself for the same class of dogs offered a special prize, and the latter was won by the dog owned by Mrs. Fairfull. The latter now, however, refuses to give up the challenge cup for competition at the annual Kennel Club show to be held next month, claiming it as his personal property. The action is taken to compel the defendant to make restitution of the cup, which is a very valuable one. J. M. Bradburn is acting for the plaintiffs, and Yates & Jay for the defendant. No date is set for the trial of the action.

On the whole, outside of the above, the day was a particularly quiet one in the courts. There was but one application in chambers of a very interesting character.

JAPAN WANTS MONEY.

German Financiers Have Been Sounded as to a New Loan.

Berlin, March 16.—The Lokal Anzeiger says Japan is sounding German financiers with reference to the placing of a loan of 100,000,000 yen. The results of the interchange of views are not yet known, but it is not improbable, the Lokal Anzeiger says, that bankers will agree to advance the money. The conference thus far has been merely preliminary.

TO FORTIFY FRONTIERS.

Italy Now Turns to Protection of Her Austrian Boundary.

Rome, March 16.—In view of the international situation which has prevailed since Italy entered the war, since in 1882, she has entirely neglected her fortifications on the eastern frontier, centering her efforts on fortifying the Alpine frontier. Her relations with France were so strained that under Premier Crispien conflict seemed imminent. Since the war, the most friendly relations have been re-established with France and the opinion now prevails here that all the Italian frontiers should be equalized, not only for aggressive purposes but so that Italy may be ready for all possible contingencies.

The eastern Alps are strictly Italy's weakest point, as Austrian territory so projects into Italy as to enable an hostile army to be at the heart of Lombardy in a few days' march. Therefore a bill will be presented to parliament authorizing the necessary appropriations for the fortifications of the Italian frontier in direction of the Austrian Alps, but any uneasiness of the subject, Austria, is not considered. Italy's project being merely defensive.

FIVE RESERVISTS EXECUTED.

Warsaw, March 16.—Reservists who were waiting at barracks at Wolkowisk, government of Grodno, formed a conspiracy to make organized disturbances and to take to the mountains in order to avoid being sent to Manchuria. The offenders were court-martialed. Five of them were executed on March 13 and one sentenced for life. The mobilization of the 15th and 19th corps, stationed in Poland, expected shortly.

The attempt to call out the reserves in the government of Siedles, which is the centre of the peasant agitation, is certain to meet with violent opposition.

DYING BOY'S ACCUSATION.

Westchester, Pa., March 16.—Dominick Deluca, the ten-year-old boy who was beaten and kicked into insensibility at the same time that his nine-year-old sister Mary was assaulted and killed in the old blacksmith shop in Chester, Tuesday night, died today in the Chester county hospital.

For a few moments before his death the boy regained consciousness, and in reply to questions asked by the hospital attendants, said: "Mother told me not to tell. She said if I did I would be killed. There was a light in the house."

"Mary ran out and I ran after her. A man followed us."

At this point the boy stopped and answered no further questions except that his mother told him not to tell. He died without throwing any more light on the crime.

RUSSIAN ASSAULT AGAIN ON THE WING

With the Abandonment of Tie Pass Kuropatkin Swings Loose From His Last Stronghold in Manchuria and the General Staff Have the Hazy Ideas as to Where Retreat Will End Owing to the Immense Quantities of Ammunition and Stores Destroyed and Apprehension of Supposed Flanking Movement of Mysterious Army of Kawamura.

THE RUSSIAN RETIREMENT.

Santopus, March 16.—The Russian detachments at Tie pass were, on March 15, ordered to evacuate their positions during the night and retired throughout the day. Before withdrawal of the Russian forces, the military settlement and such of the stores of fuel and forage as could not be removed, were set on fire and destroyed. The fighting on March 14 and 15 fell to the Second Siberian corps. Kinshemok and Voyazemsky Red Cross nurses, including two sisters of charity, attended the wounded at the various positions, retiring just as the advance rearguard passed.

MUKDEN AND TIE PASS (TIELING) ABANDONED BY THE RUSSIANS

Key: RUSSIANS' PRESENT POSITIONS, JAPANESE, RUSSIANS' FORMER POSITIONS. WHERE THE RAIL IS REPORTED TO BE ABANDONED. SINMIN TUN, ERDAGOLO, MACHIA PI, CHUAPUK, TONCHATUN, SHAKHE HO, AGAUTO PASS, BENTSIA PUTSE, SHAN KETCHEN, TSIAN KETCHEN, FUSHUN, KUROKI'S CAVALRY.

The evacuation of Tie pass involves the loss of the coal mines in that vicinity, which, with the Fushun and Yentai mines, is a severe blow. The railway shops at Tie pass and more supplies were sacrificed.

As further mobilization has been determined upon, and preparatory advice to quartermasters, etc., are already being issued, but the extent of the mobilization is not known.

No change in the command of the army in the Far East has yet been reported. One high military official, on the Associated Press correspondent yesterday that to remove Gen. Kuropatkin at this moment would be "much like sending a man to the middle of a stream, and that it would be better to give Kuropatkin a chance to get his army, at least what he left it, out of the claws of the Japanese before committing it to a new commander, who necessarily would need a little time to get a grasp upon the situation."

The weather on the plain is much colder than in the Mukden section of Manchuria, the thermometers in the trains dropping several degrees as the divide is crossed, and continuing to go down until Lake Baikal is reached. As a rule the ground does not commence to thaw until April, except on the surface in the middle of the day, the sun being strong even in winter.

