

The New England Magazine, Boston, 86 Federal St. The February number is full of interest on general topics, but especially upon matters relating to past New England history and customs.

Canada: A monthly journal of religion, patriotism, science and literature, edited by Rev. M. R. Knight, Benton, N. B. This promises to be a useful addition to Canadian literature. Its object is to promote Canadian writing and to call out latent talent and engage it upon things that are Canadian.

The Dominion Illustrated, for the year 1891, offers a literary bill of fare that should make it as popular a journal as it is excellent. There are new and striking literary features. It is essentially a high-class journal and is rapidly growing in public favor. The publishers have decided to distribute during the next six months over $3,000 in prizes for answers to questions, the material for which will be found in current numbers of the journal. The first prize is $750 in gold, and there are ninety-nine others. On receipt of twelve cents in stamps the publishers (The Sabiston Litho. & Pub. Co., Montreal) will send to any address a sample copy of the journal and all particulars.

The Young Canadian: An illustrated weekly magazine of patriotism for young Canadians; $2.00 a year; Montreal. M. P. Murray, Secretary of the Young Canadian Co., P. O. Box 1886, Montreal.

We have with much pleasure the advent of this periodical for our Canadian youth. From its prospectus and appearance it has evidently come to stay and will no doubt accomplish much good. Its articles and stories are all thoroughly Canadian and many phases of Canadian history, which, in spite of the dry, uninteresting books on the subject used in our schools, are full of adventure and fire, will be brought out from time to time to much advantage. A patriotic tale of the rebellion called "Rebel or Patriot" has been commenced in a recent number.
