WEBER ...PIANOS

THE history of the Weber Piano vividly illustrates the value of persistence and fidelity to an idea. As a musician, Albert Weber, senior, recognized early in his career that the development of the piano had hitherto been almost wholly in the direction of mechanism. To improve the tone and give to it the sympathetic quality found in the violin became the central motive of his life. The result more than justified his conception, and the Weber Pianoforte to-day stands as the embodiment of the musicians' idea of tone.
