EGGS FOR HATCHING, FROM FIRST PRIZE BIRMINGHAM BIRDS.

Having just received, direct from the Birmingham show held last December, a few pens of high-priced birds, consisting of Buff, Partridge and White Cochins, and Dark Brahmans—some of them taking first prizes at the above show, and have cost me $230 in gold—I will now book orders for two dozen eggs from each variety, which I think is all I shall spare from this spring. "First come first served." I am also now booking orders for eggs from 17 varieties of first-class birds (mostly imported), and on which I have taken $130 in prizes this fall. All eggs not hatching satisfactorily will be replaced at half price. Send for circular of eggs and fowls to