The most important Russian town between Tie pass and Harbin, with the exception of Kirin, which is not on the railway, is Kungling, also spelled Kungching. This town is a little more than 100 miles north of the pass. Here were gathered great stores of provisions, alongside of which were erected Red Cross hospitals, the best by far that the Russians ever had in Harbin. At all the old stations there was also hospital accommodations, so that if Kuropatkin escapes from Oyama at Tie pass he has a good country to cross at the most favorable time of the year. Another few weeks and the roads will be impassable. But if he is hard pressed he is not a defender, unless he abandons the railway and seeks safety in the eastern hills. Later in the year, of course, the river would afford some protection, but in winter, being frozen, they are as easy to cross as the country. West of Harbin, along the railway, the first hills are encountered about midway between Harbin and the Siberian border. These mountains are most formidable, several switch-back railroads being necessary to carry the railway over them.

B. T. ROGERS PLANS MILLS AT FIJI

Vancouver Sugar Refiner Returns From Tour of Southern Plantations.

Mr. B. T. Rogers, manager of the British Columbia Sugar Refinery, arrived from Suva by the steamer Arangi yesterday. He went south by the railway, and investigated the possibilities with regard to the establishment of a sugar mill in Fiji for the treatment of cane grown by planters in that district, and a visit was paid to Navua, Hon. James Murray, manager of the Fiji Sugar Co., placing his steam launch at Mr. Rogers' disposal. The mill plantations were also visited. It was generally understood that a crushing mill would be erected as a result of the visit to the islands by Mr. Rogers.

While in Fiji Mr. Rogers made arrangements for the supply of raw material for the refinery at Vancouver. Last year the company bought 8,000 tons of sugar in Fiji, all of which was shipped by the Canadian-Australian liners and many carloads were received from Honolulu and Java. A sailing vessel is now on the way from Suva with a cargo.

Mr. Rogers was too busy yesterday to be interviewed regarding the project of establishing a mill at Honolulu. He was met here by his wife and family, who journeyed to Vancouver with him on the liner.

The Bulgarians were defeated with the loss of 42 killed, including Apostol. The Turks lost three men killed and eight wounded.

FOUND OLD HULL.

Ancient Craft Found Beneath Brooklyn Subway by Workmen.

A New York despatch says that eighteen feet below the street level the diggers of the Brooklyn subway have come upon the hull of an old ship. The remains of the vessel must have been there for at least 100 years.

The workmen, first of all, came to what appeared to be a black oak log. Chopping through it, they uncovered the curved black oak ribs of a ship. They would have found the ribs as stone itself, and very much harder to break up. They could not be blasted, and the crew was dazed in getting through them.

So little of the ship has been exposed that not much can be said of it. It seems to be lying across the street, however, with much of its length running under the buildings on the south side of the street. The foundations for these buildings were dug, so far as any one can remember, there was no trace of this old ship. The oak timbers of the ship are fastened together with wooden pins, and ships have not been put together without metal for nearly a long year.

PIONEER MISSIONARY OF THE RED RIVER PASSES AWAY AT WINNIPEG.

Montreal, March 16.—A cable was received here today announcing the death of Mr. Wainwright, general assistant and comptroller of the Grand Trunk Railway, at Weston-Super-Mare, England. Deceased was a Miss Arnold, formerly of Toronto.

A special Ottawa despatch to Canada, the organ of the French-Canadian Liberals, says the autonomy bill is likely to be shelved for the present session and the prospects for the bill are not bright. The clauses would be referred to the privy council for interpretation of the British North America Act respecting them. In local legal and political circles the despatch is regarded as inspired in order to test public feeling.

RED RIVER MISSIONARY DEAD.

Winnipeg, March 16.—A pioneer missionary of the Red river passed away this afternoon at St. Norbert in the person of Monsieur Desrosiers, who was over forty years parish priest there. Monsiegnor Ritchot was a very prominent figure in the French Canadian community, and especially during the Red river rebellion, when he endeavored to keep the French halfbreeds in check. He was one of the delegates to the provisional government to go to Ottawa in 1870 with a bill of rights for presentation to the federal authorities. He was arrested at Ottawa for alleged complicity in the murder of Thomas Scott, but promptly released when the case came to trial. Desrosiers was a native of L'Assomption, Quebec, where he was born in 1825, leaving there for the Red river in 1848. He received the title of monseigneur in 1893, when the Pope created him apostolic protonotary. He was a member of the Order of St. Sulpice and the Order of St. Mercur. At the Winnipeg mission he was succeeded by Monsiegnor Ritchot, who was a French Canadian and a native of the Red river. He was a very successful missionary, and his death is a great loss to the community. He was buried in the cemetery at St. Norbert.

POSTPONED RUSSIAN LOAN.

Paris, March 16.—The postponement of the new Russian loan continues to occupy attention in financial investment circles. The bankers think the loan is not a failure and that adjustment may still be reached. One of the bankers who went to St. Petersburg relates that during a conversation with Mr. Witte, the latter replied: "We can afford to wait a little longer in Manchuria, but not one in Paris."

It is taken to indicate a strong feeling in St. Petersburg for all possible concessions to maintain Russia's financial position in the French market. The peace movement has gained a strong impetus by the postponement of the loan and this leads to the report that France is adopting strict measures to induce Russia to accept peace. However, authoritative statements say that France has not taken any action nor has Russia given any indication of willingness to discuss the postponement of the loan. The Japanese officials thus far have not shown a disposition to accept the view that they should adopt a magnanimous attitude towards Russia.

Having on board vast accumulations of beans and bean cakes.
